SOCIAL EVENTS AROUND KENT

Rev. and Mrs. John White were at home to their parishioners and friends on New Year's Day from 4 to 6 in keeping with their annual custom. The rectory was beautifully decorted with holly and mistletoe and was the meeting place of many people from all sections of the County who came to greet the rector and his family. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. White in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. J. Purdham Wright, of Baltimore, who spent the day with the White's. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. White are sisters and through their frequent visits to Fairlee Mr. and Mrs. Wright have made many friends in Kent. Miss Jane White poured and was assisted by members of the younger set of two of Mr. White's parishes, Miss Emily Skirven and Miss Florence Skirven, of Fairlee, and Miss Eloise Hepbron and Miss Elizabeth Hepbron of Worton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tilden Brice, Jr., gave a New Year's party in honor of their nephew, Charles Humphreys, of Virginia Military Insitute, who is spending the holidays here, and their neice, Miss Barbee Humphreys. Young men and women from Chestertown present were: Misses Helen Smith, Elizabeth Walbert, Ellen Ziezel, Nancy Jean Usilton, Katherine Nickerson, Ruth Brice, Dorothy Vickers, Ann Kreeger, Patience Pyle, Lucille Rasin Priscilla Granger and Messrs. Paul Pippin, Frederick Usilton, Robert Huey, Davis Ford, Paul Massey, Edgar Massey, Frank Hines, Jr., Scott Beck, Jr., Harry Fallowfield, Norman Sutton, Albert Nicholson, Joe White, William Kirkbride, Aldie Clements, Morris Bramble.

The New Year's dance given by the Chester River Yacht and Country Club was held in the club house near town on Monday evening. Dancing was from 9.30 p. m., until 2 a. m. Favors were distributed at midnight to help welcome the New Year. Several hundred persons attended the affair. The patronesses were Mrs. Allan A. Harris, Mrs. Edward V. Clark, Mrs. A. T. H. Harper, Mrs. S. Scott Beck, Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll, Mrs. T. H. Moyer, Mrs. L. W. Wickes, Mrs. Paul Comegys, Mrs. H. C. Hughes, Mrs. H. A. Kratzer, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mrs. C. A. Stern, Mrs. W. H. Truslow and Mrs. C. C. Ingraham. The arrangements for the dance were in the hands of the House Committee of which Thomas W. Perkins is chairman. Other members of the committee are E. Bonwill Dukes, Rolph Townshend, Wilbur W. Hubbard, Dr. H. C. Hughes and Morris Keene Barroll.

Two parties were given here as a part of the New Year's celebration, for the younger social set. The Chester River Yacht Club was the scene of a ball on Wednesday week which was attended by young men and women from the upper Delmarva Eastern Shore counties as well as from large nearby cities. Young men of this town arranged the affair and William Collins was chairman of the arrangements committee. Music was furnished by the "Sudlersvillians" of Sudlersville and the patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. E. Bonwill Dukes, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Ringgold Strong. The following were present: Misses Betty Lowndes, Baltimore; Peggy Gill and Virginia Jones, New York; Catherine Beck, Ann Welch, Helen Tyler, Geraldine Harwood, Mary Simpers, Katherine Ford, Elizabeth Dukes, Louise Simpers, Elizabeth Trew, Dorothy Woodall, Cecil Evans, Anna Cooke Coleman, Rachel Willis and Kitty Hurlock all of Chestertown; Hilda Wilson, Easton; Edith Jones and Miriam Shriver, Cambridge; Mary Nuttle, Martha Goldsborough, Bernice Wooters and Addie Nuttle, Denton; Marian Rosin, Galena; Virgina Walls, of Price; Marie Hill and Gertrude Eskridge, Dover; Florence Anthony, of Still Pond; Edith Horsey, of Middletown; Betty Sutton, of Kennedyville, and Messrs. David McMenamin, of Newark; John Townshend, Irving Brown, John Owens, Wm. B. Usilton, 3rd, Harry S. Russell, Skirven Startt, William Collins, Sterling Townshend, Frederick Dumschott, James Chapman and Ridgely Brown, all of Chestertown; Claude Worrell, Baltimore; William Medders, Still Pond; Stanley Giraitis, Hartford, Conn.; Harry Wilson, Ingleside; Eric Wood, Washington; Charles Jarman and Charles [illegible] Church Hill; Philip Insley and [illegible]dith Nichols, Cambridge; Jed [illegible]ch, Galena; James Regan and [illegible] Johnson, Easton; Comegys Van[illegible], Greensboro; Horace Wheeler, [illegible]erton; Hugh Clark, S. Redden, E. [illegible]k, Orman Andrews, and Elias [illegible]tle, Denton.

