Stock Turkeys FOR SALE

For 8 years Baker's Bronze Beauties have been bred, fed and cared for to produce the highest quality stock and show birds. Each year we are building up a stronger disease resistance and heavier egg laying strain. In any business you get no more than the quailty you pay for. You pay only a few dollars more for our stock than you do for stock that has been raised principally for slaughter.

We again have 1,000 birds to select from and we have had no epidemic or sickness in our four flocks. Neither did we lose 350 turkeys during a windstorm in the early summer, as some of the papers said we did.

Gobblers from $20, Pullets from $15, all well bronzed birds of large size. Have a few birds with poor colors in their feathers but just as large and as healthy as any for $15 per Gobbler and $12 for Pullets.

Four unrelated blood lines to select from.

Show Stock quoted on request.

AIRPORT TO BE OPENED TODAY

Airplanes of the Maryland National Guard, of the Chesapeake Aircraft Company of Baltimore and other visiting planes will officially open Chestertown Airport this Saturday, December 1, with an aerial demonsration starting at 2 p. m.

Races between planes flying 160 miles an hour, formation flying, stunt flying, consisting of rolls, loops, spins and upside down flying, parachute jumps and passenger carrying will officially open the first municipally operated airport in the State of Maryland.

Planes will arrive during the morning hours in formation, led by Major William D. Tipton, Commanding officer of the Maryland National Guard Air Unit at Logan Field. Spectacular flying with the most modern Army planes, operated by World War pilots who are rated the finest pilots in the country insure an interesting day for all. Those who will want the thrill of flying will be given ample opportunity to fly in the cabin and open planes of the Chesapeake Aircraft Company, before and after the big show.

While Baltimore City and other Maryland cities have been talking of Municipal Airports, farsighter citizens of Chestertown, Md., with the co-operation of officials of the Chesapeake Aircraft Company of Baltimore, selected and leased a sixty acre field on the Chestertown-Tolchester road, one mile southwest of the city limits. The building of a ticket office, fencing and grading will follow.

A committee consisting of Dr. P. E. Titsworth, President of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce, Marion deKalb Smith, Harry F. Jefferson, of the same body secured the necessary flying site from Mrs. Eleanora Lusby and C. L. Dodd, as announced in the News last week.

Major William D. Tipton, Vice-President and General Manager of the Chesapeake Aircraft Company and Albert E. Ober, Vice President of the same company, following several flights from Logan Field, selected this site as the best near Chestertown.

The Chestertown Airport will be operated under the supervision of the Chesapeake Airport Company of Baltimore, which now operate twelve planes from Logan Feld. This company is now operating a daily express and passenger line from Logan Field to the Tolchester Estates Flying Field in conjunction with the Red Star Motor Coaches, Inc. The line will be extended to Chestertown after the dedication of the airport.

Major Tipton said his company would give flying service from Chestertown to any point in America or Canada and that planes would be on hand week-days and holidays to give flights to those who would want to take short flights or aerial tours. In addition to passenger carrying the Chesapeake Aircraft Company will conduct a flying school, sell airplanes, take aerial photographs and carry on a general aircraft business at Chestertown.

W. Burris, of Milford, Del., operator of commercial trucks, will appear before a magistrate for the twenty-second time in Maryland on charges of violating the State motor vehicle laws when he will be arraigned before Magistrate Stafford on a technical charge of violation of the inter-State traffic laws relating to commercial trucks. The specific charge is that he is operating without a public service commission permit in this State.

The corner stone of the new Beacom College building was laid Tuesday at 10th and Jefferson streets, Wilmington, Del., with imposing ceremonies. J. W. Hirons, of Chestertown, is vice-president of this successful school. The News joins in congratulations.

START BRIDGE ON BAY SOON

Construction of the Chesapeake Bay bridge connecting Baltimore with the Eastern Shore will be started early in January, promoters said yesterday, in view of the approval given to their plans by the State Roads Commission.

Stuart S. Janney, attorney for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company, said that bids would be invited at once and when they are in and the cost of erection is known the matter will be submitted to rhe Public Service Commission for approval.

