LIFE

The Great "IF" in Life

IT is the ever present "IF" that life insurance offsets. The man on a salary with a family to support will be able to provide for his loved ones IF he lives and does not become disabled.

He will pay off the mortgage on his house IF he lives until he has saved the necessary amount. He will send his son to college and present his daughter with a marriage portion IF an accident or an illness does not carry him off prematurely.

The partners in business will continue to prosper IF death does not rob the firm of the capital, brains or experience necessary to its success.

The youth will each week, or month, save something for his old age IF he sets aside a few dollars at regular intervals in a safe depository.

The aged mother will never experience want IF her son continues his dutiful support uninterrupted by death.

Thus the whole social fabric is woven around this little word "IF."

Father on a salary, the partners in business, the son or daughter who supports an aged parent, in fact every man and woman on whom others depend, can make sure and permanent provision for the future by means of life insurance—IF taken in time.

IF you will see FRANK SIMPERS and arrange for a Continental Life Policy all these IF's can be eliminated. Sympathy is comforting, but it takes real money to pay YOUR BILLS THESE DAYS.

KILLED WHILE COASTING

Leland Bramble, 14 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bramble, of Galena, was instantly killed Friday afternoon in a collision with an automobile while sledding down the hill at Georgetown. In company with a number of boys and girls of about his own age, the unfortunate boy was enjoying the splendid coasting afforded by the long, steep grade at the Sassafras river bridge. On the fatal trip down young Bramble's sled collided at the foot of the hill, with an automobile coming from the Cecil county side of the river, killing him instantly. The driver of the automobile, according to eye-witnesses, did everything in his power to avert the accident.

Funeral services were held at the Galena Methodist Episcopal Church, Monday afternoon in charge of the pastor, Rev. Frank White. The bearers were William Johnson, Richard Redding, Raymond Mulford. William Walter and Heston Wiltbanks. Interment in Galena Cemetery. The bereaved and sorrowing parents have the sympathy of the community.

A GOOD ROAD PLAN

State's Road Commission Write To Senator Wm. F. Russell For Data As To The Lateral Roads Of Kent—The Public Asked To Co-operate.

The State Roads Commission has a splendid plan for road improvement in the counties, which it is proposed to submit to the legislature early in January. First-hand information as to this came in a letter to Wm. F. Russell this week from Chairman Zouck, and so that it might be seriously thought over before the coming county meeting, Mr. Russell has given it to the News for publication. The letter says:

"I am thinking out a plan, to be presented to the Governor and the Legislature for consideration, relative to State roads and lateral roads. Our program calls for thirty to fifty miles of road in each county within the next ten years, in addition to what they now have. I am sending you, under separate cover, a map of your county and I would ask that you kindly outline thereon fifty miles of roads which you think are the most important in your county and mark them 1, 2, 3, and so on, in accordance with your opinion as to their order of importance and return the map so marked to me within the next four days."

This is somewhat along the plan Mr. Russell will endeavor so that the opinion of the people generally might be had as to the classes in which the roads should be placed.

The plan is one that should meet with general commendation, as there is no one thing in Maryland at this time so vitally important to the various counties as good roads, and its adoption will place the measure on as important a plane as the original State roads bill of the Crothers administration.

It is well that this matter has been brought to the attention of the Kent Taxpayers, as it will have an important bearing on the plans to be considered and adopted by the county meeting. Suggestions will be gladly received by Senator Russell or the County Commissioners.
