ATTENTION, ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

There are quite a number of members of the Associate Organization of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company who have not yet paid their annual dues of $3. There are also a very large number of property owners in the town and vicinity whose property is being protected by the Fire Company who have never joined the Associate organization During a recent drive made in this county for relief drought sufferers in the western part of the country, Chestertown residents alone contributed more than $618, which was very laudable. But why should any one owning property in Chestertown and surrounding territory refrain from contributing $3 annually towards the maintenance of a fire company which protects your home and business property from destruction by fire at the risk of their lives. Chestertown is contributing less than $400 annually for the maintenance of its fire company, when it should be giving not less than $1,000. Think about this matter and send your check to Mr. J. S. Kreeger for $3.00 and become a member of the Chestertwon Volunteer Fire Company.

DEFINITE PLAN FOR BAY BRIDGE

Definite plan for the construction of a Chesapeake Bay bridge by the State as a project of public benefit, contingent on further engineering and traffic surveys, is being worked by the administration.

Under the plan a new study of the problem of linking the Eastern and Western Shores of the State will be instituted, with the view of making it a State project in its entirety.

A fund will be provided at this session of the Legislature to carry out the investigation, which, in all probability, will be made under direction of the State Roads Commission.

Under the plan, the State would not be called on to take any definite action in the matter for a year or eighteen months, it was said.

If the surveys show that traffic will justify the capital outlay and the engineering problems can be met, according to the plan, statistics would be compiled showing by how much the tax rate would be relieved by pouring the toll revenues into the general treasury.

MORE TIME TO BUILD SPAN

President Hoover Wednesday signed a bill extending the time for the construction of a bridge across Chesapeake Bay.

The proposed bridge will connect Baltimore County and Kent County and would be approximately seven miles long.

The bill marked the third extension of time for construction of the bridge.

"OH, DOCTOR," WELL RECEIVED

A three-act musical comedy was staged in the Lyceum Theatre here Friday night under auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of Chestertown Elementary School. A matinee was also given on that day. The comedy, "Oh, Doctor!" was directed by Jack Spicer and Mrs. Mary Covey Griffith was the accompanist. Members of the cast were Mrs. Bates Chaires, W. O. Wright, Walter Barnes, Vernon Kirby, Emily Jewell, Charles Harris, Rose Gordon, Mary Emma Chaires, Phillip Sewell, Mrs. Marion Legg and Mrs. Henry Williams.

In the chorus and in special numbers were the following singers and dancers: Sarah Speicher, Ellen Bordley, Frances Kreeger, Elizabeth Wheatley, Elenor Russell, Margaret Ann Dukes, Jane Maslin, Harry Gill, Rosalie Bennett, Lillian Lee, Helen Marie Culver, Gene Cooper, Kathryn Bringman, Fern Blackway, Willa Newnam, Mabel Smith, Ruth McVean, Miriam Sewell, Phoebe Pyle, Sherley Fox, Kathryn Anthony, Freda Dorf, Maude Duyer, Margaret Cosden, Elizabeth Baxter, Carolyn Jewell, Betty Anthony, Virginia Barnes, Elizabeth Fontaine, Clara Dobinson, Harriett Louisa Rogers, Carrie Schreiber, Betty Thibodeau, Miriam Ford, Deborah Brown, Margaret Anthony, Anna Lewis, Myrtle Hadaway, Miriam Thompson, Edgar Massey, Frank Jarrell, Clarke Fontaine, James Kreeger, Don Falls and John Harwood.

COUNTY CHAMPS IN TITLE SERIES

Play in the eighth annual Maryland State-wide basketball tournament for county high school boys has worked down to the intercounty games. Fifty-eight high school teams from seventeen counties have been in action since January 12. The tournament this yeard has developed some of the best playing since its origin. The Eastern Shore teams in particular have shown better basketball because of the several school gymnasiums opened last fall, affording decidedly better practice facilities.

Of the Eastern Shore group, Salisbury, Chestertown, Cambridge, Crisfield, Cordova and Trappe have particularly strong teams and beyond any doubt the Eastern Shore champions this year will furnish their Wtstern Shore contestants with a lot more trouble than any previous State championship game.

The Eastern Shore intercounty series opening on Friday, will see Salisbury vs. Chestertown, at Easton High School, at 8 p. m.; Somerset County vs. Worcester County, at Princess Anne High School, at 3 p. m., and Talbot County vs. Dorchester County at Hurlock High School, 8 p. m.

