CHARLES H. PRICE DEAD

One Of Kent's Noble Sons. Other Deaths.

Charles H. Price died at his home, "Stoneton," near Betterton, Thursday evening last. For a number of months he has been ill but never gave up and was only confined to his bed a few days before he died. He was a man, whom to know was to love and was esteemed by everyone with whom he came in contact. He was an ideal Christian citizen.

For 75 years Harry Price has been living at "Stoneton, his magnificent home near Betterton. His father was Wm. Henry Price, who also lived at "Stoneton" and the granfather was John Hyland Price, a native of Sassafras Neck, in Cecil county, who founed the old family homestead at beautiful "Stoneton." These men were all fine specimens of Kent's best citizenship and it is a pleasure to point to the late Charles H. Price as a Chirstian gentleman whom we will always delight to remember as our friend and associate in many walks of life.

Charles H. Price was born at "Stoneton" in 1848; at the age of 18 he assumed the management of the farm. In 1890 he bought the Yapp farm, which his son, Henry, now manages. In 1880 Mr. Price married Miss Mary C. Baker, of Quaker Neck, who survives with following children: Mrs. William Hepbron, Miss Nan Maxwell Price and Henry B. Price. Mr. Price was a member of the Presbyterian Church. He was a public spirited and liberal supporter to all enterprises which he believed were calculated to promote the moral and intellectual welfare of the county. He will be sadly missed in the business, church and social life of Kent county.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland and also the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Kent County, Md.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at one p. m. from his late home with interment at I.U.Cemetery near Lynch. Rev. S. S. Hepbron will officiate. The bearers will be Chas. R. Sharretts, J. Ernest Phillips, Howard Turner, William T. Jewell, Wm. Medders, Bayard F. Crew; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Col. Albert H. Suplee, a well-known and highly respected resident of Betterton, died at the home of his son on Thursday morning after a long illness. For many years he conducted the Idle-While Hotel of Betterton.

He was of a loving disposition, kind and true. Colonel was everybodys friend. He is survived by one son.

Funeral services will be held at 1.30 Saturday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal Church By the Bay, at Betterton, conducted by Rev. S. S. Hepbron. Interment in Still Pond Cemetery, undertaker, B. R. Fellows, Still Pond. Pall bearers, Joseph H. Warran, Jas. M. Sutton, Wm. T. Sykes, Capt. Thos. Brice, Colwell Crew, Chas. Joiner.

Mrs. Helen LeCompte, wife of Samuel LeCompte, died at her home near St. Paul's on Monday morning at 10 o'clock of pneumonia, aged 83 years. She leaves beside her husband two step children, W. B. LeCompte, and Mrs. Bedwell, also a half sister, Mrs. Annie Ayres. Funeral services were held from her late home Thursday morning at 11 a. m., conducted by Rev. G. W. Stallings interment in St. Paul's cemetery. The following will be pall bearers, Richard Hague, W. F. Leaverton, Walter Francis, Edward Bramble, Charles M. Browne and Harry Moore. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Isabelle Woodring died at her late home in Church Hill, on Sunday morning last at 6 a. m., after a long illness of complication of diseases. Aged about 73 years. She is survived by three children: Mrs. Owen B. Crow, of Chestertown; Miss Olivia Woodring, of Allentown, Pa. Funeral services were held from the home last Wednesday, at 2.30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Frye; interment at Church Hill. William H. Good, undertaker.

Rev. N. O. Gibson, pastor of Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, received the sad message on Wednesday informing him that his mother had died at the home of her son, near Philadelphia. Mr. Gibson left for that place on Thursday to attend the funeral.

PRICES FOR FARM LABOR ARE FIXED

The Smyrna-Clayton Farm Bureau has established the following scale of prices for farm labor for the year 1922:

$30 per month, house furnished man to board himself and no horse kept.

$25 per month, house furnished and horse kept, man boards himself.

$20 per month and board for single man.

$15 per month, board and horse kept.

$1 a day and board for day work.

$1.25 per day, man to board himself.

15c per hour for short-period work.

15c per hour for women doing outside work.

10c per hour for boys' short-period work.

There is to be no special work. All work will come under the same classification. According to this schedule, board represents $10 per month, horse feed represents $5 per month, or 25c per day, wood represents $2 per month or six cords. Headmen or foremen get from $5 to $15 per month extra at the discretion of the employer.

The meeting in Chestertown to fix farm labor prices was to take place last Wednesday, but was postponed on account of snow blockade.