The present estimate of the cost is $11,000,000 for the extension from a point near Back River to a point in Kent county. The main bridge will be six and a quarter miles long, and with approaches and fills the entire length will be ten and one-tenth miles.

The bridge, it was said, will be second in length only to one over the San Francisco bay, which is now in construction and which will be the longest in the world.

The Sophomores captured the football game 26 to 6. In the poster fight, which followed the game and lasted until 6 a. m. Wednesday morning the Frosh faired better. As far as the principal streets of the town are concerned but one poster, placed by th Sophs, remans to tell the tale. This is strung across the street near the postoffice.

All night long details of Freshmen patrolled the streets of the town awaiting the placing of the posters by the Sophs, remains to tell the tale. them down. The Sophs retired early and were up at four a. m. placing the especially printed posters. As fast as the second year men would tack a poster to a pole or tree a first year student would rip it down. Just a few remain as evidence of the struggle which took place.

The first bird ever to cross the Chesapeake Bay in an airplane arrived here Sunday night in a commercial plane when a canary in a cage, sent by a Baltimore department store, was delivered to Miss Anna Cooke Coleman. The trip from Logan Field, Baltimore, was made in nineteen minutes.

Members and friends of the 4-H Boys' Calf Club of Kent County were guests at a banquet given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Earle Nicholson, at their country home near here recently.

County Agent Horace B. Derrick, who is the moving spirit in boys' club work in the county, gave an interesting resume of the proceedings of the annual convention of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association in Philadelphia, and stressed the important phases of the work which that association has in mind for the development of the dairy industry on the Peninsula.

Four Queen Anne's County veteran wild-fowl hunters left Friday morning for a lengthy automobile trip to the east coast of North Carolina, where they will engage in several days sport in pursuit of wild geese and brandt. Those making the journey inlude E. S. Valliant and J. Olin Pippin, of Centreville; E. Carville Tolson and Walter Denny, of Stevensville.

HIRAM BROWN HEAD OF RADIO

Hiram S. Brown, a Chestertown boy, and head of Washington College, has been elected President of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation. This company has assets of $71,000,000. Mr. Brown has resigned as President of the U. S. Leather Co. He was selected as head of this big company because he was an unusual man with exceptional constructive and administrative ability.

All Staunton's friends send congratulations and best wishes for his continued success.

WEDDINGS

Frank E. Duyer announces the marriage of his daughter, Maude Eugenia, to Hope B. Hudson, of Perry, N. Y., Saturday, November 24th, 1928, at Brooklyn, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert H. Carson, pastor of Grace Presbterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Carles H. Davis, of Rock Hall and Baltimore, announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise M. to Gustav Taborsky on Saturday evening, November 24th, 1928, at 8.30 o'clock p. m. At home 816 N. Montford avenue, Baltimore, after November 27th.

Mrs. Phonnie Toulson announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary, to Lloyd J. Bryant, of Portsmouth, Va., which took place at Elkton, on Monday, November 26th. The couple will reside in Baltimore and at home after December 3rd.

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday, November 21st, 1928, when Miss Alice D. Krafft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Krafft, of Baltimore, became the bride of J. Walter Joiner.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Wade, pastor of the Holy Comforter Lutherian Church.

Miss Helen Waltz, an intimate friend of the bride, and S. Founton Joiner, brother of the groom, were the only attendants.

Mr. Joiner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Joiner, of Rock Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Joiner will make their home in Woodlawn, Baltimore county, Md.

Miss Mary Crossley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crossley and Thomas Mann, of Betterton, were quietly married at North East Saturday, Nov. 17. They will make their home in Still Pond, where the groom is engaged in business.

Old Shrewsbury P. E. Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, November 24, when Miss Anne Elizabeth Crow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rankin Crow became the bride of Edgar Lusby Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Z. Lusby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert W. Lewis, former rector, assisted by Dr. S. S. Hepburn.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father entered the Church on his arm and met the groom at the altar. She wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with Orange Blossoms. Her veil of rare old point lace and tulle fell from a coronet of Lilies of the Valley. She carried Bridal Roses and Lilies of the Valley.

