The first campaign meeting of Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, and President Taft is to take place at Atlantic City at the American Road Congress between September 30 and October 5. The respective candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties have both consented to address the American Road Congress, and while the addresses of the two men will be non-political, there is great interest in the manner in which appear upon the same platform. Both candidates are looking forward to the truce that will prevail at the big road

"The World" is to be reproduced in miniature next October 25th to November 30 in Baltimore and the 12,000 people, who are being enrolled as volunteer helpers are preparing to impersonate the people of all nations. Most of them will wear characteristic costumes and be prepared by careful study to answer the questions of visitors and explain everything which may be seen at the to work on have done relatively more

The purpose of "The World in Baltimore' Exposition is to show the progress of Christian Civilization in every part of the world. Life-like scenes of foreign lands and sections of America in which the work of missionaries is carried on will be portrayed, reproducing these lands by beautifully painted scenery, and by erecting buildings which will be duplications of the structures which a visitor to a foreign city might look upon. The great musical feature will be the Pageant of Darkness and Light. This is a musical drama of great events in the history of missions. Several hundred persons will participate in costume. There will be fine brilliant episodes, full of life, action and color, taken from the four corners of the earth, which will be presented on the stage of the Lyric Theatre afternoons and evenings during the Exposition.

A large temporary building is being erected adjoining the Lyric, in which the Exposition will be held. It will be 2 stories in height and have a floor space of more than 36,000 square feet. It is not the purpose of the Exposition to make any profit, but to spread accurate knowledge of the great work of Christianizing the world. It is expected to make all expenses and repay any amount which the guarantors advance and should there be any profit it will go toward the furtherance of Missionary Education.