SNOW! SNOW! SNOW!

Big Storm Blankets Kent Under Eighteen Inches Of Snow — All Roads Impassable.

Well, the snow storm came. It snowed for thirty hours beginning on Friday night, and when it stopped last Saturday night about eighteen inches was measured on the level and some drifts were twenty feet high. Fortunately no serious accidents resulted.

All the public roads were impassable for three days and the train suspended from Saturday morning until Monday afternoon. But the railroad officials, State road people, farmers and others worked day and night to break the blockade. All deserve credit for the admirable manner in which they kept on the job.

State Road Inspector Austin F. Shure had a force of 500 men on the State roads in his district digging out the State roads and farmers and men on horseback made desperate efforts to break tracks to enable traffic to get to Chestertown. Rural mail carriers made a great effort on Saturday to cover their routes, but not more than a third of any one route was traveled. The motor truck from Elkton got as far as Chestertown, but was compelled to transfer the Centreville and Easton mail to the train and return to Elkton before the blockade became so complete.

It was the worst blockade since February, 1899.

The Massey and Chestertown train was halted at Massey with 27 passengers from Saturday noon to Monday afternoon and were guests of the Pennsylvania Railroad for that period. They were well taken care of by the officials.

The Pennsylvania railroad had four or five engines and about 70 men at work on the Chestertown branch digging out the big drifts which were twenty feet high in some places.

Charles Hadaway made the trip from Rock Hall to Chestertown on Monday, being the first to get thru from the lower county.

Boat and ferry services have been entirely suspended.

A 60-foot whale was washed up on the shore at Ocean City, Md. Couldn't swim in the big snow storm, it is said, and got lost.

George P. Hendrickson, on the Eliason Fairlee farm, and a member of the Kent County Board of Election Supervisors, was overcome in the big snow storm of last Saturday on the public road near Fairlee. He was found by friends before too late and assisted to his home.

Charles E. Wood, the Quaker Neck rural carrier, takes the prize for delivering the mail during the big storm. He got as far as Quaker Neck Wharf on Saturday and made all his route except Cliff City. He made the trip in his team, but broke down on Monday in making the trip. One of his patrons, G. M. Hadaway, served him a wild duck dinner on Monday when he broke down and fixed up his team for him. The people in Quaker Neck were glad to see him. He made the trip across the fields and up private roads.

Thomas Hogan, the faithful mail driver, got caught in the snow near Fairlee on Saturday and did not get his machine out until Tuesday.

The other rural carriers from Chestertown only got out of town a short distance on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

H. Clay Lusby walked to Chestertown from lower Broad Neck over the snow banks on Monday last a distance of fourteen miles. It took him three hours to walk in town.

Very little milk was carried to the Kent county milk stations from Friday to Wednesday. This made a four days supply on hand but the milk station handled the situation very nicely.

The telephone service was not interrupted by the heavy snow, which speaks well for the excellent equipment of the Chesapeake & Potomac and its expert officials.

The telegraph service was also uninterrupted.

James G. Metcalfe, of Metcalfe Bros., the largest grain dealers in this section, is predicting a big wheat crop this year due in large degree to the heavy blanket of snow now on the land. So hope we all.

Fine sleighing has been enjoyed on the streets of Chestertown and some very fast horses were giving the many spectators interesting races.

The coasting on Washington College hill has been fine and the youngsters had a merry time.

TO BOND TOWNS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Chestertown And Rock Hall Hold Town Meetings.

Chestertown taxpayers met at Firemen's Hall on Tuesday evening last to discuss needed town improvements. The talks were all interesting and some a little spicy, but showed that Chestertown business men were determined to push the town ahead. After much discussion it was determined to ask for a bond issue of $50,000 to be voted on by the taxpayers at the spring election. Wm. B. Copper, was chairman of the meeting and George W. French, secretary. Chestertown now has a bonded indebtedness of $68,500 and it is estimated that the proposed issue of $50,000 will add about 35 cents to the tax rate. But we can't have improved pavements and streets without costing us something.

At the Rock Hall town meeting on Tuesday evening of last week a bond issue of $13,000 was voted to put in a large, up-to-date electric light plant. The assembly was addressed by Mayor Joseph Judefind and others. Immediate steps will be taken to secure the improveemnt.

Dr. Parsons, dentist, will be at Mrs. Droll"s, Rock Hall, on Feb. 7. 1t*
