SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1919

The birth of a Saviour, the crushing of Prussian Militaryism and the voting of America Dry are three of the greatest events in history. Let all the people praise the Lord.

We have added a score or more of names to Kent's honor roll and still there are more, Private Ray Silcox, John Roger Kennedy, Edw. Fordham, of Kennedyville, belongs in the list. If there are others the News will take pleasure in adding them.

The Baltimore Sun in its Sunday edition says. "The records of the War Department at Washington show that during the history of the United States 161 battles, minor engagements and skirmishes in which blood was shed, have been fought in Maryland, distributed as follows: One in the Revolutionary War, 3 in the War 1812 and 159 in the Civil War.

The names and places af these engagements and the dates on which they were fought follows:

REVOLUTIONARY WAR

Gwyn's Island, Chesapeake Bay July 8-10, 1776.

WAR OF 1812

Bladensburg, August 24, 1814.
McHenry, Fort, September 13, 1814.
Moore's Field, August 30, 1814.

The News would call the attention of the Sun to the fact that the "Battle of Caulk's Field" (not Moore's Field) was fought August 31, 1814 on the soil of historic old Kent, near Tolchester. This battle was of signal importance upon the result of the Battle of North Point and the defense of Baltimore.

NEWSY TIDINGS FROM OUR BOYS

Private Charles E. Jester, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jester, of Chestertown, who has been with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, has arrived at Newport News, Va.

Captain J. Paul Jacobs, C. A. U. S. Army, has been ordered to Coast Defence of Oaker, Fort Kamehameha, Hawaii, where he expects to be stationed for several years.

Among the boys home from Camp Meade over Sunday were Mechanic Eli Elliott, Graham Nelson, Sergeant Joe Lambert, Norman Cooper, Ivens Sheets, Sergeant Rolph Townshend, of Camp Holabird.

Lieut. Allan Harris, of the aviation corps, has received his honorable discharge and returned home on Saturday last. He will return to Wilmington with the Dupont Powder Co.

The casualty lists of Monday contained the name of Martin J. King or Krug, of Still Pond, who had been severely wounded in action in France.

Eugene Rollison who has been stationed at Camp Sheridan, Alabama, has been honorably discharged from service and is the guest of his uncle M. J. Rollison.

Somewhere in France,
November 30th,1918.

Dear Father:

I guess you will be surprised at me by address and heading my letter to you personal, but as tomorrow Sunday, is set aside for Father Letter Day, allowing the boys over here to give a line of their experience while on the front.

First we were on a very quiet sector Alsace, getting an idea of trench war fare and I can assure you it was quite a joke to what the second and last sector, Verdun, was. Just before reaching the Verdun sector we rested in woods and in tents for two or three days, we could hear the roar of big guns very plainly.

Monday night at 6 p. m. we left the woods and hike about seven miles, lay out on the hill side in rain until 4.30 a. m., when we were awakened by heavy barrage which lasted about 3 hours, then the boys went over the top, made a drive of about two miles, then the second battalion leap frog through and take the Huns in a very thick woods where the real fighting takes place and the boys begin to realize the hardships of war time.

I experienced all of it and 21 days under shell fire will make far better men than all Billy Sunday preaching can do in a life time. And it is very trying and heart rendering to stand by and see your fellow friends fall, wounded or killed, and I have lost some very good friends, but all we could do was to attend to our duty and carry out our orders which I did to the best of ability, which it would take too long to express on paper, but this I can assure you of. I am more than glad it is all over for I have seen enough of war and can say the front we was on was the hardest and worst fighting the war has known.

Now take it is all over and we are waiting for peace to be signed in hopes of being on our way home in the near future, the sooner the better, for I have seen enough of France and long for the dear old U. S. A., where home sweet home and a loving father and mother can await me.

Well as there is no news except I am longing for home and I assure you there I stay. I draw this to a close with love and best wishes to and to mother, I say good-bye, wishing you and mother a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year. I remain your loving son,

PRIVATE LOICE M. RUST.

DON'T Scold Your Wife

Here is some good, sound horse sense.

If the dinner doesn't taste just to your liking, if the Coffee is a little off color and the flavor poor; if there is anything else you think ought to be improved upon, don't be in too great haste to criticize your wife. She probably is doing the best she can with the Groceries you furnish her.

There's just as much in the Groceries as there is in the cooking, and every wife knows it.

Try us next time. It will pay you.