Citizens of Worton Point have petitioned the commissioners to establish a school bus for 16 children attending Chestertown schools from that district. A slag road from Cochran's Corner, near Galena, toward the Sassafras river has also been requested and citizens of Cross street Chestertown want a paved street from High street to Maple Avenue. These petitions will be taken under consideration, it was announcel.

WICKES HOME LEASED

A dozen or more choice horses from the Essex Hunt Club, Far Hills, N. J., arrived in Chestertown Wednesday for a six weeks fox-hunting program. They are quartertd at the Voshell House stables.

The visiting hunters have leased the Wickes home on High street, near Front, for the six week period, and will be quartered there during their visit in Chestertown.

George Brice, former Kent countian, is master of hounds for the Essex Club and will have charge of the hunting plans during the stay here. While the mounts of the visiting hunters will remain here for the entire period the hunting will largely be confined to the week-ends, when members of the Far Hills Club will come here.

No hounds from the Essex Club will be sent here for the hunts. The dogs of the local hunters will be used and many of the local lovers of the chase will join with the visitors in the jaunts over the country-side in search of Sir Reynard.

Foxes are said to be plentiful in Kent and nearby Queen Anne's and conditions for good hunting are ideal.

The Wickes property, leased by the visiting clubmen, is one of the colonial homes of this section and will probably be the scene of many social gatherings during the stay here of the Far Hill sportsmen.

INQUESTS HELD ON POISON DEATHS

A report of a chemical analysis of the intestines of two Negroes who died from the effects of drinking punch made from methol alcohol at a party here Sunday, February 15th, has been received from chemists of the State Department of Health, Baltimore, by Coroner Harry L. Dodd and State's Attorney Stephen R. Collins.

Coroner Dodd held the final inquest into the deaths of the nine Negroes this week.

Four surviving of the party are Asbury Fletcher, Goldie Seney, Hydie Smith and Edgar Floyd, the latter alleged to have purchased the alcohol in a garage here, were witnesses at the inquest. Clinton C. Jones was foreman of the jury.

The Grand Jury of the April term of the Kent County Circuit Court may investigate the deaths. Authorities may try to take some action looking to the prevention of such a recurrence, State's Attorney Collins said.

The local attorney cleared up a moot question which has been agitating owners of local garages and filling stations since the occurrence by announcing that there is no State or any other kind of a law prohibiting the sale of denatured alcohol, anti-freeze liquids containing wood alcohol or other fluids for use in motor cars, provided the sale is not directly made for beverage purposes. It is not necessary, he said, for labels marked "poison" be placed on bottles or other containers which may be brought to the place of sale by purchasers and that if the buyer states the liquid is to be used in motor vehicles the sale may legally be made without the application of any label.

BOYS LOSE 30 TO 16; GIRLS DEFEATED 22 TO 11

A double defeat was handed the boys' and girls' basketball teams of the Chestertown High School Tuesday night by similar organizations from the Cambridge High School.

The Chestertown quintet was defeated 30 to 16 in the first of two meetings with Combridge.

In a nip and tuck battle for the greater part of the playing time the Chestertown sextette was defeated 32 to 11. As the game neared its close the Chestertown and Cambrilge lassies were battling point for point. A sudden scoring spree sent the Cambridge fair ones into a commanding lead.

Return games will be played at Cambridge next Tuesday evening, March 3rd.

Frederick Stieff, Baltimore a member of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Chestertown Rotary Club Monday evening at the Marylant Tea Room. The speaker came here in the interest of a plan being bostered by Rotary Clubs and Chambers of Commerce throughout the State to secure an appropriation of $50,000 from the State Legislature for the purpose of publicising the natudal resources and advantages of Maryland. Mr. Stieff spoke at length on the plan and urged the cooperation of the local Rotarians in securing the appropriation.

PRESIDENTS ACT ON VITAL LAWS

At the meeting if the presidents of the boards of county commissioners of the nine Eastern Shore counties held in Easton Thursday it was recommended that a home for the aged be built somewhere on the Eastern Shore.

It was also recommended that the new assessment of property in the State, scheduled for 1932, be deferred until 1935, and that a law be passed reducing the State compulsory school tax to 60 cents.

A change in the automobile law, which when amended will provide for the issuance of auto license tags in the county seat of each county, was advocated.