Miss Elizabeth Brown entertained a number of friends at a dinner party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Brown here on New Year's night.

Misses Catherine Baker and Janice Atwater entertained at a party during the holidays.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Dudley, 1413 John Sstreet, Baltimore, have announced the marriage of the latter's sister, Miss Rose Comegys, to Mr. Thomas R. Emory, of Mt. Airy, on December 29th.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moffitt, in Broad Neck, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday evening, December 27th, 1928, when their popular daughter, Mary Elizabeth, became the bride of C. Howell Crew.

At the appointed hour, to the sweet strains of Mendelsohn's March played by Miss Carrie Lipscomb, the prospective bride-groom proceeded to the beautifully decorated altar, attended by Miss Arsula Moffitt as maid-of-honor, and Franklin Moffitt as best man, the Rev. Marker or St. James Church pronounced them husband and wife. Preceeding the ceremony Miss Virginia Lee gowned in blue velvet sang most sweetly, O Promise Me.

The bride was charmingly gowned in blue crepe while her going away costume was in brown. The maid-of-honor looked her sweetest in tan georgette.

After a most sumptuous repast served to the many guests, the happy couple left for their home the H. C. Willis farm, where the groom is engaged in farming. The numerous costly presents proclaimed the popularity of the couple.

A long, happy and prosperous life is the wish of their many friends.

The names of two Wilmington residents appeared on the list of those married here Monday by the Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Corkran, at the M. E. Church parsonage here: Thomas Dempsey, 21, of Marshallton, to Miss Elva Parrady, 18, of Wilmington, and John W. Darrell, 26, Wilmington, to Miss Lida M. Swain, 24, of Clayton.

Among the other weddings noted are these: William Price, 20, and Frank Rousch, Jr., 28, of Townsend, Del., and Margaret A. Reed, 18, of Golts; John J. Anton, 25 and Alice C. Johnston, 21, Golts.

76 marriage licenses were issued in November here as against 69 for June. September and December each totaled 69. March, with 29, was the month with the fewest licenses.

A total of 702 licenses were issued at the local bureau during the year of 1928 and all previous records were broken. The highest total for the 12 month period prior to 1928 was that of 1927 when 687 permits to wed were granted.

The licenses as by months for 1928 were January 46; February 46; March 29; April 60; May 56; October 60; November 76; December 69.

Miss Margaret L. Isley, who has been a director of religious education for Galena, Millington and Sudlersville group of churches for the last two years, will marry Clarence H. De Mar, marathon runner, next summer.

Miss Ilsley said Mr. DeMar, whom she has known for several years, also was interested in religious work, having taught a Bible class in Melrose for some years. He also has spoken from many New England pulpits.

In 1926 and 1927 he led fields of internationally known runners over the finish line of the annual Laurel to Baltimore race.

He has won the Boston marathon five times, and has represented the United States three times in the Olympics.

He is 45 years old and has been competing in distance running events for many years.

Jimmy Foxx, catcher and utility player of the Philadelphia Athletics became a married man last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Foxx, before her marriage was Miss Helen Heite, of Dover. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend L. P. Corkran at the parsonage in Church Hill. After the wedding the bride and groom attended the alumni dance of the Centreville High School in that town. When they entered the ball room friends, who knew of the ceremony, notified the ochestra and the wedding march was played.

Besides being one of the valuable members of Connie Mack's "A's" Foxx is the proprietor of a prosperous dairy farm near Sudlersville, his home town.

MISS MCDORMAN ON THE STAGE

The Baltimore Sun of Sunday contained a cut of Miss Dorothy McDorman.

Miss McDorman is the great grandaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Littleton Duer, of this city. Her mother was before her marriage, Miss Stella Crew, of Betterton, Md., whose parents were Mr. and Mrs. James Crew, Mrs. Crew being, before her marriage, Miss Dora Duer.

Miss McDorman's father was Mr. Alfred T. McDorman, of Somerset county, who died some years ago, leaving a family of six young children, the youngest Esther having been only ten days old. All these children have exhibited varied talents, and Miss Dorothy's prominence in theatrical performance occasioned the publicity given her by the Sun. She is taking a leading part in the play entitled, "The Marquise," which is now completing its second week at the Vagabound theatre in Baltimore. Her work is highly praised. She is of the brunette type of beauty, possesses a wonderful fund of animation, and seems destined to make her mark in the legitimate drama.

