VOL. 80 — CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, JULY 5, 1919 — No. 6

Do you know of anything more uncertain than death? What about a little more protection for that family? The income from a few thousand dollars these days will hardly pay house rent. Think about an increase, then think of the CONTINENTAL LIFE, one of the best dividend-paying companies in America. You also want to think of FRANK SIMPERS.

Liberty Bonds & War Savings Stamps

Do Not Sell or Trade Them

The importance of holding Liberty Loan Bonds is as great now as it ever has been during any period of the Government's financing. The War is over, but its costs and expenses of demobilization must be reckoned with as well as other demands for current and extraordinary expenses. To provide therefore the spirit of saving and thrift must be maintained.

In instances where it is absolutely necessary to realize on your Government bonds, any banker will be pleased to sell them at the market price and pay you the proceeds, less a nominal charge for service.

Do not sell your bonds unless it is absolutely necessary, and if you must sell dispose of them through a bank or a reputable broker.

PAUL DUNN DROWNED

A Sad Accident In Upper Kent—Washing Carriage In Sassafras River, Afterwards Goes In Swimming And Loses His Life.

Paul Dunn, aged 38, one of the popular sons of the well-known and highly respected Thomas J. Dunn, of near Massey, was drowned Tuesday while bathing in the Sassafras river. Mr. Dunn went to the river to wash his carriage. He first drove his cattle out and started them to the house, then washed his carriage. Afterwards, he went out further to have a swim and a little girl on the shore saw him disappear. She watched the river for some minutes and not seeing him again, went for help. After two hours search the body was found and Coroner H. L. Dodd notified. He deemed a jury unnecessary and rendered verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased was unmarried. He was an industrious citizen and popular among a large circle of friends.

WHEAT YIELDS

Mr. Ford on the Harry Price farm, near Betterton, threshed 4 bushels per acres of smooth wheat and 14 bushels per acre of bearded wheat.
