MONEY HOLDS UP BRIDGE

Unless financing of the proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge, from near Bay Shore to a point in Kent county, near Tolchester, can be accomplished this fall, the project man not be carried out at this time.

Although abandonment of the program is not considered at present, persons closely identified with the project said the condition of the bond market within the next few months probably would decide future moves.

One authority said the bond market had been bad for several months and with money bringing 10 to 12 per cent. for speculative purposes, the public was not purchasing 5 per cent bonds. The underlying bonds on the proposed span, it was said, have been disposed of, but between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 of preferred stock must be sold before the bridge, according to a bill signed by President Coolidge in April, 1928, were given until April of this year to begin actual construction. The bill also provided that the project must be completed in three years.

Some work already has been done on the Miller Island side of Bay Shore. This has been considered by officers of the company as fulfilling a condition made in the franchise from the State, which required the work to be started by March 31 this year.

The last Legislature authorized a subsidy of $70,000 to the company provided the bridge was completed and open to traffic in the fiscal year of 1931. This was done, it was said, to assure financial underwriting of the bridge.

In addition to the subsidy, the State has agreed to spend $450,000 of the general road construction loan to build roads leading to the bridge.

Governor Ritchie said Sunday he had heard the company was having difficulty in floating its securities, but said he had not discussed the matter with officers of the company for several weeks. The Governor said he also had heard the completion of the project depended on the condition of the bond market during the next few months.

The bridge company was incorporated November 22, 1926. The bridge proposal met with general approval, the only objectors being Philadelphians, whose commerce with the Eastern Shore might be hurt by a quick access from that area to Baltimore. The saving in distance over the present route around the head of the Chesapeake Bay by way of Elkton would vary from forty to seventy-three miles for practically all of the Maryland and Virginia section of the peninsula and a saving of twenty-one miles for most of Delaware, except Wilmington and the northern end of the State.

The original design for the bridge met with opposition from the Federal Government, which stated the structure would interfere with activities at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. These objections later were withdrawn and approval granted by the United States army engineers and Navy Department.

The, bridge costing $11,000,000, would be the longest of its kind in the world, with the exception of the San Francisco Bay bridge. The main bridge would be six miles long. Including approaches, the total distance would be ten and a tenth miles.

Those close to the men who are backing the proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge, from Bay Shore to a point in Kent county, near Tolchester, ridicule the suggestion that the plans for the bridge may be abandoned.

One man, who has been closely in touch with the project since it was first undertaken, said:

"It appears to me that any suggestion that the bridge may not be built is entirely without authority. So far as I know and believe, the business will go right ahead in the fall."

MEETING OF TURKEY GROWERS WEDNESDAY

The Maryland Turkey Growers Association of Kent County, together with the County Agricultural Agents McVean and Miller, have called a meetingof everyone interested in turkey growing in Kent County for Wednesday, September 11 at 1.30 p. m., at the Court House. Speakers from the State Department of Markets and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics will address the meeting in regard to the marketing and grading of the county turkey crop.

At the meeting Wednesday the date of the annual turkey tour will be set. All farmers are urged to be present.

SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT MONDAY

The Kent county public schools, both high and elementary, will open Monday, Sept. 9th.

At Rock Hall and Galena the elementary pupils will enter new school buildings.

At the Chestertown High School partitions have been built to make additional rooms for the ever increasing enrollment due to the high school centralization plan and two additional teachers have been appointed to this school, viz., Prof. Harry Pool and Miss Louise Startt, both graduates of Washington College.

SEMI-ANNUAL DINNER OF CHAMBER IN ROCK HALL

Contrary to its usual custom, the Kent County Chamber of Commerce will hold its semi-annual dinner and get-together outside of Chestertown. The ladies of Wesley Chapel near Rock Hall, will serve one of their sea-food dinners in the Parish House for the Chamber on Thursday evening, September 19th at 7.30 p. m. Non-members, as well as members, are invited to attend.

The decision on the part of the Chamber to hold such a meeting in the lower part of the county is in keeping with following out an idea that has been growing for some time among the members and the Board of Directors and it is expected that at least one of the two membership meetings of each year will be held in an outlying section of the county.