Another talented young number of the McDorman family is Donald, aged 11. The Baltimore Sun of Jan. 9, contained the following:

"Edmund S. Ender, organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's Church, and a member of the faculty of Peabody Conservatory, announces as the program for St. Paul's Choir today, Maurer's Penitence, with Donald McDorman, boy soprano, as the featured soloist. This young singer, who is about 11, is heard regularly at St. Paul's has a voice that has been enthusiastically commented upon by everyone who has heard him and displays an aptitude for musical application and appreciation that gives distinction to his singing."

Perhaps young McDorman inherits some of his voice talent from his father's family. Mr. E. Rigby McDorman, an uncle, has a wonderful baritone voice and is prominent among the musical circles of Baltimore City.

Mrs. Alfred McDorman took as a second husband a Mr. Grove, a large stockholder in the Errickson line of steamers plying between Baltimore and Philadelphia through the Chesapeake and Delaware canal. Mr. Grove has since died. Mrs. Grove is a resident of Betterton where she has a beautiful home on one of the high bluffs overlooking the Chesapeake.—Worcester Democrat.

OFF FOR FLORIDA

Ridgely and Irven Brown and Wm. Collins left Chestertown Thursday in their Chevrolet Sedan for a two months trip to Florida and other points in the South.

Howard N. Baldwin also left here on Thursday by auto to spend the winter in Florida.

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company is sponsoring a bill which will shortly be introduced in the State Legislature which provides for the maintenance of all fire companies in the smaller towns of the State. The bill provides for the levying of a tax of two per cent on insurance companies doing business in the State Firemen's Association and numerous fire insurance companies. By this means it is hoped to discontinue the carnival method of maintaining the fire company.

Mrs. M. A. Tull, of Betterton, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Grace May Tull, to Mr. Frank Whitehouse, of Baltimore, on January 1st, 1929.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Oscar Olson, of Mt. Vernon M. E. Church, Baltimore, Md., at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles H. Elzey, 524 Nottingham Road, Ten Hills.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of the M. E. Church, in Chestertown, when Miss Gladys M. Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fleming, of Church Hill, became the bride of Alton B. Scott, also of Church Hill, Dr. Corkran officating.

The bride was attired in a costume of hydrangea blue satin back crepe with light slippers, and wore hat and gloves to correspond. The bride is a graduate of Church Hill High School and of Maryland State Normal School. For three years she taught at Ingleside School.

Mr. Scott is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Scott, of Price. The couple will reside at Church Hill where Mr. Scott is engaged in business.

COLLEGE OPENS MONDAY

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College, announces the postponement of the opening of the college from the Christmas holidays to noon on Monday, January 7.

The reason for the postponement of the opening is the great spread of theflu in some of the lower sections of the Shore. Meanwhile the Washington basket ball squad is working out daily under Coach Kibler and will go through with the regular scheduled games. They played the Penn Athletic Club at Philadelphia last night.

Dr. R. G. Beachley, local health officer, said that he was not advocating the closing of the schools in this section of the Shore where the flu, as yet, has not become widespread.

WATERMEN MEET AT ROCK HALL

The Watermen's Protective Association of Rock Hall, which reorganized at a meeting held in Rock Hall last week, held a get-together meeting in Church Hall, Rock Hall, Saturday night.

The purpose of the meeting was to secure from the watermen of Kent county a free expression of their interests as well as for the best interests of the conservation of the state. Leading citizens of the county met with the watermen and expressed themselves freely upon problems affecting the interests of the fishermen and oystermen of the county, many of which will develop into bills for passage in the session of the Legislature which convened Tuesday.

Two years ago this association wielded a powerful influence in shaping legislation affecting the welfare of the fishermen of the county, especially the pursenetters, against whom an organized fight was made to repeal the present law permitting pursenetting in the upper Chesapeake bay, and it is quite probable that the forces of the association will be pressed into service during the next session because of the many bills affecting the interests of the watermen which seemed destined to consume considerable time in both the House and Senate.

