FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1882.

—The country is feeling comfortable over the prospect of an early adjournment of Congress, which, it is now thought, will take place on Monday next.

—The President has approved the act appropriating $50,000 for Mrs. Lucretia Garfield, less any amount paid James A. Garfield on account of his salary as President of the United States.

—The Senate bill to place General Grant upon the retired list came up in the House on Monday, and was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. This action virtually kills the bill for this session.

—A bill proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States, providing for the election of Senators by the people of the various states, was introduced in the House on Monday and referred to the appropriate committee.

—The shipments from the Cumberland coal region for the week ending July 29, were 10,387, of which 7,372 tons were shipped by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and 3,015 tons by the canal. Work is progressing at the Koontz mine, with the usual demonstrations from the strikers. The output at the Hoffman mine on Wednesday was 279 tons; the shipments were 267 tons. The output at Eckhart was 546 tons, and the shipments, 536 tons.

—Governor Hamilton has appointed James Hodges, Samuel Merrett and William J. Hooper as supervisors of election for Baltimore city. The first-named is a large importer of white goods and notions, the second a pattern maker and the third is a member of the firm of William E Hooper & Sons, owners of the cotton duck mills at Woodberry. He is also proprietor of the Baltimore Morning Herald. The appointments are considered good and will give general satisfaction.

—There are 1,413 employes in the New York postoffice, whose salaries and allowances agregate $1,306,490. During the year eighty-nine employes were removed, and 114 resigned. One hundred and thirty-seven clerks and 102 carriers were appointed. The number of money orders, domestic, foreign and international, issued, paid and forwarded, was 1,559,951, representing $20,073,832.08. The number of pieces of ordinary and registered mail handled was 705,911,302. The receipts from the sales of postage stamps, envelopes, wrappers and postal cards, and other sources, aggregated $4,200,066 07.

—Canon Leon Bernard, of Belgium, who is defendant in a suit brought at Boston by the King of Belgium, enjoyed the confidence of his sovereign to such an extent that he was entrusted with the funds of church and state, amounting to several millions of francs. Recently he took flight for America, carrying with him a very large amount of money and valuables.—After immunity from punishment had been offered him, providing he restored the money and valuables, which he rejected, he had the effrontery to send an attorney from Montreal to Brussels to negotiate a compromise upon the basis of a return of sixty per cent, of the stolen property. The lawyer was arrested and thrown into prison as an accomplice. Bernard was finally arrested at Havana and thousands of dollars recovered. A considerable portion of the funds had previously been recovered in Paris where Bernard had deposited it. The probability is that the remainder of the treasure has been divided and deposited at various places, so that it will be difficult to secure it unless the prisoner confesses.

—The President on Tuesday vetoed the River and Harbor appropriation bill and sent to the House of Representatives a message assigning reasons for his action. The President says "I regard the appropriation of the public money for purposes not for the common defence, or general welfare, but for the benefit of particular localities only, as beyond the powers given by the Constitution to Congress and the President. I feel the more bound to withhold my signature from the bill because of the peculiar evils which manifestly result from this infraction of the Constitution. Appropriations of this nature to be devoted purely to local objects tend to an increase in number and in amount, as the citizens of one state find that money—to raise which they, in common with the whole country, are taxed—is to be expended for local improvements in another state they demand similar benefits for themselves, and it is not unnatural they should seek to indemnify themselves for such use of the public funds by securing appropriations for similar improvements in their own neighborhood. Thus, as the bill becomes more objectionable it secures more support."

The objections of the President were overruled on Wednesday by the vote of both houses, and the bill is now a law.—The vote stood as follows: Senate—yeas, 41; nays 16. House—yeas, 122; nays, 63.

—There were 4,482 deaths, 2,058 births and 732 marriages in New York city in July.

—Richard J. Gittings, one of the most prominent members of the Baltimore bar, died at Ocean City on Wednesday, after an illness of three days.

—Raports from Matamoras, Mexico, allege that there are over four hundred cases of yellow fever in the city, and that the sanitary condition is frightful.

—The income tax suit of the United States against Samuel J. Tilden, which was docketed in 1876, but never tried, will, in all probability, be abandoned by the government.

—It is reported in Washington that Secretary Chandler has expressed himself in favor of Mr. Weatherby's appointment to the Baltimore revenue collectorship, and that the appointment will be made this week.

—It is stated at the Treasury Department that the government water power property at Harper's Ferry will not again be put up at public auction unless there is some assurance that a bid about $25,000 would be made.

—Lin Ching, a wealthy Chinese merchant, died on Tuesday morning in Baltimore, and as he had been converted to Christianity, was buried with Christian rites. He was the first Chinaman buried in that city.

—Albuquerque, New Mexico, is a city only two years old, and not yet incorporated, but it has two first-class daily newspapers, two lines of street cars, twenty-five miles of telephone, gas works, hotels, union depot, and nearly all the metropolitan conveniences of a full-grown Western city.

—London has more than a thousand charitable institutions, of every grade, and for a vast variety of commendable purposes. The aggregate income of these is over $20,000,000. There are among them 82 hospitals and 47 dispensaries, whose united yearly receipts are $2,000,000. And yet there is much unrelieved misery in the British metropolis.

—The report from the committee having in charge the Chili-Peru investigation states that no evidence was presented showing that any government official was improperly influenced. The attempt made by Mr. Belmont to smirch Mr. Blaine's reputation failed as signally as his effort to browbeat him upon cross-examination before the committee.

—The debt statement issued on Tuesday shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of July to be $13 860 027.52. Cash in treasury, $241 998 031 52; gold certificates, $5 017 040; silver certificates, $67,119,210; certificates of deposit outstanding, $15 730,000; refunding certificates $452,750; legal tenders outstanding, $346,681,016; fractional currency outstanding, $7,046 469.77.

—Bob Ford, who killed the notorious outlaw Jesse James, and his brother, Charles Ford, are in Chicago enjoying life and spending the $10,000 which they received as a reward for ridding the country of the outlaw. In an interview they said they would stay there about a week and then go to Cincinnati Bob Ford says Frank James was in good health when he last saw him. He does not believe Frank will ever attempt to reorganize the gang.

—At Green Bay, Wis., a few days since, a man requested a loan of $5, giving a watch as security. The man said he had years before, while traveling on the Hudson, advanced a like sum for the "ticker" to a man who was dead broke. The money was advanced, and there was found the following inscription engraved on the inside case: "L. W. Guiteau to Charles J. Guiteau." The watch is of little value save as a relic of the assassin.

—James Generals, one of the oldest colored men in Wilkesbarre, Pa., was found dead in a livery stable last Monday morning. He recently received a severe blow upon his head by an unknown man, and that, together with excessive drinking, caused his death. He had nearly $200 000 insurance on his life held by various persons in the death-battle insurance organizations, but as he survived all the companies, the old man outlived his usefulness.
