Enjoy the Soft Light of Rayo

Why put up with a flickering, flaring, smoking old lamp when you can buy a Rayo?!

RAYO LAMPS give a steady light that is easy on the eyes. You remove neither the chimney nor the shade to light them—as convenient as gas. Artistic in design, they have no cheap filigree ornaments that make cleaning a long job.

Your dealer will be glad to demonstrate Rayo Lamps. Ask for them by name.

COOK THE KAISER'S GOOSE

Herbert Kaufman says in the Cosmopolitan "Cook the Kaiser's goose on your own stoves. Victory over there is being weighed on Grocer's scales. The flag out front signifies nothing, unless it's also hanging in the ice-box. Whoever pampers special tastes, hampers the Army—dines upon the very Stars and Stripes.

We have challenged the dreadest military foe in all annals, and we shall be defeated ignominously if our appetites aren't patriots. Stand in the bread-line of Defense, serve ornate and lavish meals now, and you serve the enemy.

Democracy is equally menaced by Gluttony and Germany. Don't crucify civilization on a cross of Knives and forks. God help a people that stints a field kitchen to stuff the home larder. It is a shoddy and pinchback loyalty that sends sons to the battle front, and won't spare a crust to comrads in arms.

FRANCE, ENGLAND AND ITALY CAN PROVIDE AS MANY TROOPS AS WE'LL PROVISION. EXTRAVAGANT AMERICANS ARE HOLDING WHOLE REGIMENTS FROM THE TRENCHES. STOP EATING SOLDIERS!!

This is truly a timely message, comingas it does right at the time when the Government has made provisions for forcibly taking the wheat which the boys must have to win the war. In talking to a colored man who was complaining about not getting enough bread to eat, I mentioned the fact that the Allies would furnish the men, if we would pack their dinner buckets. "He said" if saving flour will keep me from going to the war, I'll try to save it."

Getting 50% only of flour is not a hardship, if we plan our means for it. In looking over Grocery orders for the past five years, I find that flour was only 40% of cereals, and we enjoy the change from the inevitable bread and meat. I wonder if the store keepers could not suggest purchases to the customers who seem ignorant as to what is best to buy. Some think that only cornmeal can be purchased with flour.

I find that an order like this comes out very well for us: 4 pounds rolled oats, 4 pounds meal, 4 pounds buckwheat, 4 pounds beans; 2 pounds rice, 1 pound cornstarch, 4 pound hominy, 8 pound graham flour, 24 pound flour, and if you will use at least three baskets of potatoes with this lot of goods, you will have some flour left over when the other things are gone.

As suggestion, I want to say, that cornmeal mush, made by stirring the meal free from lumps in cold water, then adding hot water and cooking for at least half an hour, can be added to any kind of griddle cakes, muffins or light bread, if used at the rate of 1 cup of meal to three of flour.

We can add a cupful of cold boiled rice, oats or hominy to any of the breads, with good results. If we want to try, we can please the head of the house, can feed our children healthier, and can feed a man in France who is fighting to protect our homes. We do want to try, I know we do, but somehow, it is hard to break away from set rules, some of which have been with us since lard was 10 cents a pound, and everything in proportion.

If the house wife will take the time and trouble to say something about these things to help we have in the kitchen, if she will in her own way try to impress it on their minds that Uncle Sam is just as good to them as Abraham Lincoln ever was, if the demonstrates the new ways of doing for themselves and others, and if she will suggert purchases such as outlined above, she will help put down a good bit of Pro—German talk going around, and make them better happier and healthier.

If store keeners will use a little tact there will be no waste in the commodities bought to get equal parts of flour, and if every one will do their bit—we will not have any kind of famine over here.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son, CARL L. ASHLEY, who departed this life January 30, 1917.

Oh, what a weight of sorrow,
Must his lonely mother bear,
The silent rooms, the empty bed,
The lonely vacant chair.

In memory I often see,
The one we love so dear,
His voice grows so clear sometimes,
I feel that he is near.
LOVING MOTHER AND FATHER.

We miss your welcome footsteps
Your kind and loving face,
We miss your visit to our home,
We miss you every place.
BROTHER IRVING AND WIFE.

His memory is as dear to day,
As in the hour he passed away,
I did my best, God only knew
To save his life I could not do.
BROTHER OLIN.

The night was dark and still,
As I passed his lonely grave.
Where my darling brother slept,
Whom we tried so hard to save.
BROTHER GRANVILLE.

When the evening shades are gathering,
And I am sitting all alone,
In my heart there come a longing,
For our darling Carl to come.
SISTER THELMA.

Uncle Carl how we loved you,
Loved around your knees to play,
Oh, how much we have missed you,
Ever since you passed away.
NEPHEW AND NEICE, LAWRENCE AND VIRGINIA.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear baby and only child ROBERT H. HARRIS who fell asleep in Jesus one year ago today, Feb. 26, 1917, age 1 year and 10 months.

In a lonely graveyard,
In a tiny grave,
Lies our darling baby,
We tried so hard to save.

What a load of sorrow,
Must his lonely parents bear;
The silent rooms, the empty crib,
The little vacant chair.

Robert's carriage is empty,
His clothes all laid aside;
Our hearts are full of sadness,
The one we loved has died.

God in His goodness,
Always knows best,
That's why He called our darling,
Home in Heaven to rest.
BY HIS SAD AND LONELY PARENTS.
