WEDDING NOTES

Wm. H. Lee and Miss A. Augusta Capel were married at 9.30 a. m. last Saturday at the M. P. Parsonage in Chestertown, Rev. J. L. Ward officiating. The groom is one of the efficient employes of the C. & P. Telephone while the bride is the attractive sister of Medford Capel, engineer at the water plant. Mr. and Mrs. Lee have returned from a honeymoon trip and are at home on Cannon street in the Barnett house.

A pretty marriage was solemnized at Townsend Thursday night, when Miss Marian E. Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Reynolds, became the bride of H. Clayton Johnson, of near Sassafras. Farther Crawley, of Middletown, officiating at the home of the bride's parents. Allen Johnson, of Massey, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Miss Helen E. Reynolds, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Levi L. Maloney, Mrs. W. Harmon Reynolds, Mrs. Frank Huey, and Miss Ethel Daniels. Levi S. Maloney was ring bearer and Miss Ethel Reynolds was flower girl. Mrs. Ira Moore, of Elkton, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." After the ceremony, she played "A Perfect Day."

The bride was gowned in white duchess satin, with chiffon and pearl trimmings. She carried a bouquet of orchids and bride roses, with a shower of sweet peas. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore green satin trimmed with silver lace and georgette and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids wore rainbow colors, with silver trimmings and carried bouquets of American Beauty roses. The house was beautifully decorated in green and white and with potted palms. The ceremony was performed under an arch of carnations and laurel. After a dinner the young couple left in an automobile for Wilmington, where they boarded a train for Richmond, Va. Many handsome and useful gifts have been received. The couple will be at home on the farm of the groom near Galena, after January 1.

Daintily decorated in evergreen and maple leaves, Chesterville M. E. Church, South, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at noon, Isabel Meredith, daughter of I. N. Huey, of Massey, Md., and Henry Thomas, son of J. T. Caldwell, of near Chesterville, met at the altar and beneath an arch of cedar were joined in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Coe.

The bride, attired in a traveling suit of brown broadcloth with hat to match and carrying bride's roses, was attended by her cousin, Miss Margaret Huey, who likewise was dressed in brown, and carried pink killarney roses, while the groom, attired in the conventional black, was attended by his brother, Samuel Caldwell. Mrs. Wm. C. Dempsey, sister of the groom, presided at the organ, and I. F. Huey and Norman E. Ford acted as ushers.

After the wedding a reception was given the bride and groom at the home of Mrs. Norman E. Ford, sister of the bride, to which the members of the immediate families were invited. From there, amidst noise of tin pans, showers of rice and confetti, and the best wishes of all present, the young couple made their start on the journey of life together. It was whispered that they would spend their honeymoon in Washington, and upon their return they will make their home near Massey, where Mr. Caldwell will engage in agriculture.

Miss Mildred Redgrave, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Redgrave, of Middletown, and Joseph C. Gibbs, son of Issac Gibbs, of Massey, were married there Saturday in Forest Presbyterian Church by Rev. Frances H. Moore. Miss Lydia Redgrave, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Isaac Gibbs, Jr., a brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride wore a brown velvet traveling costume, and the bridesmaid wore a midnight blue georgette crepe dress heavily beaded. The bride carried white chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaid yellow chrysanthemums.

Benjamin Gibbs, another brother of the groom, and W. Price Roe were the ushers and the wedding march was played by Miss Blanche Deakyne of Wilmington. Immediately after the wedding the young couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home at the Gibbs homestead, at Massey. Mr. and Mrs. Redgrave entertained the bridal party at dinner the evening preceding the ceremony.

Miss Florence Chesley Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Beck, of Calvert county, formerly of Chestertown, was married to Alfred Howe Prouty, of Spencer, Mass., on Wednesday, December 3rd, at 4.30 p. m., at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Prouty left for an extended wedding trip and upon their return will reside at Longwood, on the Patuxent.

Announcement have been received in Chestertown of the wedding of Miss Esta Wink, daughter of Mrs. Rhoda Wink, of New Castle, Del., to Vance Mitchell, on Wednesday, November 26th, 1919, at New Castle, Del. Miss Wink was a former resident of Chestertown, where she has many friends.

The Orphans' Court was organized by re-naming Dr. E. A. Scott president, the other members being J. Henry Thompson and W. K. Hudson.