The Chamber is county-wide in its work and interests and in its membership and for that reason it has been thought wise to make various sections of the county centers for such meetings.

President Paul E. Titsworth, of Washington College, who had been spending the month of August with his family in Alfred, N. Y., has returned, and is arranging the dates for the annual Summer Conference for Rural Ministers, for the annual Freshman Week which begins September 17 and for the opening of the Fall term of college on September 23. Dean J. S. W. Jones, of the faculty, states that this year's Freshman class will be the largest in the history of the college, and the number of girl students who will matriculate will be above last year's total. Hormal Hall, the girl's dormitory, is being remodelled and made double its former capacity in order to accommodate the large enrollment of girls expected to report for Freshman Week.

DAMAGE CASE IS REMOVED

A suit for $25,000 damages brought by Mrs. Mabel S. Baker, of Baltimore, mother of the late Miss May Appler, of Baltimore, against the Board of Town Commissioners of Chestertown, has been removed from the Kent County Court to Elkton for trial at the September term of the Circuit Court, which will convene on September 16th.

On July 20, 1928, Miss Appler, accompanied by her sister and two friends, was on her way to Grasonville, Queen Anne's county, to visit relatives. In rounding a sharp turn in the Washington avenue highway at about 3 o'clock in the morning, the car upset throwing the occupants to the stone road.

Miss Appler received injuries from which she died shortly after being admitted to Easton Hospital.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that the accident was caused by the manner in which a manhole was constructed in the street and that the street was not properly lighted when the accident occurred.

Harrison W. Vickers, Jr., of Chestertown, and Wm. Pepper Constable, of Baltimore and Elkton, will represent the town commissioners, while Joseph H. A. Ragon and L. Wethered Barroll, of Baltimore, will represent the plaintiff.

BEAUTIFYING THE PARK

The various organizations of Chestertown are sponsoring a movement to beautify the Park which has become unsightly. In order to do this about $100 is needed. Contributions of any amount is acceptable. Send to R. H. Collins, Jr., treasurer. Do it now as work is to be commenced at once.

BIDS ASKED FOR CHESTER BRIDGE

Approval having been given Tuesday by the War Department for the construction of the proposed Chester river bridge, bids for the contract will be advertised by the State Roads Commission within a week, Harry D. Williar, Jr., chief engineer of the commission, said. The bids, he said, would be received by the commission early in October .

The bridge will be more than 1,400 feet in length and sixty feet wide where it crosses the channel. It will replace an old timber bridge which has been used for many years. It will cross the river from Maple avenue, Chestertown.

OLD FIDDLER'S CONTEST

Tonight the usual big Saturday night dance will be held at the Casino in Betterton and crowds of Kent and Queen Anne's countians are expected to trip the light fantastic to the strains of Alderson's Orchestra.

Next week a prize dance will be held Monday night, at which interesting awards will be made, and the regular German will be staged Wednesday night. The feature of the week will be a special contest for old fashioned fiddlers of Cecil, Kent and Queen Anne's counties and upper Delaware communities following which a committee of judges will present first and second gold money awards. The contest will follow a regular dance.

Fiddlers of all sizes and ages are being invited to attend this colorful event and take part in the prize competition. Efforts are being made to unearth unknown artists who have hitherto hidden their light under a bushel and all others of like ilk as well as well-known fiddlers are being invited to participate.

This promises to be one of the most diverting events of the season.

The resort is remaining open at least until September 15th and maybe longer, it was announced this week, and Eastern Shore residents and holiday seekers are continuing to drive there for the series of events being staged at the Casino. Moving pictures and other amusements are going full blast this month.

An automobile belonging to Preston Crowding, local insurance agent, was taken from its garage on Kent street last Friday evening and found several hours later in a wrecked condition on College avenue. Investigation disclosed that the car had struck a post on College avenue near the Methodist church. No clues as to the identity of the thief have been discovered. Mr. Crowding resides near the garage where the car was kept.

Queen Anne's county's eighth annual Horse Show will be held this year at Spring Garden, the farm of John W. Perry, near Centreville, on Defender's Day, Thursday, Sept. 12. It is expected that an especially attractive group of entries will participate in the show.

