IN many ways Mrs. Lottie G. Wiltbank, who recently celebrated her ninetieth birthday, is the most remarkable woman in Delaware. She boasts that, although nearing the century mark, she has never in all those years attended a circus or theatre and has never eaten an egg. Unlike the young women of today, Mrs. Wiltbank also says she never wore corsets, asserting that she always believed them to be injurious to her health. She attributes her long life to plenty of exercise, wholesome food, proper clothing to keep warm and going to bed and getting up early. She lives with her daughter, Mrs. David E. Johnson in Georgetown.

THE 200 acre farm, known as the "Torbert Farm," located at the western suburb of Milford, was sold this week by John B. Smith, cashier of the First National Bank of Milford, to William I. Simpson for $20,000 cash. It is located on both sides of the stone road leading from Milford to Harrington, and is one of the best all round farms in that vicinity.

The 234 acre farm located adjoining the lands of the late Thomas Curry at at Greenwood, was sold last week by William I. Simpson, of Milford, to Charles Murphy and Mr. Parker, of Greenwood, for the sum of $10,700.

George Simpson has bought the Robinson Farm in Broadkiln Neck, near Milton at private terms, and the price is rumored to be about $8,000. The farm contains about 200 acres of excellent land.

NOTICE

The advance in the price of paper and other stock used in newspaper offices have forced many publishers to advance prices. The News prefers not to do this, and to avoid it is obliged to ask its slow paying patrons to "speak up" and let us have dues and overdues promptly. We have many prompt paying subscribere, to whom this appeal is not made. We have some not so prompt, to whom it is addressed. In order to get the best stock and service we are required to pay cash for our supplies, and can continue to sell our wares at the present prices if we receive in return, cash or its equivalent, but not otherwise. We have some patrons who do not recognize our needs, or our efforts to give them the best service for a minimum wage. To such we are obliged to say, unless we receive their remittances within the next sixty days we will, in our discretion, either advance the prices or discontinue their paper. We much prefer to continue our many years of pleasant relations, and hope our patrons feel as we do, and make prompt response to our request for payment.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

BROTHER JOHN W. FOGWELL, having been called upon to give an "account of his stewardship," we the members of Still Pond Grange, wish to place on record our high estimate of his character. Those who knew him intimately esteemed him highly. He discharged his duty in life to the best of his ability. He did not shrink from the hardest and most humble task upon him, and was a diligent faithful worker all through a long life He did not have the advantages of an early education, but was better informed in all that is going on in the world than the average man in his position. He was an intelligent worthy citizen.

It was as a Granger that we knew him best. From its revival in our midst, he took a lively interest in the order. For several years he was our Worthy Gate Keeper, and was to be found at his post of duty whenever it was possible for him to be present. We greatly enjoyed having him among us and will sadly miss him in our future gatherings. He lived up to the light he possessed, and we hope he knew all the secret signals, signs and words that have given him an entrance beyond the heavenly gate into that life which is eternal.

Still Pond Grange extends to his stricken family their heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, that the paper be placed on record, published in the county papers and a copy sent each member of his family.

CHURCH NOTES

The Methodist Episcopal Church South with its 2,109,500 or more members has determined through its general missionary board to raise $1.000,000 for foreign missions alone in 1916, and General Secretary W. W. Pinson, of Nashville, and the missionary leaders of the Baltimore Annual Conference are bestirring themselves to see that the goal is reached.

In the absence of Rev. J. L. Ward, pastor of Christ M. P. Church, there will be no preaching this Sunday. Sunday school at 10 A. M. and the Young People's Song service from 7 until 8 P. M. Public invited to bring their voices with them prepared to sing.

A GENTLEMAN in Kent thinks he has lost all his cats from infantile paralysis. If this disease could be confined to cats, what a blessing it would be!

DISCOURAGED because of difficulty in securing competent workman, Al F. Wheeler, who took Wheeler Bros.' large railroad circus out of Oxford last spring, closed the season at Laurel, Md., last week The circus has exhibited to big business through the Middle West. Nearly 150 men are required to do the work with the circus, and help could not be kept, because in every large town they were offered work at big wages.

Wheat Yield.—The government report that the largest wheat yields on record are 117 bu. per acre in Ireland County, Washington and 108 bu. per acre in Twin Falls County, Idaho. The largest yield of oats on record is 183.7 bu. per acre in Skagit County, Washington, and the second largest 168 bu. in Logan County, Colorado

A Question for the School Board

August 24th, 1916.

EDITORS KENT NEWS:

In view of the fact that infantile paralysis is so prevalent in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the situation being so serious that the authorities prohibit the free travel of children from one state to another, and further, for the protection of the children within the border of the States, action having been taken in many sections to defer the the opening of the schools, would it not be wise for the School Board of Kent County, in the interest of our children, to postpone the opening of our schools to the latter part of September or October 2? Kent County, at this time, is clear of the dreaded disease as far as the writer knows, and this is all the more reason that we should throw every safe guard around the children to keep them safe. No doubt the School Board is giving this matter careful consideration, and it might be well for them to consult freely our county physicians.
