VOL. 80 — CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, FEBRUARY 7, 1920 — No. 34

Does Life Insurance Carry You?

That's the way to put it. There used to be an old question asked of men by their fellows, and by life insurance solicitors. "Do you carry Life Insurance?" But that question is out of date. Nobody carries life insurance, the thing is an impossibility, for life insurance won't be in the position of being carried. It is no burden on any man's back. It is an automotive vehicle that carries everbody who invests in it.

There is something that every decent man feels with regard to the future of wife and children that is actually a load on his mind and on his heart, a load that cripples his efficiency in other things, that either makes him reckless in his expenditures, because he sees no way of meeting adequately this problem of the future welfare of his family, or makes him miserly and unhappy for the same reason. This load, life insurance assumes and carries in sucha way as to absolutely relieve the man of his burden. It starts him out every day with full assurance to future obligations in case of his sudden death or serious illness.

Perhaps one's wife has never had to make a living, other than attend to her household duties, and her time is pretty much taken with them and with the children. A man wants his children to be good men and women, an honor to him, and a credit to his country. To do this they must have education and home influence, which they could not have if they were to be left in want. A man wants his wife to respect and remember him when he has gone, which she cannot do if he fails to provide for her.

The one certain thing in life is death. A most uncertain thing is the date of this event. Many men who have put off until tomorrow the insurance protection they should have secured today, have left their loved ones in want. Do YOU recall any? What about the FLU in 1918? Well it is here again. You can see it every day in the papers. You recall some of the claims I paid. The mighty fall as well as the weak. Death is no respector of person. When old man death puts his hand on your shoulder you fall, and you take the COUNT.

It is my ambition to see Kent County the most adequately insured county in the STATE, for a really adequately insured county would mean a county free from poverty, happy and healthy.

I cannot sell all the insurance here, but some day a million dollars will be paid out in death claims on the insurance policies which I have in force. I don't expect to get all the insurance written in Kent County, simply my share, or the other fellow is going to step some.

A TERRIFIC STORM

The hail storm which visited this section Wednesday was simply terrific. With a keen wind and sharp hail traveling was under extreme difficulty. Capt. Hogans, the Rock Hall mail driver, was compelled to remain over night at Fairlee and reached Chestertown at 12.30 p. m. Thursday. The roads are banked with snow and automobiles became stalled. It was one of the worst storms in many years. That ground hog didn't see his shadow but winter is here sure.

It has been seven weeks since we had a boat and poor prospect.

The worst storm in the history of Ocean City is now raging. For the first time in knowledge of anybody here, the ocean has rolled over the sand strip on which the town is built into Sinepuxent Bay. There is no building that has escaped damage from the beating of waves. E. M. Scott, Mayor of the town, estimates the property loss at $300,000.

The ice got a number of our citizens in trouble after all. Besides Mrs. Downey, whose death is noted elsewhere, Charles Thomas hurt his head and has been housed for the past ten days: Russell Donnelly has a badly cut face; John Taylor fell near the postoffice and several stitches were required in a wound on his head;Justice Geo. S. Biddle was seen on skates and out-rivaled his friend Joe Minner.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Gibson, of Crumpton, were Sunday guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Kendall.

Dan Thompson and John Kelley were the two boys who were mentioned in the News last week as having skated from here to Chestertown.

The stork has been busy in the Baker family recently and left a fine boy to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, and twins, a boy and a girl, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the M. E. parsonage on the afternoon of the 12th and a full attendance is urged.

Two young people were happy at the Pomona Grange Saturday when Miss Mary Cornelius was presented with a loving cup and the accompanying badge which she has won three years in succession in the Girls Canning Club and is now hers to keep.
