GROSS ST., NEAR DEPOT

Haying Season

Is nearly here. Are you prepared to care for the large crop of hay this season has given us?

We are ready to help you harvest your hay with all the latest improved and most up-to-date machinery. This year we offer for the first time our No. 6 McCormick Mower, a gem of perfection and mechanical ability. You well know the enviable reputation the McCormick Mower has enjoyed for so many years and you wonder how it could be improved upon, but it has been done. The No. 6 Mower has been working under the most adverse field conditions for 5 years, being thoroughly tried out by expert mechanics and by farmers to whom it was entirely new and all pronounced it good. The No. 6 is not the New 4 made over but an entirely new mower with all the good features of the New 4 embodied. There are so many points to call attention to that it is impossible to mention them here, but we ask you to come and see the mower.

SIDE DELIVERY RAKES AND HAY LOADERS

The Keystone tools are the latest improved of haying machines and they save time and labor. We shall be glad to go into details with you about them.

SELF DUMP RAKES

All steel except the shafts and last almost an ordinary lifetime.

TEDDERS

McCormick Tedders are good "kickers." They help to cure the hay without drying out all the nutriment.

BINDERS

The new model Binder which has been on the market for two years and of which we sold 23 last year is pronounced by all who have seen it to be the greatest Binder ever seen work. It is lighter draft than most other machines because of less weight and more roller bearings and a more rigid construction of the main frame. This is the year to buy these tools as all indications point to higher prices next year.

DON'T FORGET OUR SHOPS WHEN YOU HAVE REPAIR WORK. We know how to do it.

DEATHS

Dan. W., the six-year-old son of Sheriff and Mrs. J. Thomas Hadaway, died in a Baltimore hospital Friday following an operation. The funeral took place Sunday at their home at the jail. Rev. J. L. Ward, pastor of the M. P. Church, preached the funeral. Interment was at Wesley Chapel. C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The bearers were Russell and Tylden Pinkind, Carroll and Will Hadaway.

David B. McMenamin died at Aiken, S. C., of septic poison, Tuesday morning, aged 44. The deceased had been ill in bed for eleven weeks previous to which he was an invalid for five years. He left his cosy home on Washington avenue three years ago in search of health and spent the summer at Mt. Lake Park and his winters in the South. All physicians pronounced him free of tuberculosis and an autopsy proved same correct. The deceased was born near Germantown, Pa., came to Chestertown and married Miss Amy Russell, the attractive daughter of the late T. Waters Russell, who has been his faithful and devoted companion. She survives with two sons, who will make their home here.

The deceased was a man of high intelligence, a brilliant writer and an interesting conversationalist. He was a lover of horses and was without question the best posted man on horsedom in Kent county. He was a good citizen and made warm friends.

The remains came by boat to Kent Thursday and interment took place in Chester Cemetery at 5 30 p. m., with beautiful and impressive burial service of the Masonic order; Rev. J. L. Ward assisted, C. L. Dodd undertaker.

The following were the bearers: W. F. Russell, L. B. Russell, Dr. H. G. Simpers, Dr. G. A. Jarman, John McCarthy, Eugene Mc Guckin.

Mr. William A. Smith, a former well-known business man of this town, died in Scotland Neck, N. C., Friday morning of paralysis, aged about 57 years. For many years the deceased was employed by the Hubbard Fertilizer Company as a salesman. He later removed to Baltimore and then to North Carolina, where he was engaged in the sale of lime, etc. He leaves a widow, who before marriage was Miss Belle Pippin, and one son, William. Also two sisters, Mrs. Greenwood, of Fairlee, and Miss Emma Smith. The remains were brought to Chestertown Saturday by Steamer Ford. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, Rev. T. F. Beauchamp, officiating, C. L. Dodd undertaker, interment in Chester cemetery. The bearers were Charles S. and Owen C. Smith, Wm. R. and Walter T. Pippin, M. W. Thomas and Fred. G. Usilton.

A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral services of Mr. G. Thomas Bramble at his late residence near Locust Grove, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. John Sutton, of Galena, M. E. Church assisted by Rev. M. P. Schauer, of Kennedyville M. P. Church. Interment at the new cemetery at Galena. W. H. Krusen, undertaker. The bearers were Messrs. John Comegys, A. T. Deshane, George Templeman, Charles Faulkes and his two nephews Albert and Harry Redding. Born near Sassafras, Md., Nov. 11, 1836, at the age of 4 years his father died and at 11 years his mother passed away leaving only a half sister, Mrs. S. J. Redding to provide for him, where he made his home until old enough to make a home for himself, when he married Mary Melvina Dillahunt, daughter of Captain D. Dillahunt. For more than fifty years they trod the path together, sharing each others joys and sorrows. His widow and eight children Misses Mary and Ruth Bramble, Mrs. J. William Newton, of Worton, Mrs. B. S. Sutton. of Blacks, Miss Fannie Brambe, Messrs Robert, Thomas and Edward Bramble survive him. Eight grandchildren also mourn his loss. Farming being his ambition all his life, he farmed the late C. J. Scott farms for 23 years and for the last 28 farmed the farm known as the Jervis-Spencer farm. His pleasure was in his home, devoted to his wife and children, was never happier than when they were around him. He was a successful farmer and up to the time of his death was very active in his farming pursuits, always up and about his work as far as his strength would allow. Loyal to his friends, in making friends he kept them, to know him once, you knew him always, straight in all business transactions. In politics he was a Democrat but never had any desire take active part.

