VOL. 80 — CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, SEPTEMBER 6, 1919 — No. 15

WHERE WILL YOU BE AT SIXTY-FIVE

At twenty, sixty-five seems far far away; but it may be interesting to know just where we will be financially, at that age. Out of 100 average healthy men at twenty, at sixty-five 36 will be dead, 1 will be rich, 4 will be wealthy, 5 will be supporting themselves by work, 54 will be dependent upon friends, relatives or charity. If one loves lots of company one should remain poor, and remain in the 54 per cent. class. Starvation is a long felt want, which can be prevented by talking with FRANK SIMPERS, who represents one of the best dividend paying Life Insurance companies of America.

Everybody welcome. No services at Broad Neck.

Chairman Arthur P. Gorman, of the State Tax Commission, only son of the late United States Senator Gorman, and himself a power in Democratic party affairs for years, died shortly after three o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Johns Hopkins Hospital, which he entered the latter part of last week. He had been ill from diabetes for a long time.

Mr. Gorman was a manly man of attractive personal qualities, which made him a host of devoted friends, He had courage and boldness and never ran from a fight when himself or his friends were attacked. Many who did not agree with his political theories and methods are sorry to hear of his death at so comparatively early an age, and the sympathy of the people of Maryland, without regard to faction or party, will go out to the bereaved family.

TOMATO CONTRACT BINDING

The Circuit Court for Kent county, Hons. P. B. Hopper and Lewin W. iWickes presiding, heard the suit of D. E. Foote & Co., canners of Crumpton, against A. J. Bolin, of Morgan Neck, farmer. Mr. Bolin contracted with Foote & Co., June 2, 1919, to grow 10 acres of tomatoes at 30 cents per basket. When the crop matured the Canning Company learned that Mr. Bolin was selling his crop on the market. They at once got out injunction and asked for a receiver which the Court granted. R. G. Parks, Esq., represented Mr. Bolin, claiming that the contract was not mutual, the Court ruling that it was enforcable. H. W. Vickers, Esq., represented D. E. Foote & Co. Mr. Bolin expects to get four tons per acre.

Tomatoes sold this week for $1.10 and 87 cents per basket.

HAND OF DEATH

Mrs. Marion Hynson Rogers died last Sunday night at a hospital in Baltimore, following a surgical operation for fical fistula, aged 60 years. Her remains were brought to Chestertown via Rock Hall on Monday and rested at her late home on Front street. The deceased was the youngest daughter of the late Richard and Mrs. Carolene L. Hynson. She is survived by two children, R. Hynson Rogers, Esq., of the Chestertown bar, and Mrs. Mary Rogers Henry, wife of Col. Guy Henry, of the U. S. Army. Funeral services were held Wednesday, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church conducted by the Rev. Father Earner; interment at St. Paul's Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Josiah and Paul Massey, Ramie Zeizel, Thomas G. Wroth, Thomas W. Perkins and H. Clay Brown; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Edmund Hurtt, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hilditch died at his parents home at Turner's Creek on Tuesday night last at ten o'clock from being badly burned accidently some weeks ago. Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Sewell S. Hepburn officiating, with interment in Shrewsbury; Undertaker William H. Krusen in charge.

John A., the little five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dye, of Camden, N. J., died at the hospital in Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon of gastritis. Interment took place at Still Pond Cemetery on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, Rev. A. H. Goodhand officiating; Undertaker W. H. Krusen in charge.

WEDDING NOTES

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks Rasin on Kent Circle Wednesday at noon. The contracting parties were Miss Carrie Sharpless Bolton, the attractive daughter of George W. Bolton and Wife, of Newark, Del., and Edward Farrel Bowen, of Pocomoke City, the officiating minister being Dr. G. T. Alderson. The bride was tastefully dressed in a blue tailor-made suit with hat to match. They will reside in Pocomoke City where the groom is engaged in business.