Pine Forest Camp located on Chester river, near Crumpton, closed last week after a successful season. This was the first year for this popular girls' camp which is under the supervision of Miss Ethel E. Coleman, a well known school teacher of Queen Anne's county. Following the departure of the girls for their homes, Miss Coleman entertained a number of her friends at an enjoyable bridge party Thursday before closing the camp. The guests were Miss Peggy Yarnell, Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Everett, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Monteith, of Pittsburgh, Miss Polly Coleman, Mrs. Holt Wright, Mrs. Carlton Goslin and Miss Amanda Roe, of Sudlersville; Mrs. Page, of Chestertown; Miss Helen Graham, of Barclay and Miss Ann Fallowfield Coursey, of Price.

The season for catching oysters in the Chesapeake Bay and Chester river opened Monday under favorable conditions for a successful season. Kent county oystermen made a preliminary examination of the oysters on the famous Swan Point and Chester river bars state that the supply is plentiful and the condition of the bivalves is excellent. The office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court here has issued a few oyster licenses and about the usual number of watermen will engage in the industry. With good prices there is indication of a prosperous season. men will engage in the industry. With good prices there is every indication of a prosperous season.

Miss Shriver graduated at Washington College in 1928. Prof. Dumschott is a member of the Washington College faculty and is also graduate manager of Athletics at Washington College. Prof. Dumschott was a star basket ball player having been a member of Tom Kibler's "Flying Pentagon" for several years. They will be at home at Washington College October 1st, where they have an apartment.

MINISTER FAINTS AS HE CLOSES SERVICE

Rev. Wilbur F. Corkran, of Seaford, former pastor of Chestertown M. E. Church, who filled the pulpit of Delmar M. E. Church on Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. H. Dashiell, fainted at the close of the service just as he pronounced the benediction following the delivering of the sermon.

Dr. Corkran's fainting was due to an attack of acute indigestion. He was given medical aid by Dr. H. E. Lecates who was in the congregation.

A few weeks ago, while Dr. Corkran was filling the pulpit at his church his wife fell down stairs of the parsonage as he was preparing to go to the church and broke her ankle and had to be carried to the Peninsula Hospital for treatment.

NEW HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Dr. Gertrude V. Ingalls, of Gunnison, Colorado, has been selected by Washington College to head the Department of English in place of Prof. Robert L. Lasley, who goes to Morris Harvey College in West Virginia as Dean and Professor of English.

Dr. Ingalls is a native of Utah, a member of the Episcopal Church, a graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio and Doctor of Philosophy from Yale University. She won honors in English at Oberlin thereby gaining a prize fellowship from that institution for study at Yale.

She taught three years in elementary school in Nevada and eight years as English instructor in the Salt Lake City High School. For two years she occupied the rank of associate professor of English in the University of Utah and for the past year she has been head of the Department of English at Western State College, Gunnison, Colorado.

Dr. Ingalls has shown herself to be a thorough scholar, a hard worker and an unusual teacher. Washington is fortunate in securing her.

Miss Virginia Brice, daughter of George Brice, who is master of hounds of the Far Hills Hunt Club, N. J., and former resident here, has bought from John Gadd, of Sudlersville, his hunting-horse, Twitter, for $1,000. The steed, recent winner of jumping and running events at the Kent county horseshow, will become a member of the stables of the Peapack Hunt Club, N. J., of which Miss Brice is a member.

KENT'S BOYS' FINE SHWOING

The Kent County 4-H Club Boys made a fine showing this week in the various competitions at the State Fair. Kent boys were second to Harford in the Judging Contest. Competition was very keen. Norman Sutton ranked 6th, Albert Nicholson 10th and Albert Sutton 13th among about 40 contestants. Kent's boys were very consistent in their placings and this consistency was responsible for their winning second place. Norman Sutton was high man in judging the Guernseys, while Albert Nicholson was 4th in Ayrshires judging. They won $20 and $5 respectively.

Montgomery county's team ranked 3rd, Baltimore county, 4th, and Frederick 5th.

Albert Sutton won 6th place with his Guernsey heifer in a strong class. The Holstein results are not available at this writing.