Mrs. Sarah J. Hayes, widow of the late Lewis C. Hayes, died at her home in Galena on Wednesday, May 31, in her 67th year. Funeral services will be held from her residence Sunday, June 4th, at 1.30 p. m. Mrs. Hayes has been a patient sufferer for a number of years and leaves a devoted family of children to mourn her loss, as follows: Mrs. W. T. Money, Worton; Mrs. W. S. Petticord, Coleman; Mrs. J. H. Weer, Kennedyville; Mrs. E C. Jones, Warwick, Md.; Miss Annie Hayes, Galena; Mr. L. J. Hayes, Dover, Del She connected herself with the M. E. Church in early life and lived a christian to every body. Everyone in the community knows how Miss Annie watched over her mother day and night to see that everything was done to make her life the happiest possible.

Mr. James Wood died Sunday of general debility at his home in Wilmington, aged 95. The deceased for many years kept a feed store on High street and altho having but one arm could do wonders. He was a very active man and a good citizen. He leaves the following children, William Wood, Mrs James Lecates, Mrs. Edward Young, Mrs. Emma Pollock, Charles Wood.

Mr. Wood's favorite words and those that he often used were these:- "At the blooming of the flowers, and the budding of the trees, Take me home Lord, If you please."

The interment was held at Union Cemetery Wednesday. Revs Corkran and White officiating, Undertaker Krusen in charge.

SWALLOWED HER FALSE TEETH?

A Lady in Chestertown Has a Vivid Dream—Confident She Swallows Her Teeth—Sends For Doctor An X-Ray Advised.

The answer to the above question may be found in the following interesting incident which occurred in a happy home in Chestertown last week. A well-known lady retired for the night, and when she awoke in the morning thought first of her false teeth. She could not remember taking them out of her mouth and some sort of a dream seemed to tell her that she had swallowed them!

She searched here and there and soon her worry became apparent to other inmates of the home and they joined in the search, but to no avail. After breakfast a pain developed in the stomach and then the loser was sure she had swallowed them! As morning passed away and the teeth did not appear, the pain became greater until finally a physician was sent for. He tried to convince her that it was almost an impossibility to swallaw a set of false teeth without serious results from choking. But, the pain was there and the teeth could not be found therefore they must be in the stomach of the sufferer.

The doctor advised that she get ready to go to Baltimore and have an X-Ray taken so as to discover just where the teeth were located in her system. The pain was now getting more severe and something was demanded for relief. The doctor, as a final word, urged the folks about the house to make one more diligent search and then if the teeth could not be found he would accompany the sufferer to Baltimore.

After a hunt in bureaus, beds, etc., way back in the corner of a closet the all-needful set of false teeth were discovered to the delight of all. It is supposed that they were placed on a shirt-waist box and in lifting the top the teeth fell on the floor and were dragged by mice into the closet!

In the excitement attendant upon the finding of the missing needfuls, all pain gradually disappeared from the loser and all had a hearty laugh over the incident.

STATE CHAMPIONS!

Before a crowd of 700 persons Washington College again shut out St. Johns, 9 to 0, Wednesday. Jack Enright, the winners' mainstay, let the Annapolitans down with three hits, while 12 men died by the strike-out route. He fanned the first three men to face him. Tucker, who did the pitching for the visitors, was wild at the start and walked the first two men. Then, aided by a couple of errors, Washington scored three runs.

In the third, after two men had walked and one had been hit, filling the bases, Frampton cleaned up with a triple to left. Four runs were scored in this inning. Washington's last two tallies came in the fifth on a couple of hits and a passed ball.

This victory gives Washington College a clean title to the State championship, having defeated St. John's two games, Mt. St. Joseph's, Mt. St. Mary's, Western Maryland and Rock Hill. The only two college teams not played were Hopkins and Maryland Agricultural College, but both of these teams were defeated by St. John's. M. A. C., which was scheduled to play last Friday, was unable to appear on the diamond.

Enright, who has been Washington's mainstay this season, has signed a contract with the New York Americans and left Chestertown Thursday morning to join that club.

Brown, Washington's other pitcher, twirled well all season, having no defeats chalked up against him. On the whole, the work of the entire team has been fine. Coach Thos. Kibler is to be congratulated upon producing one of the best all around base ball teams in the history of Washington College.

The Double Creek base ball team defeated a Chestertown team last Saturday by the score of 7 to 4.

TOLCHESTER is open. The Louise came over Wednesday with 1200 on board. Ice-cream, cake and strawberries were served to everybody on board. Many directors and stockholders made the trip. Upon arriving at the beach the officers and others inspected the grounds lead by that veteran manager, G. E. Noland. Many noticeable changes have been made by the company. Every effort has been made by the officials to make the place more beautiful than last year. After an inspection of the grounds by the officers, directors and stockholders, a banquet was served them at the hotel. A prominent figure was missing on the trip and that was Captain Elias son, the president of the company, who was unable to attend because of illness. The excursionists were cared for by Capt. W. H. Hudson, Capt J. M. Naudain, E. Walter Giles and J. W. Chapman, Jr.