KENT SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE $75.00

Supt. L. C. Robinson, of the Kent County schools, reports that the school children of Kent County, contributed $75 for the recent Red Cross drive. Chairman Howard Turner and his Kent County Committee consisting of himself, Mrs. Jas. G. Beck, Allan A. Harris, and Frank W. Smith ask us to express to the people of Kent County their appreciation for the fine work done in putting the fund over the top.

WINS IN CATTLE JUDGING

Believed to be the youngest girl in Maryland to be an expert judge of dairy cattle, Virinia Dulin 13 years old, a member of the Kent County 4-H Clover Calf Club was presented with the first prize awarded the winner of a contest recently held by the club and in which Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey judged by twenty members.

The announcement and presentation took place Friday night at the annual banquet of the club here which was addressed by William Chilcoat of Townson, Md, also by Wilbur H. Morris, president f the club; Richard Newnam, Walter Rees, John Dixon, William O. Carroll, Norman Sutton, who acted as toastmaster, and Stanley G. Sutton, assistant county agent. Miss Dulin has been a member of the club for one year. Walter Rees, 17 was the winner in the group for club members of over one year.

Jesses Hurd was presented a fine medal by Prof. McVean.

Winners who received prizes for individual judging were: Holsteins, Elwood Morris; Guernseys, Norris Crew Jerseys, Virginia Dulin; Ayreshires, William Comella.

A silver cup, won for the third consecutive year by the dairy cattle judging team at the Dorchester Fair, was presented as a permanent trophy.

The two youngest speakers were Richard Newnam and John Dixon. They are only 8 years old and yet are among the most enthusiastic members of this Calf Club. They won the praise of all present.

CHICKEN THIEVES ACTIVE

Edw. Porter, of near Crumpton, was robbed of 75 chickens Monday night and Chas. Dewberry, a neighbor, lost 28 same night. The thieves were in a truck. They stopped at H. J. Sacker's place but were frightened away by his dog and Mr. Sacker.

Howard B. Strong and wife have sold to Mr. and Mrs. Clinton C. Jones a 85-foot lot on Kent street on which Mr. Jones hopes to build a home shortly.

Vandie Puckett, arrested in connection with operating the 500-gallon still captured in Broad Neck last December, was taken to Baltimore Thursday for a hearing before the District Court. He had been serving a sentence of three months in the county jail on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The Court sentenced him to 3 months in jail and he was remanded to the Kent jail to serve out this sentence. Thomas F. Healey represented Puckett and Radford, both of whom received the same sentence.

THORNTON'S PUBLIC SALES DREW LARGE CROWDS

The large public sales of Eugene Thornton, advertised inKENT NEWS attracted hundreds of buyers and spectators, to the farm where he resides on Feb. 19th and 24th. Good prices were realized from both his stock and implements, and the gross receipts amounted to $11,030. One pair of his large horses were sold for more than $300, and another pair brought over $600. At his cow sale on Tuesday some of his herd sold for more than $200 each.

WALTER T. MORRIS ELECTED PRESIDENT

The annual election of officers of the Kent County Dairy Herd Improvement Association was held Sat. afternoon, Feb. 21, 1931 at the regular meeting of the association held in the County Agent's office. The meeting was presided over by ex-Pres. Walter W. Walbert. The election resulted as follows:

President—Walter T. Morris Jr.
Vice-Pres.—James D. Davis, Jr.
Sec.-Treas.—P. M. Brooks.
Directors—John C. Sutton, Percy Hepbron, Romie Morris.

Mr. J. A. Conover, Extension Dairy Specialist, commonly known by all as "Uncle Jerry," gave some very interesting facts concerning the value and need of the Herd Improvement Association and urged every farmer to become more familiar with the breeding and record of his herd sire and study the production and feeding costs of his cows that he may be able to intelligently weed out his "boarder," and unprofitable cows. He urged the use of bull pens that the proven and worth while sires may be used and the dangerous bull be kept where he will be harmless.

The Herd Improvement Association under the direction of the Extension Service is doing much to put and keep Dairying on a profitable basis. Norman E. Pennington is Tester and can materially help members of the Association with their Dairy problems. Call on him. If you don't already belong to the Association JOIN NOW. It will help you.

COLLEGE WINS OVER MT. ST. MARY'S

Although momentarily thrown off balance by the surprising defensive tactics of the opposition, Washington College dribblers managed to steady enough to pull out with a 23-to-11 decision over Mount St. Mary's quintet here Friday night. The Mountaineers surprised by holding the Shoremen to the lowest score of the season on the local court.