Ten Kent county boys have spent a busy but very instructive week at the Fair. The boys and the truck load of calves are expected home on the Friday afternoon ferry.

The Chestertown Banks financed the shipment of the calves to and from the Fair.

2ND REGATTA GRAND SUCCESS

Beautiful Scene On The Chester River Near Chestertown—Country Club House Center Of Interest—Golf And Tennis Matches—Ideal Weather And Fine Attendance.

Everything seemed to conspire to make the second annual regatta of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club a great event on Labor Day. No prettier course could have been chosen and scores of persons watched the races from vantage points on either side of the Chester. There were yachts from Baltimore, Centreville, Claiborne, St. Michaels, Easton and Elkton.

The competition in the race for the Chesapeake Bay log sailing canoes proved so keen that the Chestertown entry, the Island Blossom, owned by Stanley B. Evans, of Elkton, and sailed by a Chester river crew, outdid themselves, ending in the river with their boat overturned.

Island Blossom came to grief at the outer turning buoy far down the river and out of sight of the spectators who missed, as a result, the spectacle of Dr. William H. Wilmer, of Philadelphia, and Eben F. Perkins, Thomas W. Perkins, Philip G. Wilmer, Jr., and Capt. H. Clay Brown, all of Chestertown, swimming their captized boat ashore in various stages of disarray, there to bail it out and continue.

The race was won by the Magic, sailed by Capt. Bob Wilson, of St. Michaels. Captain Wilson sailed with a crew of yachtsmen well known on the Eastern Shore. J. Graham Johnson, of the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club, of Easton and skipper of the champion Chesapeake star Eel, being listed on the Magic's articles as jib-tender.

Another entry from the Miles River Yacht Club, at St. Michaels, was second. She was Commodore William H. Green's Mary Rider, the present holder of the Governor's Cup the trophy sponsored by Governor Richie which is symbolical of the bay championship.

Island Blossom's mishap eliminated her from the running, while a fifth entry, the Belle Aire, also failed to finish.

The Raskob entry. This e' Duit, piloted by Vernon Corcoran, captured the free-for-all speedboat race in an extra heat after tying in two scheduled heats with Claude Truslow's Chestertown entry, Licketsplit.

Two Maryland Yacht Club entries —Little One, piloted by C. H. Lucas and Pilot Too, piloted by Sam Marks —were first and second in the Class B outboard motor boat race.

A St. Michael's entry, Teaser, captured the race for scows. Teaser was handled by Alfred Fairbank. H. B. Matthews, Jr., of Claiborne, was second, with Moo-doo and Wee-Wee, owned by Hynson Rogers, of Chestertown, third.

The knockabout Seahawk defeated Great Scot in a sailing race over the mile and a quarter course.

The schooner Blue Jacket, of the Chestertown Club, which recently returned from a cruise to Bermuda, acted as committee boat, its owner, Tilghman Moyer, being chairman of the race committee.

William D. Hines won the handicap cruiser race with his new yacht as yet unnamed, while Col. J. Price Ewing, one of the newest members of the Chester River Club, was second with Swaraj, Frank Davis, of the Maryland Yacht Club, was third with Monarch.

While the regatta was in progress a golf tournament and tennis tournamere were being held ashore. Prizes in all the events were awarded at the ball, which was held Monday night at the new clubhouse. Commodore Edward W. Emory was in charge of the arrangements for the regatta.

In the golf and tennis tournaments for the championship of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club the winners were as follows:

Golf—Harry S. Russell defeated W. J. Stenger, 3 up and 2 to play.

Tennis—Miss Elizabeth Brown defeated Miss Woodall, of Georgetown, in women's singles.

Gilpin Brown won from Dudley G. Rowe in the men's singles.

D. B. Ford, Jr., and Miss Nancy Jean Usilton defeated R. H. Collins, Jr., mixed doubles.

R. H. Collins, Jr., and Gilpin Brown won from Dr. T. H. Fowler and Harry S. Russell in the men's doubles.

You won't believe it but back in the 90's there were adults and even children who went for hours without spending a nickel.—Robert Quillen.
