SPRING SPRING
1894.

OUR Spring and Summer Goods have been carefully selected. To say that we are up with the times in this business is only to state a fact well known to the public. The Styles in Shoes are beautiful and all the leading ones have been added to our stock. Our reputation for first class work and material will be maintained and where improvements could be made we have had them attended to. No such a display of Fine Shoes ever seen in this county, and as usual Low Prices prevail.

Shoes. Shoes.

Latest Styles. Best Makes. Ladies' Oxford Ties, Tanned Bluchers, Russet Shoes.
Gentlemen's Calf and Russet Shoes. New Shapes and the New Picadilla Toe.

COLORED SHOES.—Speaking of Russians—they are no longer a novelty but are now a necessity The general public have come to the conclusion the Russians are stylish for general wear, and what the people want the dealers will have to handle. There are many good points about these shoes; one is, they give a pleasant sensation to the wearer because they don't heat up the foot. The absence of all oils in the leather makes them just the shoes for tender feet, as there is no burning or rasped feeling to the foot in a Russian Shoe.

Select Your Spring Suit as it Here Awaits You!

Our stock this season affords a wider range of choice than ever before. Remember this is headquarters for the man who dresses well and at a moderate cost. We do not wish to become oratorical but think it well to say that due to the financial depression and extreme low value of products, in order to stay within reach of the wearer, considering this, we have marked our goods accordingly. Our past business transactions we find our best advertisement giving a near One Hundred Cents worth for his Dollar means his future custom. It is useless to say that we are first among clothiers as every one is already educated to this. Experience is one of the chief essentials in merchandising and this we possess, which affords us the opportunity of obtaining best goods at lowest figures. We are thus enabled to offer Men's Suits, consisting of Serges, Flannels and Cassimeres at $4, $4.50 and $5; Men's Wool Suits in Chiviots &c., $5, $5.75, $6 and $7; a complete line of Diagonals, Fancy Worsted and Cassimeres, something nobby, $8, $9 and $10. Youth's Suits, a large assortment, $2.50, to $8; Children's Suits, age 4 and 15 the Finest ever exhibited. Men's Pants, a most complete line at a comparatively low price. Our (Strong Hold) Unlaundered Shirts at 45 cents is a good one. Balbrigan Shirts, 25 and 38 cents, best for the money. Percale Shirts in attachable and detachable collars and cuffs to suit the wearer, for 50c., 75c. and $1. Boy's Waists, 25 to 38 cents. Our line of Hats and Caps is complete and consists of all the New and Nobby Styles in Stiffs, Crush and Straws.

Clothing Must be Sold at a Similar Low Price,

We respectfully invite your attention to above, thanking you for past patronage and soliciting a continuance, we remain yours very truly,

TO YOUNG MEN.

The following selection may be of service to some of our young men, many of whom are thinking of leaving home, or have already done so:

Many years ago a lad of sixteen years left home to seek his fortune. All his worldly possessions were tied up in a bundle, which he carried in his hand. As he trudged along he met an old neighbor, the captain of a canal, and the following conversation took place, which changed the current of the boy's whole life:

"Well, William, where are you going?"

"I don't know," he answered; "father is too poor to keep me at home any longer, and says I must now make a living for myself."

"There's no trouble about that," said the captain. "Be sure you start right, and you'll get along finely."

William told his friend that the only trade he knew anything about was soap and candle making, at which he had helped his father while at home.

"Well," said the old man, "let me pray with you once more, and give you a little more advice, and then I will let you go."

They both kneeled down upon the towpath (the path along which the horses which drew the canal boat walked); the old man prayed earnestly for William, and then gave this advice: Some one will be the leading soap maker in New York. It can be you as well as anyone. I hope it may. Be a good man; give your heart to Christ; give the Lord all that belongs to Him of every dollar you earn; make an honest soap; give a full pound, and I am certain you will yet be a rich and prosperous man."

When the boy arrived in the city he found it hard to get work. Lonesome and far from home, he remembered his mother's words and the last words of the canal boat captain. He was then led to "seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness," and united with the church. He remembered his promise to the old captain and the first dollar he earned brought up the question of the Lord's part. In the Bible he found that the Jews were commanded to give one-tenth; so he said, "If the Lord will take one-tenth, I will give that." And so he did; and ten cents of every dollar were sacred to the Lord.

Having a regular employment he soon became a partner; and after a few years his partners died, and William became the sole owner of the business.