It was a determined outfit which came down from Emmitsburg to give battle to the Flying Pentagon and it more than held its own with the local cagers for the first few minutes. With both using the man-to-man defense points were few and far between as the minutes clicked off in the first half.

But it remained for Stevens to solve the problem and send the Shoremen off to a slight lead which they gradually increased. Three times in succession Gainer took a pass to the corner ofthe court and overshot the basket. Each time Stevens, utilizing his extreme height, took the high heave and tapped the ball back into the basket. This string of double-deckers gave Washington an 9-4 edge at the half.

Mount St. Mary's continued its leech-like guarding in the second half but sensational long-range shooting by Johnson, Robinson and Stevens enabled the Shoremen to widen the gap to a safe advantage at 23-11.

In the preliminary contest, Chestertown High School smothered St. Michael's five, 45 to 6.

LONGWOOD GARDENS

There will be a trip to Longwood Gardens at Longwood, Del., on Mar 13th, under the direction of the project demonstrators of the Home Flower Project.

Both men and women are invited to take this trip, and for anyone who is interested in flowers, it is a rare treat.

Details of the trip may be had from the Project Demonstrators, who are:

Mrs. Ida Willis and Mrs. Lawrie Hackett, Betterton.

Mrs. Walter Harris and Mrs. Edw. Hepbron, Worton.

Mrs. T. H. M. Bramble, Miss Louise Travers, Mrs. Price Ewing, Mrs. Elwood Fowler and Miss Mary Nicholson, Chestertown.

Mrs. Julian Cochran, Galena.

Mrs. Robert Logan, Millington.

The Jones & Satterfield store-room near the depot, has been rented by the F. Thos. Chatham Produce Co., of Salisbury, who will sell fresh oranges and grape fruit direct from Florida. See their adv. in this issue.

George Doberta, tenant on the Cotton farm, near Still Pond, has lost three horses and several others are sick. It is reported that they died from eating decayed fodder.

Gov. Ritchie paroled 49 prisoners this week. along the number voted was Meritt Spry, of Kent county. He was sentenced by the Circuit Court of Kent County to eight months in the House of Correction fod larceny. He killed three of his neighbors pigs who were on his property and destroying his corn. About three months more of his term remain. The judge recommends parole.

Member of School Board—A. Linwood Redmile, Kennedyville.

AUTOMOBILE DYNAMITED

Sheriff John T. Vickers has in his jail yard what remains of a dynamited automobile. He hauled it in here from the lane leading up to the Malcohn farm in Morgnec. Two sharp explosions at 2 A. M. Monday were heard by the neighbors and at daylight this automobile was discovered literally blown to bits. Cylinders were split and separated and pieces of the motor strewn about the ground. On the larger sections of the car powder marks were visible.

The machine carried a Pennslyvania license plate and was reported by R. Goodman of 618 West Third street, Chester, Pa., as stolen. The car was a Cadillac touring model.

County and State officers set to work to solve the mystery but were without clues relating to the explosion. They said, howeve, they were sure dynamite had been used.

An insurance inspector was in Chestertown this week, but no new developments.

BIG DAY AT JONES & SATTERFIELD'S ON MARCH 14th.

This is the year that marks the centennial of the reaper, that famous machine invented by Cyrus Hall McCormick in 1831. As a fitting means of commemorating t his unusual event, Jones & Satterfield's local McCormick-Deering dealers have arranged a full day's program for Saturday March 14. This entertainment is for the enjoyment of every farmer and his family in this community.

As a special feature of the centennial program, a five reel motion picture, "Romance of the Reaper," will be shown. This picture was especially filmed to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the invention of the McCormick reaper.

From the first scene to the last, "Romance of the Reaper," is authentic. It is interesting and educational; it is romantic; it is thrilling.

Jones & Satterfield invites all farmers and their families to spend the entire day March 14th as their guests. A full day's entertainment has been planned-a morning meeting noon lunch, and afternoon program.

Correction—In the Crook's Adv. on page 2, the "All Pork Sausage" has been Cut out and "Plate broiling beef at 12½ cents lb." substituted.

The Disraeli picture Thursday afternoon was splendid and largely attended for benefit of Chestertown library.

The Veteran Loan Bill was passed over the Presidents' veto in Congress. By this 50 per cent. of the insurance may be borrowed by veterans at 4½ per cent.

Joseph Quinn, owner of the Decourse farm, has 5 ewes which gave birth to 16 lambs. There are four sets of triplets and one of quad-ruplets. All were sold at a good profit.
