CHURCH NOTES

The Junior Rally of the P. E. Church was held in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, on Wednesday. Members of the Cecil, Kent and Queen Annes County Churches were present for an all-day meeting. Rev. H. W. Stowell, Field Secretary of the Province of Washington, and Miss Helen L. Jennings, of Pottsville, Pa., delivered addresses; also J. Archibald Mitchell, who recently returned from China.

In the M. E. Church Sunday evening there will be a great community patriotic service for the double purpose of observing the national birthday celebrating the signing of the peace treaty. All members of the different patriotic orders are especially invited and will sit together in a reservation provided for them. The music will be directed by a male chorus. Dr. Alderson, the pastor, will choose for his sermon subject, "America, the Providential Nation." The hour of service is fixed at eight o'clock to accomodate the worshiping public. It is the purpose to make this a "community service," therefore to the entire public a cordial invitation is extended. Reservations for members of the different orders will be held until 8 o'clock. After that all seats will be thrown open to the public. In the morning at 10 o'clock the Sunday school session will be held. This will be followed at 10.30 by the public preaching service. The midweek prayer service will be Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

In memory of IDA R. COLEMAN, who died one year ago June 23, 1918.

I cannot forget you dear wife,
Though one year has passed away
The loving remembrance of my heart
Will never fade away.
The years may come and years may go,
While I am in sorrow deep,
I will try to reach that heavenly world
Where we shall no more weep.

By Her Loving Husband,
CHARLES B. COLEMAN.

Cut Her Own Throat.—There was a most distressing occurrence in Piney Neck on Monday. Mrs. Alice Elbourne, who lost her husband and two children last fall, has been under a severe nervous strain since and early that day tried to end her life by cutting her throat with a razor. She succeeeded in severing the windpipe. Her children's screams were heard by neighbors and Dr. Copeland was summoned. He inserted a silver tube and is trying to save her life but there is grave danger that she will succumb to her injury.