Charles Lee Gill, Jr., recently returned from overseas service, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gill, of Chestertown and Miss Mabel Virginia Coppage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coppage, of Cecilton, were married Wednesday morning at Elkton, by Rev. Geo. P. Jones. The bride was attended by Misses Mabel Jarvis, of Blacks, and Bessie McCoy, of Cecilton. The groom was attended by his cousin Raymond D. Hill, of Kennedyville. After the ceremony the young couple left for short visit to Baltimore, Washington and other points. Upon their return they will reside, for the present, with the groom's parents, Chestertown.

THE FUR FLIES

The Rasin Faction Succeeds In Putting John C. Davis Off Election Board, But Fail To Have His Name Removed From Primary Ballot—Opinion Of Court In Full.

The contest in the Republican ranks gets hotter and hotter. One of the colored leaders says "it is really scandalous and even murderous," while another says it is "rotten." Thursday of last week leaders of the Rasin-Hill faction presented a petition to the supervisors of elections asking that the name of John C. Davis, candidate for State Senator, should not be printed on the official primary ballot. The alleged grounds for this action was the claim that as a member of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Davis was ineligible for other elective office. Upon presentation of this petition Mr. Davis immediately resigned as a member of the board, and the remaining members thereupon denied the request of the petition to withhold his name from the ballot.

Not content with the decision of the supervisors the petitioners employed Hope H. Barroll, Esq., as attorney and instituted injunction proceedings to prevent the printing of Mr. Davis' name on the official primary ticket.

Philemon B. Hopper and Lewin W. Wickes held a special session of Court Tuesday and heard the arguments, and, after careful thought, rendered the following opinion:

"We are of the opinion that a Supervisor of Election can be a candidate for office in a Primary Election; there is no prohibition in the Statute Law of the State making him ineligible, except by inference; but as a Supervisor has wide discretionary and quasi judicial powers at certain periods of a Primary Election, such as are involved in election contests, it would be contrary to public policy to permit a Supervisor to be a candidate if he continue in office and discharge his duties up to and after the primary election.

"The proceedings in the case show that John C. Davis was a member of the Board of Supervisors of Elections of Kent county at the time he became a candidate for the State Senate in the Republican Primaries. They also show that he resigned his office of Supervisor on August 29, 1919, and that his resignation was accepted by the Governor on September 2, 1919. This resignation and acceptance prevent John C. Davis from participating in those duties and powers connected with the approaching Primary Election which might enure to his advantage.

"We are therefore of the opinion that the name of John C. Davis should be placed upon the Republican Primary Election ballot as a candidate of the State Senate of Maryland.

"Ordered this 3rd day of September, 1919, by the Circuit Court for Kent county, in Equity, that the demurrers filed to the petition in this cause be and the same are ruled good and sustained and that the petition be and the same is hereby dismissed, the costs to be paid by the petitioner.
LEWIN W. WICKES,
PHILEMON B. HOPPER.

PRIMARY ELECTION TICKET

Shows The Arrangement Of Names On Ballot And Who Is Running.

The primary election ballot which will be used in the nominations on September 8 have been printed by the News. The ticket shows the arrangement of the names and those who are running for the various offices. Voters must be careful not to vote for too many names in each group. For instance, only one name should be marked in the group for county commissioners and one in the group for judge.

The method of voting is practically the same in the general election. When a voter enters the booth he calls out his name and his party designation shows, to what political party he belongs. If he is a Democrat, he is given a white ballot, and he must retire to the booth and mark his ballot, bring it to the judge at the ballot box, and have it deposited. If he is a Republican he is given a colored ballot. The Democrats have only two boxes in which to mark—one for judge and one for sheriff.

Only persons affiliated on the registration books as Democrats can vote at these primaries. Those voters who are marked "declined" or who have refused to affiliate can not participate in the selection of a candidate for either party. The polls are open in the various voting precincts at the same hours as at the general election and are kept open the same length of time. The law governing primary elections is as rigid as those for the general election and no electioneering is allowed within 100 feet of the polls while they are open. The Corrupt Practices Act also covers the primary strictly prohibited.
