DEATHS.

Mrs. Sarah A. Dodd died at her home on High street early Saturday morning in her 83rd year. For more than a year the deceased had been in poor health, but about ten days ago in descending the stairs she fell, striking her head against the piano leg and causing her considerable pain. While this fall did not directly cause her death it contributed toward hastening the end. She was fortunate in having always at her side the skillful services of her son, Dr. H. L. Dodd, and the careful nursing of her faithful and devoted daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Dodd, and others.

The deceased was reared in the family of the late John N. Denning, her parents having died when she was young. She married the late Thomas Dodd who died leaving her a widow with three small boys. For many years she conducted a boarding house getting about her a company of men who looked up to her as they would a mother and making what seemed to be a happy family circle. These men grown to a good age and settled here and there never forgot the good woman and evidenced their regard by acts of kindness and words of appreciation.

She gave her life to her Saviour in early girlhood and was a faithful teacher in the Sabbath school of the Methodist Protestant Church and a worker in all its branches. She was a good and useful woman. We "boys" who played about her doorstep always had in her a warm friend and a watchful and motherly eye over us. She went about doing good in her easy and unostentatious manner and her loss will be keenly felt especially in the home where she reigned supreme.

Mrs. Dodd was before marriage Miss Sarah A. Lambert, and was a sister of Mr. James W. Lambert and also of the late George E. and Thomas Lambert. She leaves three sons, Undertaker, C. L. Dodd, Dr. H. L. Dodd and Mr. T. S. Dodd, also four grandchildren, Miss Avis N. Dodd, Miss Marghuerita L. Dodd, of Chestertown, and Messrs. H. L. Dodd, of Baltimore, C. B. Dodd, of Cincinnati, and one great grandchild.

The funeral services were held Monday, Dr W. R. Graham officiating. In his impressive talk the doctor referred to the days when as a young preacher on this circuit he boarded with Mrs. Dodd and stated that he felt as if his place was in the family circle.

Special music was rendered by Mrs. J. Hydie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton and Mr. A. L. Sparks. The interment took place in Chester cemetery the bearers being Col. Wm. J. Vannort, Samuel Vannort, Milton Baker, Wm. A. Wheatley, Chas. S. Smith, Fred. G. Usilton. The floral offerings were beautiful. Messrs. J. E. Ferguson and Chas. S. Smith assisted Mr. Dodd in the funeral arrangements.

Dr. G. Irving Barwick, formerly of Kennedyville, died at his late home, 1003 Popular street, Baltimore, on Saturday morning last from a sudden attack of angina pectoris. He had been confined to his bed for about a week, but his condition did not become serious until late Friday night.

Dr. Barwick was about 45 years old, a native of this county, and a graduate of the Western Maryland College and of the medical department of the University of Maryland. He removed from Kennedyville to Baltimore about four years ago and took up the practice of medicine in that city.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Poplar street Monday evening at 8 o'clock and the remains were brought to Chestertown Tuesday morning and burial was in Chester cemetery at 11 o'clock Dr. Graham and Rev. Frank S. Cain, of Kennedyville, officiating. Undertaker W. H. Krusen of Still Pond had charge of the burial arrangements.

Dr. Barwick is survived by a widow, Mrs. Carrie M. Barwick, a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Barwick, a sister, Mrs. H. F. Jefferson, of Chestertown, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barwick. His funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends which he had throughout the entire county.

Mrs. S. A. McKnett, formerly of this county, died at the home of her son, Mr. Samuel McKnett, at Spring Lake, N. J., on Sunday last, aged 73 years. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Blades, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Beasley, Mrs. Melvin, and four sons, Wattie, Samuel, John and Kent. Remains were brought to Kennedyville by train Tuesday evening and funeral took place at the M. P. Church at Kennedyville Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Cain and Rev. J. A. Wiegand, of Newark, N. J. officiating. Interment in Chester cemetery, Undertaker W. H. Krusen in charge.

With her husband and children she came to Kent county from Marydel, Caroline county, January 1st, 1879. Soon after their arrival they became identified with the Kennedyville M. P. Church and were closely associated with its deepest interests. The beautiful christian life of Mrs. McKnett attested her close walk with the Master and the large gathering at the last services was an evidence of the high regard of those with whom she mingled here.

William Wilkins Phillips died on July 29th, suddenly of appoplexy, aged 77, at the residence of his son, William Leverett Phillips, at Chestertown. He leaves two brothers in Haverhill, Mass., and a son in California. Mr. Phillips was a gentleman of the old school, courtly and gentle; and all who came in contact with him felt his keen enjoyment of the questions of the day; and his sense of humor and his wit was like a flash of sunshine. To be so beloved by one's family is a true proof that such a life has been crowned with the most desired success and is a lasting memorial. The bearers were Messrs. Ingersoll, Baker, Burris, C. J. Reiche, Henry Brown, A. H. Covey. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock, Friday with interment in Chester cemetery. Dr. H. B. Martin officiating; J. E. Ferguson, undertaker.

Walter Carson, known in Chestertown as "Kit Carson", died in a Baltimore hospital on Thursday last of a complication of diseases. He was about 40 years of age and unmarried.

