VOL. 79. CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, MAY 3, 1919 No. 49

Left all toan orphanage

I heard of a man the other day who didn't believe in life insurance so he left all he had to an orphan asylum. Did he leave much? Yes, three sons and two daughters. My telephone number is still 187 and I still represent the Continental Life Insurance Company (one of the best dividend-paying companies in America.) When you think of life insurance think of FRANK SIMPERS.

Freighting!!

Spraying Season

Just what you have been wanting is now right here on our floor—

THE "MYERS" COMPRESSED AIR SPRAYER

One pumping up will discharge the contents of the sprayer without further pumping. The pump in this sprayer is different from that in other sprayers, being a "Myers" product and guaranteed to be of first quality.

We also have a Small Tin Sprayer for persons who only have a few bushes, and larger ones to meet all needs.

Spraying Materials

LEADED BARDEAU
ARSENATE OF LEAD
PYROX

All these materials in various sizes.

Ladders

Step and Extension Ladders, from 5 feet to 36 feet. They are useful in spraying as well as many other things.

COURT NOTES

Court was occupied more than two days with a removed case from Cecil county in which $160 was involved. It was the case of John Anderson, stock dealer vs. Edgar P. Young, of Cecil, for price of a cow and calf. S. S. Beck and H. H. Barroll were the opposing lawyers. It was tried before the Court and still being heard at noon yesterday.

Judge Adkins will finish hearing the Boggs case Monday.

Other Court notes may be found on another page of this issue.

Evangelist C. E. Andross, of 7th Day Adventists, has come to Rock Hall to conduct a series of illustrated Bible lectures at the Mechanics Hall each night at 7.45 (except Saturday) commencing Sunday, May 4th. WEDDING NOTES

Miss Dorothy Smyth Edwards, of Chestertown, and Linwood Lusby, of Broad Neck, were married Saturday evening last at Wesley Chapel parsonage, by the Rev. A. F. P. Raum. The bride is a teacher in the Kent schools and will continue her duties in this capacity until the schools close in June, when she will join her husband in Wilmington where he has lucrative employment.

A splendid account of the wedding of Ensign Lester Baldwin to Miss Irene Pinney is in hand and will appear next week.

VICTORY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS

The following is the result of the Victory Loan to date:

Firemen's Hall	$11,750
Bond Church	4,750
M. P. Church	22,950
Tank	1,650
Still Pond Station	1,650
Galena	26,000
Millington	26,000
Total	$109,950

Galena and Millington have gone over the top. Good for them.

Postmaster General Burleson has not yet given satisfactory reasons for his arbitrary course in increasing the telegraph rates 20 per cent. Mr. Mackay reiterates his promise to cut off the 20 per cent. raise announced by Burleson if the Postal wires are returned to his control. The "hello" girls' strike adds to the strain of a situation already sufficiently uncomfortable for the Postmaster General. He could relieve the pressure somewhat tending his resignation, which probably would be gratefully received by the President. Mr. Burleson is a tremendous burden for the administration to carry, and one which it ought not to attempt to shoulder any longer than may be necessary to make the arrangements for the gentleman's retirement.

Special meeting of Still Pond Grange called off on account of the Liberty Loan meeting at Betterton. Regular Grange meeting at 2.30 Saturday afternoon.

Counties Making The City Hustle

Baltimore Spurred To New Endeavor In Putting Over The Victory Loan.

From all over the State there come to the Maryland Victory Liberty Loan Committee reports of the most encouraging nature, forecasting an early clean-up of the quota of the loan assigned to each county.

The first counties that had the honor of going over the top were Garrett, Carroll and Frederick, and they are being followed quickly by others.

Stimulated by the example set by the rest of the State the city workers have gone to their task with renewed efforts.

When the word went along the line that the counties appeared to be outstripping the city in subscribing their quotas there was a general hustling around the city headquarters and the result of redoubled exertions was soon in evidence.

In some quarters it was feared that individuals would not have an opportunity to share in the purchase of bonds and would be without the honor of wearing buttons and displaying the loan emblem in their homes as the Maryland boys are coming home.

