KENT FARMERS WIN SUIT

Shippers of tomatoes in Quaker Neck have been trying since 1915 to get their pay for a week's shipment of tomatoes to the Southern Packing Co., of Baltimore. The payment was refused on the claim that the tomatoes were undersize The shipment amounted to nearly $500 After many efforts a test case was heard before Judge Dobler in Baltimore Monday and a verdict rendered in favor of the farmers. Capt. Edw. W. Emory sued and recovered, so that Messrs. Thomas Davis, Edw. Wilkins, A. C. Loud and others interested hope to be paid without further court trials.

GOODMAN GETS VERDICT

Jury Says That Frank M. Oliver Must Pay Him $2,500—Kent Countians

John R Goodman was awarded $2,500 or half the amount he sued for, by a jury in the Court of Common Pleas, in Baltimore Tuesday afternoon, against Frank M. Oliver for the alienation of his wife, Ruth Ann Crouch Goodman, from whom he was divorced after finding her in Oliver's company.

The jury deliberated but a half hour, after hearing the testimony of witnesses who told how Goodman had stationed two policemen at his home, 2009 West Saratoga street—one at the front door and the other at the back door, in order to trap the co-respondent. According to the evidence, Oliver was caught at the back door and brought back, and Mrs. Goodman was asked to decide which she cared for and Oliver was chosen. Goodman then told Oliver to support her and immediately sued for divorce, which was granted him in the Circuit Court last week. Attorney Robert W. Mowbrary, a graduate of Washington College represented Goodman, while Attorney Henry J. Broening defended Oliver. Mr. and Mrs Goodman were married October 11, 1881, in Kent County, Md., and have a daughter 15 years old, whose custody was awarded to Goodman.

WEDDING NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Davis, of Locust Grove, issued invitations to the 15th anniversary of their wedding, which was celebrated at their home on Monday evening last.

The marriage of Mr. Adler S. Brand and Miss Lillian Parks, of Queen Anne's, was solemnized Thursday evening, Rev. T. F. Beauchamp performing the ceremony.

A marriage license was issued in Baltimore on Monday for Miss Sarah W. Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Patrick, and Mr. James D. Yiannakis, who has been employed at the Candy Kitchen for a year or so. The young couple left town on Sunday.

Miss Helen E. Hynson, daughter of Mrs Richard Dunn Hynson, and Mr. Robert H. Wilson, both of Chestertown, were married at Elkton on last Saturday morning by Rev. Mr. Shueler, in the Protestant Episcopal Church of that town. While the wedding of these young people came as a surprise to their many friends, it was witnessed by the mother of the bride, her sister, Mrs. E. Carroll Stollenwerck, of Baltimore, and a number of intimate friends. The bride and groom left by train for New York.

A pretty wedding took place in Baltimore on Wednesday, the interested parties being Miss Margaret Tucker, the accomplished daughter of Captain and Mrs. James Tucker, formerly of Chestertown, now of Rolph's wharf, and Mr. Claude Clifford, a railroad conductor at Hinton, West Virginia. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Clifford returned to the Eastern Shore and will leave to-day for a visit to White Sulphur Springs. Miss Clara Coleman was the bride's attendant, while Mr. Clifford, brother of the groom, acted in the same capacity for the groom. Miss Sallie Tucker, sister of the bride, also attended.

Miss Alva Brannan, 25 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brannan, 816 William street, Baltimore, and J. Percy McGinnis, 24 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel McGinnis, of Church Hill, Md., will be married today at noon at the home of the bride by Rev. R. L. Woods, pastor of Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church.

KENT COUNTY MAY WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Thomas Bonwill, of Near Still Pond, This County, One of The Boys' Corn Club Members, Has Raised 130 6-10 Bushels on an Acre.

Kent county appears to have an excellent opportunity to win the State-wide championship in corn growing among the Boys' Corn Clubs, of Maryland. While County Agent L. L. Burrell will not complete the measurement of the crops grown by all the boys until probably next week, he knows enough to pick out the winners, as he has all the data excepting the report as to shrinkage on account of moisture and this will be very small this year.