F. Howard Hedger, of Brooklyn, N. Y., played the Wedding March. Miss Mary E. Comegys, of Wilmington, Del., a cousin of the bride was maid of honor and wore a gown of green taffta and tulle, she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The flower girls were Miss Rebecca Crow, a sister of the bride and Miss Margaret Bell. They wore dresses of pink crepe and tulle sashes. Carried old fashion bouqets. Mr. James Z. Lusby, Jr., was his brother's best man and the ushers were Bruce Dukes. Gerald Myers, Francis E. Yeoman and Wm. Rankin Crow, Jr.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by friends of the bride. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Prospect Hill, after which the couple left for a wedding trip.

The young couple have a large circle of friends and much entertaining has been done i ntheir honor. The presents were numerous and costly.

DECEMBER 12TH IS OLD KRIS DAY

Of all the magical, joyous and jolly dates on Kent County's calendar of happy holidays there is not one that looms larger than that selected this week by Chestertown merchants and business men.

It will be Wednesday, December 12—and the occasion will be Kent County's Annual Santa Claus Day celebration.

The jolly old gentleman will arrive at 11 a. m., and a parade is being planned by the mercantile section of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee consists of M. E. Newsome, Carle N. Bordley and W. P. Newnam. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are offered for the best float depicting Christmas. No float will be recognized competing unless oppropriately decorated.

Santa Claus will head the parade which will terminate at Public Square where gifts will be given each child. Come in and enjoy the day.

C. H. S. TRIMS HURLOCK

The Girls' Field Ball Team of the Chestertown High School advanced a peg nearer the Shore and State title when o nMonday they defeated the girls of Hurlock High, 6 to 0. The Chestertown girls, in defeating Hurlock, did something that had not been accomplished by another opponent in five years.

By winning over Hurlock the Chestertown lassies were swept into the Eastern Shore finals. They will meet a school team from one of the lower Shore counties next week for the right to battle the Western Shore winners for the championship.

The title tilts in both soccer and field ball will be played on the Eastern Shore this year and it is likely that they will be held on the Washington College athletic field as in other years when the finals were held on this side of the bay.

"King of Kings" now showing at the Lyceum is one of the most impressive pictures ever presented here. It will be put on at a matinee today and tonight.

The lecturer next Monday night will be Mr. Vautier and he will likely have some items of world-wide interest. It will be the second on the programs arranged by the Chestertown Literary Society.

SUNDAY, DEC. 2ND, IS GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

Next Sunday, Dec. 2nd, is Golden Rule Sunday.

Golden Rule Sunday is the day when the whole world unites in one Brotherhood—sits at a common table—eats a simple meal and makes a donation to help give a final lift to 32,000 orphans still under care of the Near East Relief.

This coming Golden Rule Sunday is especially important as the center for campaigns all over the United States which are part of the National Campaign to raise $6,000,000 to finish the work of the Near East Relief.

The people of Maryland are asked to make this coming Golden Rule Sunday the greatest of all to help the National Campaign by raising the State quota.

Send donations to Potomac Division Headquarters, 1334 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C.

UNION SERVICES

As has been a custom for a number of years, the Methodist Protestant and Methodist Episcopal congregations united in a special Thanksgiving service on Thursday morning.

The service was held in the M. E. Church and a special sermon was delivered by Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, pastor of the M. P. Church. The vested choir of the M. E. Church rendered special music.

Special services were also conducted in Emmanuel P. E. Church by the rector, Rev. Charles L. Atwater.

FIRE DESTROYED BUILDING

The horse and cow stables, sheds, fodder and straw ricks, and a few implements were totally destroyed by fire on the farm of Curtis C. Price, near Warwick, Md, Tuesday evening. The fire companies from Middletown, Odessa, Millington and Chesapeake City responded. Through their efforts the dwelling was saved fr... destruction.
