NEWSPAPERS INCREASE PRICE

Publishers of all newspapers in New York City, except two, who already have increased their rates, will advance the price of Sunday papers in the Sunday district to 10 cents on or before January 4, in answer to the plea of the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, that newspaper publishers immediately reduce consumption of news print paper 10 per cent below normal to relieve the paper shortage. This announcement was made by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, which added that publishers of all but one New York evening paper had decided to issue no editions on either Christmas or New Year's Day.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. HARRIET R. SATTERFIELD, who left us the 11th day of July, 1919.

I miss her and mourn her in silence
unseen
I dwell on the memory of joys that have been.
Unknown and forgotten by some she may be;
But the grave that holds mother is sacred
to me.

By her daughter,
MRS. BESSIE BUCKLEY.

Sad and loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, OWEN L. HARRISON.

A tear with in a mother's eye,
A mother's breaking heart,
Can only tell the agony,
How hard it is to part.
One in the best of his days
Blighted in manhood's bloom;
Torn from the hearts that loved him
To sleep in the silent tomb.
Think of him in silence,
No eyes can see me weep;
Many a silent tear I shed
When others are asleep.

BY HIS LOVING MOTHER.

Over a silent tear I shed,
Eyes with tears are wet;
How we loved you, Owen dear;
And love cannot forget.
We cannot heal the wounded hearts,
Nor fill the vacant chair.
We miss our brother all the time;
We miss him everywhere.

By his loving
BROTHER AND SISTERS.

In his youth like a bud in its fragrance
and bloom,
Death bore him away to a sad solemn
tomb,
And left us in sorrow, in grief and in
tears,
That cannot be effaced by the passing years.
As we stand by his grave here in peaceful repose
His precious dust rests like a sweet wilted rose;
We know that his soul is in Heaven
above,
And spotless with Jesus and the angels of love.

AUNT MAMIE.

My heart is dearest Owen,
I miss thy dear sweet face;
Owen, dear, there is no other
Can ever fill thy vacant place.
We long to see thy face so sweet,
Till the day when we shall meet,
In the great beyond,
Where sorrow never come.

By his Grandparents and Aunt Clara

CHURCH NOTES

Special services at Bond Chapel tomorrow. Subject of morning sermon "Receiving the News." Extra music by the choir. Evening services at Mowbray Chapel begin at 7 o'clock. All are invited to these Christmas services.

One of the most prominent clergymen in Brooklyn, the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, said in an address Sunday night: "The League of Nations is a child born in the United States, taken to Europe and fed on European diet, brought back to the United States and mutilated by Congress. It is a clear case of infanticide." It is indeed our baby. It was earnestly longed for by all Americans until it occured to a few Republican Senators that it afforded a fine opportunity for "fighting Mr. Wilson." Then the murder was done, and the national hopes were blasted for no nobler purpose than defeating a Democratic Administration.

The Christmas treat in both Methodist Sunday schools will be held on Monday evening. St. James Sunday school will have theirs on Tuesday evening.

The Queen Anne's P. E. Parishes have been going some in the Drive now closing.

The Washington College basketball team dropped its third game of the season to Blue Ridge College, on the Chestertown floor, 28 to 19. Capt. Robins was the star of the game for his team, scoring all 19 points, and he tried hard in the second half to overcome the lead of the New Windsor five but without avail.

Clever guarding by the home team held the visitors to one field goal in the first half, which ended 11 to 9 in Washington's favor. Realizing their inability to work the ball under the basket the winners tried many outside shots in the second half, and were successful on enough tries to give them a good lead. The line-up:

Washington — Robins (captain), r. f.; Smith, l.f.; Gordy, c.; Ballard, l.g.; Gray, r.g.

Blue Ridge—John, r.f.; Silfer, l.f.; Bousack, c.; M. Dunbar, l.g.; R. Dunbar, r. g. Substitutes — Gould for Smith; Bankard for Gould; Gibbons for Bankard; Krabile for Silfer. Field goals—Robins (6), John (4), Bousack (2), Silfer G. Dunbar (2), R. Dunbar. Fouls—Robins (7), Bousack (8). Referee — Day, Philadelphia. Timekeeper—Ten Hoor, W. C. Time of halves—20 minutes.

A Merry Christmas

THE Holidays are with us—Christmas the day of good cheer; New Year, the day of good resolutions. We use our allotted space this week in wishing our patrons in particular and the community in general "A Merry Christmas." This wish comes from the warmest corner of our hearts as we fully realize that our efforts to please our rapidly increasing patrons has been fully appreciated Who is there among us too old to remember the Christmas of his childhood? Is there one who does not look back upon it as the happiest day of his life? Probably the next day, to many at least, is the day they made their first deposit in our bank. Your increased prosperity begins at that time and at this happy Yule-tide you have been enabled to make your family and friends presents of real value from the interest money your idle dollars have made for you at our bank while you have slept. Beautiful and right it is, that gifts and good wishes should fill the air like snowflakes at Christmas-tide. What better wish could you have for your friends and neighbors than that they do as you have done—deposit their idle money in our bank so that next Christmas they too, can make presents from the interests their small deposits have made for them. Would it not be a Christian act for you to suggest this to any of your friends in whom you feel an interest. Come to the bank with them and help to start them on the road to prosperity before the New Year begins.

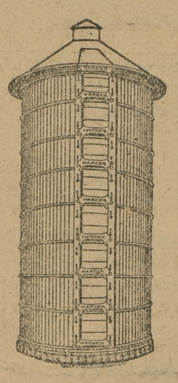
It's what you fork out from a Silo that counts more than what you "fork up" for it!



Mr. W. C. Terry, of New London, Ct., purchased a Harder Silo in 1914 and kept an accurate account of the receipts from 22 cows for the nine feeding months of the following year and compared them with the receipts from the same herd of cattle for the nine months of the previous year with the following results:

Sold with the Silo $243.40 more cream.
Sold with the Silo $72.53 more skim milk.
Sold with the Silo $125.00 worth of hay.
Bought $245.39 less grain.
Total proceeds of the season with the silo over those of the season without the Silo, $667.32

The Harder Mfg. Co., Cobleskill, N. Y.

Gentlemen—Am pleased to report that the two 14x32 Silos which you sold me last year are eminently satisfactory, and are unquestionably money savers for me. Am still using the one you sold me about ten years ago and that is, so far as I can see, as good as the year it was erected.

We are extending our farming projects and will probably need one or two of your Silos this fall, because we appreciate the necessity of greater food production throughout the country; this means more cattle and more cattle mean more Silos.

Very truly yours, SAMUEL RUSSELL, Jr.

IF YOU INTEND TO PUT UP A SILO IN 1920 INVESTIGATE OUR PURCHASERS CARLOAD CLUB PLAN! Write or call and let me explain how you can save money by placing your order now for future delivery. One carload for 1920 delivery already sold. Am now booking orders for second carload.
