IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our two children who departed this life six months ago April 17 and 22 of SIMMONS and FRANCES THAWLEY.

'Twas sad to part and so lonely,
In this world that's full of care,
To be without the ones we love so well,
And it seems to draw us near.
The loss of gold is great
The loss of love is more,
The loss of ones we love
Is the loss that no one can restore.
Gone are the best of their days,
Blighted in childhood bloom,
Torn from the hearts that love them,
To sleep in silent tomb.
BY MOTHER AND FATHER.

Call not back the dear departed,
Anchored safe where storms are o'er,
On the border line I left them,
Soon to meet to part no more.
1t* BY BABY BROTHER.

In loving remembrance of our dear daughter, GLADYS HESSEY, who departed this life one year ago the 28th of October.

A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still
But death has left a vacant chair,
This world can never fill.
LOVING MOTHER AND FATHER.

At night when my prayers to God I offer,
There's one for whom I pray.
Our darling sister whom I hope is in Heaven
To enjoy life in a most beautiful way.
'Tis sweet to be remembered
And a pleasant thing to find,
Although you may be absent
You are still kept in our mind.
BY SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

In loving remembrance of my dear brother, GEORGE T. HURD, who departed this life one year ago.

Oh, how hard we tried to save him,
Tears and prayers were all in vain,
Angels came and took him from us,
He is with the Saviour free from pain.
LOVING SISTER BESSIE.

Flowers may wither,
Roses fade and die.
Others may forget you
But never shall I.
BY HIS LOVING WIFE.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, RACHEL JANE, beloved wife of B. F. Davis, who departed this life Sunday morning, October 5th, at 11.30 at her home in Hanesville, where has lived for 22 years, 20 yeras she had been confined to the house, being an invalid that long and through all those long and lonesome years she never lost faith and died in her Saviour's arms. She leaves a husband, B. F. Davis, 10 children, 17 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren to mourn her loss.

Alone our mother traveled far
Through death and sickness to the star
That shines upon the golden stair,
When everlasting life is there.
To meet her Saviour on the strand,
When angles took her by the hand,
Alone, oh no, she's not alone,
For Jesus claims her as his own.
BY DAUGHTER BLANCHE.

We Are Ceasing to Be a Democracy!

Minorities Are Dictating To Us!

PROTEST against this INJUSTICE by opposing WOMEN SUFFRAGE!

WOMEN can become a POWER in POLITICS only by neglecting more important work. They cannot do men's except at too great a cost to themselves and the state, so why force additional burdens and responsibilities on the mothers of the race? THE TAXPAYING WOMAN lives under the same law as THE TAXPAYING MAN. He protects His interest, and Hers is equally protected. Do you want to increase the tax rate by having women vote? Double suffrage cost New York State over $2,000,000 a year.

THE MAJORITY OF WOMEN do not want to vote. One way we can prove this is that the SUFFRAGISTS always fight against the question submitted to the PEOPLE—THEY prefer to coerce LEGISLATORS. We are willing to submit this question to the PEOPLE. Let us know if YOU believe in SELF-DETERMINATION by the STATES and are against FEDERAL INTERFERENCE.

'The Shepherd of The Hills"

A photo-play of good philosophy unfolded in a story that interests, and with an underlying preachment that is timely and valuable is found in "The Shepherd of the Hills." This drama is a picturization of Harold Bell Wright's ever living novel of the same name. Beneath the surface of the story in which there is a quantity of heart interest and dramatic possibilities there is a message that cannot help but find a responsive chord in the hearts of theatregoers. The same qualities that made the novel read and enjoyed by millions will make the photoplay stand long as a drawing attraction. The scene of the play is laid in the Ozark Mountains where our so-called civilization has not yet spread its refining but enervating influences. A father, resolved to blot out as much as possible the sin of his artist son, leaves his life of ease and elegance to come among these people. Among the hills and in the woods, he can drop the carping praticabilities of life and can listen to the wind, nature's only voice, as it sings to him its song of ideals, of beauty and of strength. Its message he transmits to the people about him. He does not preach the gospel of good but acts its commandments. As a result he brings peace where there was unrest, forgiveness where there was the spirit of revenge, love where there was hate. Throughout this play there is no effort at sermonizing, yet as in a crystal, it shows the things that are really big and worth while. It lays out again the battle lines of the old fight of the city against the country and then launches the idea that there are certain men whom the Creator intended to live in the city and to thrive among its artificialties, and some men who were intended to live only in the hills and in the woods, some who could live the life of men and be men no matter where placed. It gives the lesson that fundamental principles of rights and ideals, that sometimes seem to smoother among the concrete things of life must in the end triumph. That only truth, justice and beauty can remain alive in the survival of the fittest. Truly great subject matter for a photo-play and one well worth seeing.
