IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son, CARL L. ASHLEY, son of Wm. I. and Mary R. Ashley, who departed this life three years ago January 30.

Dear Carl has gone to live with Jesus
Where there is no more pain,
When the toils of life are over
I will live with Him again.

Life is so sad without him,
Since in death he fell asleep,
When the summons comes for me,
Then I shall cease to weep.

LOVING MOTHER AND FATHER.

Dear brother how we loved you
With a love sincere and true,
Although you have been gone three years
Our love's the same for you.

BROS. IRVIN, OLIN and GRANVILLE.

I love to think of you dear Carl,
I can see your smiling face,
But oh it makes my heart so sad
To see your vacant place.

MILLINGTON FARMERS MEET

Strawberry Growing Discussed.

On Wednesday, January 21st, at 2:00 p. m. a public meeting was held in Comegys Hall, Millington, to hear the strawberry propostion discussed This meeting was called by the Milling Board of Trade for the purpose of having the farmers produce strawberries, which crop has proven to be a money maker in the other Counties along the Eastern Shore.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. P. Ahern. The first speaker was County Agent Derrick, who spoke on the soil and climate conditions of Millington as adapted to the growing of strawberries. The County Agent also spoke on the need of a Farmers' Organization in Millington to take up the subject of strawberry growing and discuss it themselves, exchange their ideas and act as a unit. Then they could know whether or not enough acres would be planted to induce buyers to Millington to buy.

Mr. Salisbury from Ridgley, Md., was the next speaker, and as Mr. Salisbury has been growing berries himself for many years, he was very competent to speak on the soil, varieties, fertilizer, planting, cultivating and picking strawberries. Mr. Salisbury is also a seller of strawberry plants.

Mr. Travers, Inspector and Assistant State Etomologist, was the next speaker. Mr. Travers spoke on the insects and diseases affecting strawberries and their control, giving definite information of demonstration work carried on in this line last summer on the shore.

Mr. Hemmon, a representative of Armour's Packing Co., was present and gave a valuable talk on marketing strawberries. Mr. Hemmon said that the largest strawberry juice factory in the world was their factory at Ridgley and as soon as the acreage around Millington in strawberries warranted it, they were ready to put a juice factory in Millington.

The Chestertown Lodge of Masons on Thursday evening last conferred the Master Mason's degree on Leroy Crosby, formerly of Rock Hall. Mr. Crosby is now in business in Hartford, Conn.

A mass meeting will be held at Odd Fellows' Hall, Cathedral and Saratoga streets, Baltimore, on Tuesday, Feb 3rd, 1920, at 10 a. m. to discuss the plan for control of hog cholera and the advisability of extending it to eradication work.
