Engines

Season is now here for sawing and grinding and one of the first things you must have is power. After years of experience we recommend to you the Fairbanks Morse & Co. "Z"; Hercules or International Engines—

HERCULES ENGINES

½ H. P. Gasoline at..$67.50
3 H. P. Kerosene at $117.25
5 H. P. Kerosene at $178.75
7 H. P. Kerosene at $248.00

These engines are all equipped with Webster Magnetos and need no batteries. These prices are low for this season. We have more than 75 of these engines, and to each of these people we can refer you as to the service and performance they they have received from these engines.

FAIRBANKS-MORSE CO.'S FAMOUS "Z" ENGINES

Equipped with "Bosch" Magnetos, are giving splendid service. We have these in stock in 1½, 3, 6 and 10 H. P. sizes.

Joseph Brice operates his Flour Mill with a 15 H. P. recently installed.

Massey & Kilbourne are using a 20 H. P. in ther large Fertilizer Plant, which was installed the past summer. We have more than 50 of these in use in the various sizes.

Anything in Engine Accessories may be found here or obtained on short notice.

WEDDING NOTES

On November 21st, 1920, at one o'clock, at Georgetown, Del., M. P. parsonage, by Rev. John T. Bailey, William L. Starr, of Galena, and Miss Elsie K. Huhn, of Dagsborro, Del., were quietly married. The happy couple were attended by Lee Helm, a brother of the bride, and Miss Elva Rogers, of Philadelphia. After the ceremony they left for Wilmington, now spending a few days with the groom's parents in Galena.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Neal Willson announce the marriage of their daughter Frances H. to William Walter Morris, December 9, 1920, at home.

On Tuesday, November 23, 1920, at 11 a. m., at Washington, D. C., Edw. Walter Lewis, of Baltimore, son of Mrs. Ruth A. Lewis, and Miss Mildred Durding, of Washington, formerly of Rock Hall, were quietly married. After a trip to Wilmington, Chester and Philadelphia they will reside at 2906 Windsor avenue, Baltimore, Walbrook.

The wedding of J. Clifton Cooper, son of Mrs. P. J. Cooper, of Chestertown, to Miss Carrie Woelfle, of Baltimore, took place Wednesday evening at the home of her sister, Rev. Mr. Johnson of the M. E. Church performing the ceremony. There were about a hundred guests present. The brides maid was the sister of bride while Mr. Rosenthall was best man. The presents were certainly pretty and numerous. After the ceremony they left for a honeymoon including a visit to his sister, Mrs. Howard Mench, near Chestertown.

George Hyder Dwyer and Miss Mildred Catherine Sutton were married at Shrewsbury rectory on Saturday, November 20th.

David J. Jones, of Wilmington, and Estelle R. Comly, of Kent, were married at Galena rectory Thanksgiving evening by Rev. H. D. West.

The State Game Warden, through the local Kent County Game Warden, E. J. Watson, says it is legal to sell rabbits, squirrels and muskrats but not birds nor ducks.

A nicely built bird box consisting of (20) twenty rooms is being raffled off in Burk's Shoe Store.

Rev. N. O. Gibson, of Chestertown, picked ripe strawberries from his garden yesterday. He hopes to have them on Xmas day also.

The Federated Charities will begin their regular monthly meetings next Monday afternoon at Red Cross room at 4 o'clock.

The largest exhibit of apples at the Peninsula Show in Wilmington was placed by Walter B. Harris, of Worton. His exhibits included the Stayman, Winesap, Paragon, Ben Davis, Sawyer, Lankford, Rome, Smith Cider, Stark, York Imperial and Fallawater varieties. He was awarded second prize.

L. Naylor, of near Middletown, met with a sad accident last Monday while out gunning. The gun accidently discharged the load in his foot. He was taken to Wilmington Hospital where he had his limb amputated. He died the next day from blood poisoning.

Mrs. George R. Crew died at her home in Baltimore November 28th. She was the wife of George R. Crew and daughter of the late Christian and Catherine Andrae. She with her husband managed the Hotel Rigbie a few years ago and there made many good friends, all of whom join in sympathy. She leaves besides her brother, two brothers and one sister now living in Baltimore. Harvey Brice, of Betterton, attended the funeral Tuesday.

Commencing Monday, December 6, Miss Lois B. Hammond, supported by the Mattice Stock Company will open a week's engagement at the Lyceum Theatre presenting for the first time here the four act comedy drama entitled "Some Other Man's Wife." This delightful little comedy drama tell a wonderful heart story with an absorbing plot interwoven with an abundance of good, clean, wholesome comedy. The Mattice Stock Company have long been prime favorites in Chestertown and for this season Manager Mattice has added some new people—an entirely new repertoire of plays and new scenic equipment. They have been on the Eastern Shore since the first of September and the press and public of every town visited are unanimous in declaring the plays and players the best they have ever brought to this territory. Other plays to be presented during the week Tuesday night, "How Billy Butted I[illegible] Wednesday night, "The Boy In [illegible] Limousine;" Thursday night, "[illegible] And The Woman;" F[illegible] World, The Flesh [illegible] Saturday night.