MUSICAL COMEDY

The musical comedy, "Here Comes Arabella," to be staged in the old Lyceum Theatre the nights of January 15 and 16, will not be one of the strictly musical shows such as have been produced here during the last several years but will he a three-act play presenting an interesting and appealing plot which will hold the attention of the audience from beginning to end. The attractive chorus of talented singers and dancers to be a feature of the production will act as a background against which the plot will unfold, Miss Yvonne Page, of Atlanta, who is directing rehearsals, said today.

The show, to be given for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers Association of Chestertown Elementary School, will present a number of human types not usually portrayed by an amateur cast such as is now being assembled from available local talent. About fifty young men and women of the town will compose the cast and are being especially selected for their parts.

Special choruses of eight little girls and of about ten young ladies will support the cast with specialty dancing and singing. There will be an augmented orchestra. Mrs. David B. Ford is in charge of the cast while Mrs. Thomas Massey is chairman of the show committee.

DR. TITSWORTH RE-ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce was held in the Court House Thursday evening. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth was re-elected president; I. Frank Huey, of Massey, vice-president; Clarence Newsome, secretary; C. C. Jones, treasurer; Mrs. C. Nell Westcott, executive secretary; directors, Mrs. Evalyn Harris, Harold M. Baker, Conyln E. Noland, Medford Brooks, W. B. Copper, W. G. Smyth, G. Ellsworth Keary, Marion deK. Smith, H. [illegible]erson, Dr. H. B. Simmons.

SOME TIMELY ADVICE TO AVOID INFLUENZA

Avoid crowds—and in particular avoid anyone with a cold or who is coughing or sneezing.

Avoid overeating—especially meats and rich foods. Avoid excesses of all kinds.

Exercise in the open air each day. If your work is confining take a long walk.

Get plenty of sleep — those who are tired out or in a run-down condition are particularly susceptible to influenza.

Keep feet dry and warm and avoid drafts. Unequal exposure —feet cold and other parts of body warm—lowers resistance.

Keep bowls open. Constipation is conducive to colds and colds may lead to influenza.

If you do contract a cold, see a doctor at once and follow his advice.

Do not take drugs except on the advice of a physician.

And don't worry.

B. F. RASH GETS FARM AWARD

County Agent Horace B. Derrick has nominated Benjamin F. Rash, one of the leading farmers and fruit growers in this county for the Master Farmer award for Maryland, which honor is to be given by the Pennsylvania Stockman and Farmer.

The award will be in the nature of an inscribed diploma which will set forth the the various distinctions for which it is given. Mr. Rash is regarded as an authority on apple culture, and until the yellows destroyed peach trees was one of the most successful peach growers on the peninsult. He is a member of the Peninsula Horticultural Society, and owns one of the most productive farms in Kent county.

He is also a member of the Kent County Farm Bureau and of the State Farm Federation and will take an active part in the annual convention of the Federation to be held in Baltimore on January 8 and 9.

BALTIMORE's NEW HOTEL

Baltimore's new hotel, Lord Baltimore, on the site where the old Caswell hotel stood at the corner of Baltimore and Hanover streets, opened last Saturday night.

The president of the company is Harry S. Busick, a former Chestertown boy.

A few facts about the hotel are:

Covers area of 18,000 square feet at Baltimore and Hanover streets.

Has 700 rooms, each with bath and shower. The rates are $3.50 and up.

Every guest room equipped with radio earphones.

One entire floor given over to salesmen as sample rooms.

Five high-speed elevators for use of guests only.

Convention hall occupying entire third floor, will be the banquet hall. It accommodates 1,250 at a banquet or approximately double that number as an auditorium. A balcony holds 300 additional.

The banquet or convention hall is accessible from the street via four stairways. It is available for exhibitions also.

In addition to the dining rooms the hotel has a cafeteria, grill and coffee shop. The cafeteria is equipped to serve 3,000 persons daily and the grill accommodates 350 at one time.

Beauty and barber shops are operated by a large company.

A social center is established and a hostess engaged to develop card parties and other gatherings in the private dining rooms.

Above the roof is a tower having four floors, which contain the service room, telephone switchboards, carpenter shop, lockers for the laundry help, exhaust fan and elevator machinery and water tanks. On a mansard roof over this is located radio equipment.

Atop the tower is placed a revolving searchlight of 100,000 or more candle-power, which will be the Air Mail Beacon for Baltimore.

A movement looking to the inauguration of a week day school of religious instruction was held in Chestertown Thursday. A large group of teachers and others will be held at Christ M. P. Church Friday evening January 18th, to be followed by public meeting later in the year. It is hoped to start the school [illegible] september.
