He Never Spends A Dime

The head of one of America's greatest Railroad Systems draws a salary of $50,000.00 per year but never spends a dime. Every single dime he gets goes at once into a "little dime bank" that he keeps about him.

Years ago this man recognized the importance of little things, perceived the necessity of forming constructive habits, realized the wisdom of saving and made a resolution to save every dime that came into his hands. All necessity for saving, in his case, long since disappeared, yet the habit remains.

Who knows to what extent this habit contributed to his achievements—contributed by building up that moral stamina which is the foundation of all success?

Two Well-Known Chestertown Characters Caught Saturday With Cow Hide Hidden in Suit Case—Chestertown Colored Men Caught in Centreville on Thieving Charge—Other Arrests.

Lewin Davis, alias Jumbo, and George Wilmer, two well-known colored characters about Chestertown had planned a fine trip for Saturday but it ended in jail. They borrowed Mr. Wm McKee's team, and started early Saturday morning for the Tolchester boat. On the way down they stopped at Moffett's slaughter house and helped themselves to a beef hide, placing same in their suit case. Sheriff Hadaway failed to head them off at Tolchester but they were arrested in Baltimore just in front of a saloon. The suit case was opened and found to contain the stolen hide. Each blamed the other with stealing the article. They were returned to Chestertown jail Monday and will be held for court.

In the hearing before Judge Rogers it was brought out that these two men each had suit cases, and that the money from the hide was to have been invested in liquor. It also developed that Davis had stolen some farmer's corn that same week for which he had gotten $3.

Hydie Smith, a 20-year-old colored boy, was arrested Sunday by Officer Cooper for stealing a purse containing $1.14 from the Chestertown M. E. Church. He had placed the purse in his desk and hid the key in the bottom of his shoe. He will be held for court.

By the arrest of three negroes, each of whom is said to have confessed, Queen Annes county officers believe that they have finally succeeded in rounding up a band of burglars that has been operating in the upper sections of the county for the last several months. The Sudlersville Bank and the store of Charles B. Chance & Co., Sudlersville, were the latest places in which burglaries were attempted. The men in Centreville jail charged with being members of the band, are: Arthur Coleman, colored, aged 22; Vance Sudler, colored, aged 26; Arthur Gibbs, colored, 24. All are residents of near Barclay, but Coleman and Gibbs formerly resided in Chestertown and have not good records.

According to the story told local officers by the negroes, they are responsible for the majority of burglaries committed in the neighborhood of Barclay, Sudlersville, and other points in the upper section of the county.

THE DEDICATION OF KENNEDYVILLE SCHOOL

Saturday, November 25th, was the date set for the dedication of the Kennedyville school building. The day was fine, the farmers were busy, yet a large audience was present in the afternoon when the meeting was called to order by George R. Rasin, the always-ready man and one of the trustees.

The exercises began with a chorus by the school, prayer by Rev. Peter Shauer, welcome chorus by the school; address Wm. F Russell, Jr., Esq; presentation of the keys, Mr. John Medders, chairman of building commission; acceptance and remarks by Mr. J. L. Smyth, county supt.; chorus, "America"; Address, Wm G. Smyth, Master of Kent County Grange; chorus, Town Song, by the school; dedicatory address, Hon. Wm. T. Warburton; chorus, All Hail Fair America; benediction, Rev. P. B. Stauffer; inspection of building.

Kennedyville has needed a school building for many years and now the community is thankful for every move taken for the building, this includes the gentlemen who so kindly consented to come to our town and make most excellent addresses Mr. Russell was commented on all sides, Prof. Smyth was perfectly at home and our people were glad indeed to see and hear him again after having such a fight for his life just about one year ago. Mr. Wm G Smyth may have done better sometime somewhere but the writer doubts it. Hon. Mr. Warburton was the orator of the day, and he very favorably impressed the audience. They said he was fine. The two ministers of our community were and have been lending a strong helping hand in the movement. Mr. John Medders, the speaker for the building commission, the man who talked school building, who dreamed school building for years passed was very happy when he thanked the different ones who had presented the school building with several mirrors and other useful things. Calling them by name as he thanked them, he also spoke of the kindness of Mrs. Lockwood when referring to the land, and of Mr Harry J. Hill who conceived the plan for the stairway, and Mr. Wm. W. Clendaniel, for the cornerstone.

