Clover Seed

We have Red Clover that is the finest quality money can buy. No second grade carried in stock. Market continues strong, and we are making our prices only slightly higher than the city markets. The early lots of seed are always brighter and better than lots which come in during the rush of the season. We shall be glad to have you look at our seed and we will quote prices in keeping with the market conditions.

ALSYKE

This is lower in price this year than Red Clover. We have as fine a lot of Fancy Alsyke as one would wish to see.

TIMOTHY
ALFALFA

These are all about normal in price, there being but little change over last season. The very best of Alfalfa will be scarce later, and with the idea of getting the very highest grade, both in germination as well as purity, we advise you to look at sample and place your order now.

ORCHARD GRASS—We have about 100 bushels unsold. If you think of planting better buy quick.

"FISHY" BUT GOOD

Talk about the benefits of advertising. Down in Florida not long ago a family lost a child which they supposed had strayed away from home and got lost. After searching in vain for three days the frantic parents placed an advertisement in the nearest newspaper. Imagine the surprise of the parents upon going to the door next morning to see a monster alligator upon the doorstep, where he had disgorged the child alive and then died himself. The "ad" cost them but 25 cents, and it gave them back their darling child; they sold the alligator hide for $5, and the parents are showing the child in all the dime museums of the land at $50 per week. Does advertising pay?

AN OPEN FORUM AMONG FARMERS

Kent County Farmers Meet In Chestertown And Discuss Labor And Tomatoes — A Splendid Turnout And Plenty Of Talk.

Pursuant to a call in the News last week farmers from all sections of Kent met in the Court House in Chestertown Tuesday and enjoyed an afternoon of discussion on labor and tomatoes. Prof. L. L. Burrell called the meeting to order and upon motion Edward A. Corey was elected president, Arthur L. Harris, vice-president and C. Romie Skirven, secretary. Rev. S. S. Hepburn stated that the meeting was called at the request of Still Pond Grange and he was glad to see such an awakened interest on the part of the farmers. He thought it might be advisable to form some sort of an agreement by which a better understanding might be brought about as to the labor situation. "The laborer and farmer," said he, "should realize that each is dependent on the other and their relationship should be that of friends."

Rev. A. H. Covey did not think that there should be any organization formed by the farmer to combat labor but that each community should work out its own troubles. This seemed to be the concensus of opinion of all present, at least of those who spoke.

Messrs. Albert Jervis and Harry C. Willis, Worton, seemed to strike the keynote when they charged the farmer with bringing upon himself the condition which he now finds in the labor market. Mr. Jervis stated that last fall a farmer came into his corn field and hired one of his men by offering him more money. Sam Comly stated he had a similar experience as did others so that it was agreed that if the farmer would exercise more consideration for one another and consult his neighbor before hiring help which "belonged" to another the labor situation would be greatly improved.

Harry Willis, of Betterton, took an optimistic view of 1919. Said he, "friends, the farmer is better off today than ever before. He got big crops last year and fine prices. He has an automobile and feeds off the fat of the land. Stop this grouchy talk and use what labor you have and 1919 will take care of itself. The labor here is just as good as can be found anywhere and each community should know how best to manage it."

B. F. Rash thought it best that not a tomato be planted this year unless a fair price can be obtained. He thought the farmer could make up the loss in giving equal attention to other crops. Speaking of labor, he told of a man who wanted $40 per month and board, also to keep his horse and two hogs and to carry home with him in the Fall two tons of hay. He was in favor of dealing justly with labor but gave instances where the farmer was imposed upon.

Arthur L. Harris produced an interesting report of what his labor cost last year, both by the month and day. He stated that his monthly hands for ten months each cost $326.75, board $160, total $486.75. He paid his day men from $2 to $2.50 per day and they boarded themselves and his total payment was $347.97, showing a difference of only $21.22 in favor of the day labor.

Mr. Brinkley, of the Bureau of Labor, spoke of the labor situation from his standpoint. He stated that out of 450 returned soldiers seeking work there were but 6 who were willing to return to the farm. A majority of this 450 had been farm boys. "Therefore," said he, "you farmers will have to depend on the help at hand for 1919, because the boys who come back want other positions."

Upon motion of Harry C. Willis, of Worton, seconded by Harry Willis, of Betterton, it was decided by a rising vote that the minimum price of tomatoes should be 35 cents per basket net. It was also decided, upon motion of A. L. Harris, that it was the opinion of the meeting that it would not be wise to grow tomatoes this year for the open market. A committee consisting of Arthur L. Harris, Harry C. Willis and John H. Clendaniel was appointed to speak for the farmers of Kent county at conferences of tomato growers or packers.

DRY ACT WILL NOT AFFECT FARM HANDS

When prohibition prevails in the country districts it will not affect the ordinary farm hand. For years, ever since the silo came into general use, the farm man had no trouble in securing what he desired on a dry evening. He simply used a gimlet, bored a hole in the casing at the bottom of the silo, captured the results in a tin can, passed it through a cloth and had something which was tasty and also had the "kick."

The "silo jag" is known all about Chester county and is a fearful "next morning" experience. It is said by those who have experienced it that when a man awakens next morning after an evening with the fluid, he is in state where he is unable to even expectorate with any relief.
