In Memoriam. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, William H. Cohee, who departed this life March 31st, 1914. Father, I am sad and lonely

Since you have gone from me, And it seems there is no more pleasure In this lone world for me. Ofttimes we seem to be cheerful. We smile and think we are gay; But, alas, we are gloomy and tearful, Because of our dear father far away. Oh, our father, one we loved is missing. The voice we loved is stilled: His place is vacant in our hearts,

Which never can be filled. Some may think we have forgotten you And our wounded hearts are healed, But they little know the sorrow That's in our hearts concealed. -By his daughter, Jessie.