The boys are coming soon and they will be able to readily know which homes stuck to them to the last by the display of the Victory Loan emblems. This will be a far more encouraging sign than all the "welcome" posters that could be plastered over the side of a house.

Of course, it is universally known that this Victory Liberty Loan is, from the point of the investor, the best of all the war-time propositions. It is a short term—five year loan, and the interest rate is especially attractive.

But above all it stands for the success of the American arms in war. It represents the difference between Victory and defeat, and surely every one wants a share in the Victory.

HAND OF DEATH

There were four deaths in Chestertown within a few hours of each other, viz., Mrs. Barwick, James Bartley, Mrs. Wm. L. Fowler and Mrs. Abigail Atwell.

William Everett, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Simpler, died on Sunday. Interment in Chester Cemetery, undertaker, Charles L. Dodd.

Mrs. Abigail Atwell, widow of the late George W. Atwell, died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred A. Crew, on High street, Chestertown, after two week's illness of uraemic poisoning, aged 72 years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Alfred Crew, and four sons: John W., Wallace, Dr. Louis P., of Kent county, and Howard, of Wilmington, Del. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, conducted by the Rev. Dr. G. Alderson and A. W. Goodhand; interment at Townsend, Del., undertaker, W. H. Krusen.

Died in Middletown, Del., April 15, 1919, of pneumonia, Mrs. Beulah F. Maul, beloved wife of J. L. Maul, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Meeks, of Goldsboro, Md., age 36 years. Tis sad to loose loved ones. Only a few days ago she was with us, apparently in her usual health. Alas! how short is the passage to the grave. Just as the winter months had passed, and we were entering upon the beautiful spring time she left us. The deceased possessed some excellent traits of character; rather suffer wrong than inflict pain—kind, generous and forgiving to a fault, she knew no redress. Though racked with pain in her last hours she murmured not: The mind turned to the beautiful works of God in nature and she spoke of the flowers the sun shine, the blooming trees and blossoms. She leaves besides her husband several children, father and mother, five brothers and three sisters to mourn their loss; interment in Forest Cemetery near Middletown, Del. Gone but not forgotten.

Mrs. Mary Sutton Fowler, wife of Town Commissioner Wm. L. Fowler, was stricken with paralysis Saturday afternoon at her home on Cross St. and died the following Sunday evening, aged 49. The deceased was a daughter of the late Thomas Sutton, a lady of refinement, industry and unusual intelligence in business matters. She was a helpmate in truth and deed, a lover of flowers and a good woman. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Miss Katherine Sutton Fowler, also a brother and sister, William C., and Miss Annette L. Sutton. Funeral services were held Wednesday from her late home conducted by the Rev. J. L. Ward; interment in Chester Cemetery. The active pallbearers were: William A. Wheatley, Charles F. Wheatley, Frank H. Howard, William F. Russell, William C. Sutton and Howard Turner, with the following honorary bearers: Robert Moffett, George R. Rouse, James W. Crouch, Dr. Frank B. Hines, George H. Cannan and J. Waters Russell. Undertaker, Charles L. Dodd.

Mrs. James Thompson died at her home in Middletown Tuesday after a long illness aged about 66 years. She was a Mrs. Lou Wright before marrying Mr. Thompson and a resident of Kent. She is survived by a husband, James Thompson and a son by a former marriage, James. Her remains were brought by auto to Chester Cemetery Thursday and interred therein, Rev. J. L. Ward officiating, C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

J. Alfred Jester, of Betterton, died on Monday last of heart trouble on a marsh near the home of Maxwell Price, and his body was not found until Thursday afternoon, as the family was unaware that he had gone there. Coroner Dodd gave a certificate of death after he viewed the body and it was removed to the undertaking rooms of W. H. Krusen, at Still Pond. Funeral services will take place today at 2 o'clock at the Episcopal Church at Betterton, Rev. S. S. Hepburn officiating; interment will be in the Still Pond Cemetery.
