TO THE GALENA SERVICE FLAG

When the Epworth League of the Galena Methodist Episcopal Church presented the Service Flag with 31 stars to the town, the following lines were penciled as a part of the ceremony. Since this date, three more deaths have been reported—Alfred Carroll, John Carroll and James Gleeves.—Eds.

Beneath the blue eternal dome where countless orbs have shown,
Another constellation gleams—the one
we call our own;
In proud array upon that cloth, the red—
the white—the blue,
Are stars that list Galena's toll of soldiers brave and true.
As yet but one is scribed in gold,—James Caldwell, noble lad,
The first from here to volunteer—our dauntless Gallahad.
His brother Henry also stands defiant
'fore the foe,
And very soon no doubt the Boche will find his status quo.
Somewhere upon the other side Charles Stradley seeks renown
With Heston Ford and Willie Starr, and also Joseph Brown.
Our Harry Wesley Jarman holds an aviator's birth—
And, like the eagle, plays the game two miles above the earth.
'Tis where a certain cruiser plows her way across the main,
You'll see James Hurtt upon her deck—
of U-boats in disdain.
Frank Merchant, Jim and Harry Shaw
have gone across to win,
And Lester J. McCauley says he'll meet them in Berlin.
Prince Rupprecht sure will stand aghast
to meet Orlando Tinch;
From handing him his just dessert—a thrust of ruthless steel—
The only way to show to him how keen is Yankee zeal.
Of course to Hayward Anderson citation
soon will come,
To him and Wilbur Butler as the billet
on the Somme.
There's Vernon Butler too now with Al.
Summons at Camp Dix,
And Alfred and Jule Carroll soon will launch Fritz on the Styx.
Where Frank and Hun in combat meet—
where mighty thunders roll,
There Ollie Dixon will be found; and many a Teuton soul
Will there "pass in" before Jack Quinn;
and oft some future page
Will 'scribe his name on scrolls of fame
—a Hector of the age.
I've heard among the thousands now assembled at Camp Meade,
Will Emerson was just the boy of whom they stood in need.
And William Wiltbank tells his friends
his prospect is most fine
To march with fifty thousand Yanks across the German Rhine.
When Elijah Gleeves arrives at Metz to beard the wily Hun,
He'll have John Carroll by his side with Kinley Whittington.
Jim Gleaves will there stand on the banks
where flows the dark Moselle, And you can bet Clif. Dorsey sure will give those Boches—a knockout.
We watch and wait on Lenord Jeff to see what he will do,
Yet feel assured he'll prove a man to equal the polu.
And the next year with peace quite near
and all the Germans flee, We'll see Jim Wells a droppin' shells where Potsdam used to be.

1918 WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN ENDED

The War Savings Stamp campaign closed in Kent county on December 31st. During the twelve months there have been sold in the county 40,159 War Savings Stamps and 79,321 Thrift Stamps, representing a total value of $188,093.18. The maturity value of the total number of War Savings Stamps sold is $200,795, which with the value of Thrift Stamps sold makes the grand total of $220,625.25 for the entire 12 months. The county's quota was $339,400, which will give Kent county an average percentage of the entire quota raised of about 62 per cent. This is a most excellent showing for the county in the face of the many difficulties encountered during the various "Drives" for the sale of War Stamps. Mr. Howard Turner, the county director, and all others who assisted him in the campaign, deserve great credit for the very excellent work which they did. It will not be at all remiss for us to say that the very large sum of $188,093.18 was handled by the district postmasters and the clerks in the Chestertown office with the greatest care and accuracy, there being only a very small difference of 15 cents in the accounts for the entire year. The volume of business transacted by the Chestertown office was equal to that of a banking institution, and yet Alvin E. Coleman, who had charge of the War Savings funds conducted his work in the most admirable manner, and was most ably assisted by the other clerks in the office. As the Central Accounting Postmaster for this county I think such praise is due all of those who have had charge of the financial end of the campaign, as well as of other phases of the work and it is a pleasure for me to know that the work has been done in such a prompt and satisfactory manner. The sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps will be continued at the post-offices in the county during the year 1919.

T. D. BOWERS,
Central Accounting Postmaster.

Many of these fatalities were caused by collisions between automobiles, or with railroad trains.

Show How to Grow More Corn

The Clermont County (Ohio) Farm Bureau, through the county agent, last year demonstrated how the yield of corn could be increased by using manure and acid phosphate and by liming. On a total of 75 acres of corn 22 farmers produced an average increase of 10 bushels an acre by broadcasting 8 loads of barnyard manure and 200 pounds of acid phosphate an acre. From a group of fields on which three carloads of ground limestone were used the yield was increased an average of five per cent. Two lime pulvers were [illegible] last spring one farmer [illegible] tons and aro r 100 to rom