MR. WALTER W. ALLEN, JR., narrowly escaped a very serious accident on Saturday evening while driving to his home in Middletown. His carriage was struck by an automobile driven by John P. Cochran, Jr., of Galena. The carriage was badly wrecked, Mr. Allen receiving no broken bones but was pretty badly bruised about his body.

GREAT FAIR

All the Elements Conspire To Make the Occasion Delightful—Big Field of Horses and Close Finishes

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

The weather during the Kent and Queen Anne's Fair has been ideal and everything has worked to a successful finish of the second annual event. Messrs. James G. Beck, President, C. L. Jarrell, Secretary, and the other officials are to be congratulated upon the excellent management. To Mr. W. H. Mckee, who had charge of the track, is due the credit for keeping it in fine shape. Weber's big band enlivened the occasion with sweet music.

There were 2,000 persons present on the opening day the event of same being the raising of the old Worton flag, 12-18 feet presented to this association by Mr. Purnell Jefferson in whose custody the flag has been since 1888, when the last Worton Fair was held.

This flag belonged to the old Worton Fair Association and when it disbanded in 1888 Mr. William Stephens turned Old Glory over to Mr. Jefferson. It has been kept in a bag in a chest and has not been out since the Fair until July 4th Mr. Jefferson presented it to Mr. Beck in the KENT NEWS office in the presence of the editors, James T. Dixon and J. P. Parrott.

In 1888 the last Worton Fair was held. In 1882 a big tournment took place conducted by J. W. Bordley, J. F. Connelly and B. F. Fleming. The first Fair was held in Kent near St. James Church in 1839.

As President Beck raised the big flag Weber's Band played the National anthem while the crowd arose and cheered.

The poultry exhibit occupied two large tents and was under the creditable management of the following:

Messrs. D. Russell Downey, president; T. D. Bowers, secretary; J. W. Granbery, John H. Moffett, Owen C. Smith, executive committee; John H. Moffett, superintendent of exhibit.

Another event of unusual interest was the spectacular wonder, Amos R., the world's champion of guideless pacers. The horse is twenty-four years of age and has won many laurels, at present holding the world's record for half a mile, having paced it in 1.00½. A half million people have seen and cheered him in the past three years.

Mr. Harvey Smith, Worton's "Rough Rider," rode the runner to make Amos R, do his best. He is a rider of great skill, Amos R. went the half Tuesday in 1.11 but Wednesday he was in better condition and went the half in 1 03½. He started first time in a run but when the bell sounded he stopped and was started again going away in fine style. Chief Marshall Fred S. Russell acted as relay in keeping Amos R. "on the go."

Robinson's Wild West Show also gave free exhibitions on the track.

Valuable Dog Dies.—Judy, an English Blenheim show dog, arrived at the Kent and Queen Anne's Fair Grounds from Springfield, Mass., on Thursday of last week. She was taken sick on the train and died here Tuesday night. Five hundred dollars had been refused for the canine. This dog was just starting on a tour to the fairs of Maryland and rode the spectacular horse, Amos R., which is a guideless pacer, making the half mile in 1.00½.

Thursday, The Big Day.

On Thursday visitors began to pour into town and into the Fair grounds as early as 9 o'clock and at 10.30 o'clock there were 2,000 inside the gates. Between three and four hundred automobiles were about the course and inside the track. The attendance was about 6,500, Mr. C. S. Smith and his helpers keeping the crowd well supplied with tickets without delay.

It was politician's day and freely did the "boys" move about among the voters. Hon. Albert Sisk, of Caroline, made a good impression with his affable manner and warm clasp of the hand. Hon. Jesse D. Price, of Salisbury, had his first appearance with our people and was piloted about the grounds by Capt. C. E. Crane, Senator Beck, John W. Toulson, E. A. Toadvine, and others. James Bright, Esq, was perfectly at home among the people and wore that Bright smile which he hopes to help him on his way to Congress. These gentlemen all hope to be the Democratic candidate for Congress from this District.

Hon. Isaac Loeb Straus was at the Fair also and was piloted about the grounds by R. Groome Parks, Esq., meeting a number of supporters and pressing his claims for recognition as the candidate for Senator against John Walter Smith.

Among others noticed on the grounds were Judges, James A. Pearce, Albert Constable, P. B. Hopper, Capt. W. C. Eliason and Capt. Jack Naudain guests of Mr. J. Walter Skirven, Messrs. Price and Walls, of the Centreville Observer, Mr. Wilkinson, of the Caroline Sun, Mr. Akers, of the Queenstown News and many other notables.

The racing was hard to excell and Starter Fred. Sheeve got them off in perfect fairness while the judges and other officials proved adepts. The summary of the races follows:

Those in charge of the poultry show are to be congratulated. This is their first attempt and they were handicapped by being at a rather bad time of the year, and yet despite this fact there was an entry of some 350 birds and twenty-five (25) varieties were represented in the seventy-three classes judged.

Many birds in the Buff Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, R. I. Reds, White Leghorns and Fawn Runner Duck classes would not have failed to get ribbons in the hottest of competition.
