Water Boy To Opera Tenor

From water-boy to Opera and Concert singer marks the span of the career of Donato Colafemina, noted tenor, who is scheduled for a concert in Chestertown, at William Smith Hall, Washington College.

Twelve years ago Colafemina came from Italy and began his life in this country as water-boy on a western railroad. In the evenings, accompanied by the harmony of his countrymen's guitars and mandolins, he delighted his co-workers with Neapolitian songs and Venetian serenades. One of the officers of the railroad, attracted by the sweetness of the boys' voice, took him to the Chicago Conservatory of Music where, under the tutelege of Mme. Gertrude Grosscup Perkins he received his entire musical education.

This gifted young singer enjoys the distinction of having sung in Grand Opera while in his teens. He also was the youngest soloist to sing under the baton of the noted Bandmaster John Philip Sousa, appearing in Carnegie Hall, New York; Fifth Armory, Baltimore; Queen's Square, Toronto; Chicago, Ill., and other prominent cities in this country and Canada. He has won enthusiastic ovations from coast to coast, and our town is fortunate in having this opportunity to hear him. 1tt

Chestertown Firemen Have $5,000 In Bonds

At a meeting of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company this week it was determined to purchase $4,000 more of bonds, making $5,000 now owned.

Thus a permanent sinking fund is established. The officials of the company have determined to create a fund somewhat similar to an endowment, the income from which will be used for the maintenance of the company.

This is a most excellent plan and shows that the Fire Company have fine business men directing its affairs.

GEORGETOWN LADY ATTACKED BY NEGRO

Miss Mary Willis, aged about 56 years, of Georgetown, was the victim of an assault on the state road, near her home Sunday morning about 9 o'clock. Willis Tiller, colored, who had been liberated from the Chestertown jail on Saturday, after having served a term of several months on the charge of resisting an officer, is the alleged assailant.

Tiller, in company with five other Negroes, went to Cecilton on Saturday night to attend a dance and on their return Sunday morning they stopped their car at the home of Miss Wallis who was just leaving the house with a water bucket to go to the well to draw water. Tiller, who was the spokesman of the crowd, asked Miss Wallis for permission to park his car in the yard.

The five Negroes in the car with Tiller left him at that point and started to walk up the State Road toward Galena, leaving Tiller in the car. When he saw Miss Wallis go up the State Road he followed her and after pursuing her a short distance overtook her and grabbed her about the waist. Miss Wallis resisted the attack of the Negro, using her water-bucket as a weapon of defence, She struck the Negro over the head with the bucket, completely covering his head with it and left him on the road and ran to the home of Capt. John Welsh nearby and gave the alarm.

Sheriff Wm. W. Goodman, of Chestertown, was notified by Capt. John Welsh and instructed Deputy Sheriff James Mulford, of Galena, to arrest the Negro. Sheriff Mulford organized a posse of men and after scouring the woods and thicket near the home of Miss Wallis succeeded in locating Tiller near the town of Galena. He was brought to Chestertown and locked in jail.

Miss Wallis was brought to the jail here Sunday for the purpose of identifying the Negro which she did without hesitation. He is being held for the action of the grand jury at the October term of court. Miss Wallis, though in a highly nervous state, as a result of her experience with the Negro, suffers no material injuries, being able to elude the attack of her assailant.

Three other negroes, Sam Washington, James Henry and James Anderson, are lodged in the lockup as State's witnesses. Leonard Houston and Harry Scott are at large but will be arrested as witnesses.

Heavy storms raging down the Maryland coast during the past three weeks, have caused the Ocean City pound fishing industry over $15,000 loss, it was stated in an interview with Captain L. D. Lynch, of Ocean City.

From Lewes, Del., to Smith's Island, Va., the storms have caused the fishermen a loss of over $100,000, Captain Lynch further declared.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN PLANNED

The newly elected Democratic State Central Committee for Kent county met in Chastertown last Saturday and organized. Mrs. Jennie B. Whalend was elected chairman, Mrs. Pricie Watson seertary, and W. B. Usilton treasurer. An active campaign will be waged for the whole Democratic ticket from top to bottom. Every Democrat is urged to register and if already on the books be sure you are in the proper voting precinct if you have moved during the last three years.

KENT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To Open Headquarters And Distribute Literature—Drive On For Additional Membership.

Kent County has a Chamber of Commerce. After several months of preliminary movements permanent organization was effected last Monday evening in the Court House.

The first move of the Chamber will be to inaugurate a drive for more members and to open headquarters.

The movement, of which the present body is an outgrowth, began in the latter part of June, when at a meeting in the Court House an organizing committee was named to spread the doctrine throughout the county. Because of the heated primary fight which was being waged at that time little or no interest was aroused.

Members of the Chamber are required to pay annual dues of $25 a year. The amount of the dues was set at $25, after some discussion as to which amount would be preferable, $25 or $10.

The meeting last Monday resulted in the naming of a Board of Directors consisting of the four officers and five other members. Thomas W. Perkins was elected as President with Ellsworth Leary as Vice President. M. deK. Smith, Jr., was chosen Treasurer, and Harry S. Russell, Secretary. The directors elected at the meeting were W. B. Copper, Paul E. Titsworth and P. Medford Brooks, of Chestertown; Howard F. Owens, of Betterton, and C. M. Melvin, of Millington.