Now we come to the last but not the least, the children did fine. The audience was all attention when the children marched in the assembly room with perfect step to the music and their sweet voices sounding clear with cheerful song, but this is not unusual for these children as in their several entertainments given in the past with Miss Mettie Loud and Miss Hannah Bell, teachers, and Miss Lulu Vandyke as musical director and teacher, have always drawn full houses

The program was followed by a sumptuous supper in the basement of the building. Thus ended a happy eventful day for our community.

FAIRLEE GRANGE had a splendid meeting Wednesday, with Worthy Master M. P Lee in the chair and with Ceres, Mrs. Ida Lee. The program included songs by Francis Richardson, Catharine and Sarah Watson, Mrs. Tilghman Hudson, Miss Ida Crew, Mr. and Mrs Jesse H. Usilton, Mrs. Lewin Skirven, Mrs. Jones, Mr. Ralph Usilton; echoes of National Grange by W. G. Smyth, J. T. Anthony, Miss Ida Crew; "Garner" edited and read by Mrs. T. Hudson. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Lee were elected as delegates to the Grange meeting at Easton next Monday.

The election of officers will take place December 13th.

DEATHS

Mrs. Henrietta R. Crew, widow of the late Lewin Crew, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Horsey, at Betterton on last Tuesday night after a long illness, aged 77 years. The deceased had been a great sufferer during all of which she has had the faithful and untiring services of her daughter, Mrs. Horsey, and the other children, besides the attention of kind neighbors and friends. She was sick for many months while living at Worton Station and her unusual weight made it so hard to make her comfortable. Yet even this was overcome by securing the latest invention used in hospitals for the purpose The deceased was a remarkable woman rearing a large family of boys and girls all of whom are recognized as of the highest character in citizenship and of filial devotion. She has gone where there'll be no more suffering and where there is no sickness. Funeral services were held at her late home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. R. P. Nichols officiating. The bearers were the six sons of the deceased. Interment was in Still Pond cemetery; undertaker, W. H. Krusen, had charge of funeral arrangements.

He was 84 years of age, and leaves one daughter, Mrs. Hadaway, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Elson Brown. He was known by most of his friends in this section as Capt. Judson, and he was a talented though eccentric man. For many years he was engaged in building a large boat at his home near Pomona, and this was a place of great interest to many people. Capt. Judson was a native of Maine. The funeral took place on Thursday at 2 p. m., with interment in Chester cemetery. The bearers were T. J. Blackiston, W. C. Townsend, S. D. Burris, C. W. Hadaway, W. E. Brown, W. T. Slagle. Rev. Mr. Smith officiated, with C. L. Dodd as undertaker.

Samuel R. Jewell, in early life a successful farmer in Cecil county, and for the past fifteen years a resident of Wilmington, died last Sunday at his home, No. 1125 North Adams street. He had been seriously ill for about two weeks and death was caused by a complication of diseases brought on by old age, for he was in his 85th year. It was the old Mt. The bearers will be James T. Anthony, Chas. McKee, R. C. Williams, Thomas C. Smith, Josh Hendrix and Henry Smith; Chas L. Dodd, undertaker.

WE never dreamed that our own Chesapeake oysters would doit. But they have. They have joined the general rush upward and it is likely the oyster will stay up for the rest of the season and our oyster roast will be at a premium. On Wednesday of last week only one boatload of oysters reached Baltimore, an astonishing situation at this season of the year. And they sold at 90 cents a bushel, against 60 cents the week before. Men informed upon the oyster situation said the instance is a fair indication of what may be expected.