He now resolved to keep his promise to the old captain; he made an honest soap, gave a full pound, and instructed his bookkeeper to open an account with the Lord, and carry one-teuth of all his income to that account. He prospered; his business grew; his family was blessed; his soap sold and he grew rich faster than he had ever hoped. He then gave the Lord two-tenths and prospered more than ever; then he gave three-tenths, then four-tenths, then five-tenths.

He educated his family, settled all his plans for life and gave all his income to the Lord. He prospered more than ever before.

This is the story of William Colgate who has given millions of dollars to the Lord's cause, and left a name that will never die.

Eastern Shore Longevity.

"Stranger" writes as follows to the Centreville Record about the longevity and health of the Eastern Shore as shown in two trial cases in the Queen Anne's court:

1st. Hope H. Barroll, plaintiff and litigant vs. Town Commissioners of Chestertown. At least seven witnesses called for the defense testified that they were over seventy years of age. They had all come sixteen miles to testify, and were seemingly in possession of all their faculties, mental and physical, lively as "hearth crickets" slippery as "marsh eels," could cut the "pigeon wing," or dance the famous "hoe down," the favorite dance of the primitive Eastern Shoreman.

2nd. Satterfield vs. Davis, both litigants. They were over sventy-two years of age, had come about twenty miles, and to look at them would say not exceeding 45 to 50 years of age, sans grey hairs, sans false teeth, sans rheumatism, active as South American Guina lizards and ready to leap over each others heads. I am a stranger in these parts but have traveled extensively. My opinion is this talk about healthfulness and general desirability of climate the Eastern Shore of Maryland takes the "cake" and Queen Anne's county is the centre of this climate paradise.

While the above cases were being tried in the Circuit Court, a lady, crisp and spry ninety-five years of age, was arguing her own case before the Orphans' Court.

Octogenarians, nonagenarians are common stock, centenarians are not uncommon, consumption and asthma are an unknown quantity unless imported and even then are so quickly cured that you can count them on your fingers in large sections of territory.

To tell simply the truth, for fertility of soil and general productiveness, wheat, corn, fish, crabs, wild ducks, tomatoes, strawberries and potatoes, salubriness and healthfulness of climate, this Eastern Shore cant be surpassed this side of the ocean.

If a man loves life and to enjoy it, let him move himself and whole family to the Eastern Shore of Maryland and let him locate them especially in Queen Anne's, Kent, Talbot, and Caroline counties, but more especially in Queen Anne's county.

From my observation and as the result of my conclusions, Queen Anne's county must have been the centre of the original garden of Eden—if it was not it should have been, for there life seems to reach its ultimate mundane or terrestaial limits, and with full vigor and elasticity until the Master calls his servant to his heavenly home.

June Weather.

Hicks forecasts the weather for June as follows: June the 3d brings new moon and the centre of a storm period. By that date a very warm wave will be well advanced from the west, and storm conditions of marked energy will be in sight to all who read general indications. Watch all storms between 2nd and 6th. A cool dash will follow them. On and touching the 9th and 10th it will grow very warm again, and a series of hard rains, thunder and wind storms will follow each other daily for several days. From 14th to 17th is a regular period, with a Mercury equinox central on the 16th. Many showers may be expected all along here, with dangerous storms probable on the black figure days. The 20th and 21st are centers of disturbance, excited by Mercury, Venus and the Solstice crisis. Hard storms, with hail and much lightning, followed by unseasonable cold. From 26th to 30th falls a storm period that will bring threatening bluster with some severe storms. Watch them all! Earthquakes and volcanic activity due in June.

JUDGING from the following comment from the Centreville Observer, it is evident that our neighbors can appreciate a good thing even by hearing of it, but, brother, tasting is more convincing. Come over and we will prove it:

"The Junior Editor of the KENT NEWS recently sat down to a supper of "soft crabs, fried oysters, baked shad, scalloped oysters, stewed chicken, raw oysters, chicken salad, baked ham, potato salad, mock-terrapin, iced tea, coffee, biscuits, light bread, pickles, etc., etc.," and he says it was "one of the most sumptuous suppers ever set in the State." Well, it does seem that a hungry man ought to be satisfied with that bill of fair."

DON'T DIET.—If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, habitual constipation or sick headache, don't diet. You need the strength, that food gives. Eat whatever you want but take one of Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia pills after meals until cured. If you are constipated get a bottle with white label, otherwise with yellow.