The NEWS thinks Kent will have the winner of the State championship in Master Thomas Bonwill, son of Eugene M. Bonwill, Jr., of near Still Pond. This aggressive young farmer has grown 130 6 10 bushels of corn to the acre, and it is believed that this will easily out distance all the boy farmers in other counties. Last year the state record was 105 bushels to the acre. He raised 217 baskets weighing 8924 pounds and one hundred pounds on ear shelled out 82 pounds, which is the usual standard. His total expense was $23 85.

The second prize winner is Master Jack Mason, son of John A. Mason, near Betterton, who raised 104½ bushels on an acre. Master Holt Woodall, of Galena, made a fine record with over a hundred bushels per acre. Master Josiah Massey, Jr., of near Chestertown, grew 90 bushels He sold 14 bushels of corn at $3 per bushel for seed. His father was a county wide champion a few years ago.

History of the Bonwill Crop.

Five loads of manure were spread on the ground in November, 1915, and four loads April 6th, 1916. The ground was plowed April 25, harrowed and rolled the next morning, and spring toothed and rolled twice the same day. Boone Co. white corn was planted May 5th, 3 ft. 4 in. by 3 ft. 6 inch. 200 pounds of a mixture of bone meal and acid phosphate fertilizer was applied with the drill. There was good weather and I had a good stand of corn two and three stalks to the hill.

Soon after the corn came up it was A-harrowed both ways. When the corn was about 8 inches high hen manure was scattered about each hill by hand, three barrellfuls were used. The corn was cultivated twice each way at intervals of a week or ten days. Had good weather all the time for corn, so it wasn't very long before it was large enough to cut. Sept 14 half of the corn was cut. Sept. 19th the rest was cut. Corn was husked Oct 20th, weighed and hauled from the field Oct. 25th.

The point in which Master Bonwill differs from his rivals is in the scattering of three barrels of hen house manure about the hills when the corn was 8 inches high.

The father of the Kent county winner lives on the Krebs farm, half way between Betterton and Still Pond. He has 30 acres in corn which he is expecting to yield 90 bushels per acre.

DEATHS

Pere Wilmer Hanson, who has been connected with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for 49 years, died of heart disease Friday night at his home, 1401 Linden avenue, Baltimore. Mr. Hanson was 77 years old. He was ill only three weeks, up to which time he was on duty in the treasury department of the railroad company. Most of his time, however, was served in the paymaster's department. Mr. Hanson's wife, who died several years ago, was the daughter of the late Judge Philoman B. Hopper, of Kent county. Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs Paul Weatherbe, Mrs. Lee Willson Sellman, of St. Davids, Pa., and Miss Margaret McLean Hanson, of Baltimore; one son, Eugene Douglas Hanson, and one sister, Mrs. William H. Richardson. Mrs. Weatherbe, who is now in London, is the wife of Colonel Weatherbe, of the Canadian Army.

Mrs. Mary C. Pierce, relict of Patrick Pierce, died at her home in Galena, Wednesday, aged 59. The deceased leaves a son, Bradford. She was a Miss Moffett and highly thought of by neighbors and friends. The funeral took place yesterday interment in St. Dennis' cemetery.

Mrs. Dennis and her daughter, Mrs. Frances Culp, of Chestertown, were called to Philadelphia last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. D.'s sister. The Press says:

"The kind-hearted, grey-haired old lady, who used to visit the Mary J. Ball Home and Nursery almost daily and read fascinating stories of long ago from the 'old book' is gone, no more to return. Mrs. Elizabeth P. Smith died today, and when the news of her death reached the nursery, there was not a dry eye in the institution. She was 69 years old, and a husband survives her. Almost every day she would leave her home, 1815 Van Buren street, and set out for the home, where she would enliven the lives of the destitute children. The kiddies always looked to her visits with great anticipation."

George Cohee, aged 67, died in Baltimore Wednesday. The deceased was a native of Kent.

Mr. Gilbert Hadaway has purchased of Mr. James G. Beck a Maxwell auto.