Headquarter for the County Chamber will be opened in the Thomas W. Perkins' Building, on Court street, as soon as the necessary changes can be made in the building. Plans as outlined at the organization meeting call for a young lady clerk to be on duty at the headquarters to dispense information and distribute literature.

The Chamber hopes to issue a booklet on Kent County within a short time, and these will be sent to all who ask for information concerning the county.

Thousands of inquiries have been received at the Del-Mar-Va headquarters in Salisbury. These inquiries are turned over to the different County Chambers who then can proceed to interest the inquirers in their particular part of the Peninsula.

Accidents About Chestertown

Miss Mary Slay, sister of Ex-Senator Wm. M. Slay, of Chestertown, fell and broke her hip last Saturday at her home on Maple ave. Dr. Simpers rendered medical aid. A trained nurse is now with her and she was resting easy yesterday. Miss Slay is 85 years of age and a broken bone is a serious matter for a person of that age.

Mrs. J. P. DeCorse fell down several stair steps at her home on High street on Sunday afternoon and in addition to a bad cut on the back of the head was severely bruised and shaken up.

Miss Anna Cook Coleman fell down stairs at her home on High street and tore the ligaments of her knee.

CAUGHT LARGEST ROCK FISH OF THIS SEASON

Edwin Spurry and Clayton Larrimore caught the largest rock fish reported this season. The catch was made last Thursday and the fish taken from the Miles River, near St Michael's. The fish weighed 14¾ pounds and measured three feet in length.

Kent can beat this as rock have been caught by our fishermen which weighed as much as 40 pounds each.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE ITEMS OF NOTE

The Freshmen (Rats) have gotten their new green caps.

Both the Freshmen girls and Freshmen boys have been given their initiation degrees.

Dr. Albertus Perry, field vice president of the College, left town this week for New York.

Washington graduates recently surprised many of their undergraduate friends here at College with announcements of their weddings. Miss Lillian Smith, of Floyd, Va., member of the 1924 graduating class was married to Anthony Bischoff, Md., class of 1923. This month Miss Hilmah Touchton, who just graduated in June and Edwin Goodrich, class of 1923, were quietly married at the home of the bride.

Three large pictures, the gift of DeCoursey W. Thom, of Baltimore, were hung last week in the main corridor of William Smith Hall.

The two literary societies, Adelphia and Mt. Vernon, held their first meetings this week. The Adelphia meets every Monday evening. The campaign for new members is in full force, each society trying to outdo the other. The Mt. Vernon meets every Wednesday evening.

Busy days now at the College Bookstore. It takes many more books for the increased enrollment. And it means a whole lot of extra mail to be assorted, in fact, the student helpers are rushing. Miss Dorothy Woodall has been assisting Prof. Woodland this week.

The Y. M. C. A. have moved their club room to the basement of Middle Hall. The Association holds weekly meetings and endeavors to promote a distinctly Christian atmosphere on the campus.

Don Riley in the Evening News says, "When Jack Dunn signed Babe Ruth for his Orioles, a small kid from St. Mary's Industrial School, who had been peering into the room, declared sorrowfully: "There goes our ball club." When Bobby Cavannaugh of Washington College was injured in the second half of the second half of the Maryland-Washington game at College Park Saturday, Washington partisans could have said with equal truth: "There goes our football team."

Cavannaugh was the only Eastern Shoremen to show a thing. While he was in the game he made two-thirds of the tackles, did the punting and carried the ball a majority of times on the offensive. When he was taken from the game he was "all in." There was little wonder, for the 10 other men who surrounded him were conspicuous for their inability to shine in any department of the game."

The score was 63 to 0 and proves that our boys were unprepared for the opening. We had all green men who will greatly improve as the season progresses. Only three of last year's team played on Saturday.

Jim Chapman, of Washington College was also conspicuous in his playing. He was injured in the third quarter by a kick in throat and had to leave the game.

Jim Chapman was injured in practice game at Washington College on Thursday and taken to Easton Hospital for an X-ray.

Are you registered? Next Tuesday is the last day to register or transfer.

CANAL WILL CLOSE 2 WEEKS

The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, according to an announcement made by Col. Earl I. Brown, U. S. A., engineer in charge, will be closed to all navigation January 31, 1927, to permit the lowering from lock level to sea level. At the end of the first twowe eks in February navigation may be resumed, subject to such further interruptions as may be required from time to time, in order to put the channel in final shape and subject to the limitation of a draft of about 10 feet only.

On March 1, 1927, the canal will be regularly opened to traffic as a sea level canal, with a channel 12 feet bottom width.

KENT ON THE AIR FOR $250

If Kent county wants to be specifically mentioned in the radio concerts to be broadcast under auspices of the Del-Mar-Via Association, it will have to pay $250. These concerts are to start October 4 and continue for five weeks, from station WJZ New York city. It is doubtful if the local Chamber of Commerce will see that much advantage to Kent county to justify an expenditure of that much money.

Have you moved during the last three years? If so you need to get a transfer to your present home precinct.

Postponed Sale.—J. Raymond Bowers sale will take place next Monday, October 4th, beginning at noon. He has 16 Holstein cows besides horses and implements.

Marriage Licenses. — Raynor Matthews and Gladys Kathryn Edmundson, both of Cecil county, Md.; Robt. Wickman, of Kent county, and Marian Kelley, of Wilmington; Leroy Chase and Harriett Higgins, both of Kent county.