GRANGE NOTES

The Galena Grange No. 308 P. of H. held their regular meeting in the town hall, Monday evening, at 8 p. m. After the business meeting a very interesting mock wedding took place, when Miss Tina Long (Mr. Allen Johnson) became the bride of Mr. Yourma Short (Mr. Joseph Brown). The brides maid was Miss Adorable Medium (Mr. Ralph Miller) a friend of the bride. The best man was Mr. Philip Jones, a friend of the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Vera Lang (Mr. Daniel Quinn). Mr. H. H. Ransome tied the knot. The wedding march, "Oh Promise Me," was played by Mrs. W. H. Woodall. The bride looked very sweet attired all in white, and a long veil with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid wore blue and carried red chrysanthemums. After the happy couple received many congratulations from their friends, the wedding cake was passed around, the bride cutting the first slice.

On account of the State Grange meeting in Chestertown the following week, our next meeting will be Monday, December 15th.

Rote and Dr. J. T. Power, and runs through to Cannon street. It is opposite the Lyceum Theatre and Postoffice and in the business center of Chestertown. ### YOU CAN'T BEAT IT

Wild Ducks Within A Few Yards Of Home—Fine Fish And Crabs In Front Of Door—Quail And Rabbit at the Back Door.

If there is a place between the oceans that can beat Chestertown as a Garden of Eden we'd like to hear of it. Just across Chester bridge ex-Commissioner William T. Duyer and Eli Elliott are erecting snug homes. Mr. Duyer, on Thanksgiving morning, stood on the shore within a few yards of his home and killed four fat wild ducks. He walked to the water's edge just in front of his residence and took up a small fyke in which was enough elegant fish for himself and neighbors. Then he got his gun, walked to the rear of his new house, and bagged a delicious partridge and rabbit. About a half mile from this place is Anthony's hot houses where early vegetables are grown and beautiful flowers add their fragrance to the air. Truslow's big hennery is his neighbor down the river a short distance, where 1600 White Leghorn hens lay $1.05 eggs.

In the river in front of the house crabs are caught in season while a short distance away may be found oysters. Strawberries all summer and late fall are brought along State road to town by Double Creek truckers and everything that goes on the table is available.

We invite the State Grangers to look us over and enjoy these good things while they are with us.

LIQUOR WAS VINEGAR

A Rock Hall citizen long suffering from thirst of John Barleycorn happened in Baltimore last week and being approved by a negro dealt with for some liquor at $8 per pint. Upon tasting the contents of the bottle he discovered that he had been sold vinegar! He brought the "precious" bottle home and had the satisfaction of fooling some of his friends.

Three white men were walking in Baltimore, near Spring street, Saturday night when they were approached by a negro who asked them if they wanted to buy some whisky. The three men answered that they wouldn't mind, and the negro produced two bottles which he sold them for $9. Schleingerg, Goldstein and Snyder went into a nearby alley to take a "nip" and found it was nothing but tea. The negro, who is described as being 6 feet tall, wearing dark clothes, khaki shirt and black soft hat, escaped.

Let the Roan Pull the Load Alone

An agent in a Missouri town had been trying to write a big farmer in the neighborhood whose farm was encumbered by a considerable mortgage, but the farmer would not listen to him.

One day the farmer was pulling a heavy load with his team up a steep hill, when the agent drove his buggy directly across the road in front of him and stopped his horse, so that the farmer could not proceed.

The farmer was furious "What do you mean by going in front of my team right at the steepest part of the hill and stopping me?" he shouted.

The agent eyed him coolly and remarked. "Why don't you just take the white horse out and let the roan pull the load alone?

This, of course, made the farmer madder than ever. "How can the roan pull the load all alone when it is all that both of them can do, even without a blind fool driving in front of you and stopping you? he yelled.

The agent, lifting a deprecating hand, calmly said. "See here, my friend, some day OLD MAN DEATH is going to step in front of you and your wife, just as I have done to your team today, and is going to stop you, you will be taken out of the harness, and your wife, at just the steepest part of the hill, is going to have to pull the load of that mortgage on your farm alone. If you will buy my policy it will supply your wife with a horse strong enough so that she can go back and sit on top of the load and he will pull it up over the hill alone.

This article was written for the farmer, but don't you know it fits the feet of every man in Kent county in every walk of life. If you don't care for me nor my Company, then buy insurance elsewhere, but by all means provide for your people while you are living. Don't be from Missouri, and have to be shown. 50 per cent of the people born are dead before they are 38, and more than 90 per cent of men die at the wrong time. If they died at the right time you bet they would buy all the insurance that they could get, and would have every thing else in tip top shape. FRANK SIMPERS has a policy for every man. Let me talk the situation over with you, inquiry doesn't obligate you in the slightest.
