Champion At Three

Intelligence

Shirley McNeal, 3, of Hershey, Neb., recites Lincoln's Gettysburg address, sings popular songs, knows the alphabet, adds, subtracts and does many other unusual intelligence feats. The former known record for Lincoln's address was by a child of five.

There was a young flapper named Bess,
Who looked a little different from the rest;
Her eyes were crossed
While her teeth were false,
But she was popular for two good reasons—I guess!

Meeting Of Women's Fire Auxiliary

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company was held on March 28th. A number of new members were added to the rapidly growing organization and it was decided to enlarge an initiation fee of 25 cents in order to have a little money on hand for incidentals as the need may arise. Mrs. Charles Satterfield was elected treasurer. A letter from Mrs. William Draper Brinkloe, president of a similiar organization in Easton was read. Mrs. Brinkloe outlined the work of the Easton body during the past year much of which had been accomplished by the Chestertown women before they organized.

A committee of six has been appointed for each month to respond to the call for service in case of fire. One of the Fire Company will be appointed to remain at headquarters during any fire in order to send further equipment to the fire fighters and to notify the auxiliary when to be on hand. The telephone which is allowed to the town by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is to be installed in the Fire House through the courtesy of the Town Commissioners.

Gas Tax Bill Goes Into Third Reading

The measure providing for a tax on gasoline for the elimination of grade crossings was sent into its third reading yesterday by the House of Delegates. The bill was passed by the Senate last week. It is said that if the bill passes the House, which it is expected to do that the Governor will sign it.

The proposed measure is a part of the administration program. It calls for a tax of 1-2 cent a gallon on gasoline. The proceeds would be used to elliminate grade crossings.

Baltimore Washingtonians Feast

Dr. J. M. H. Rowland, Dean of the college of medicine of the University of Maryland, gave an unusually suggesstive address last Saturday evening at the Hotel Rennert on the occasion of the annual mid-winter banquet of the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association. Dean Rowland was in a fine fettle as the main speaker of the occasion. About thirty-five members of the Chapter were present to hear him.

This banquet of the Baltimore Chapter was presided over by James W. Chapman, Jr., who made an unusually able and pleasing toastmaster for the occasion. Besides Dean Rowland he called on John I. Coulbourn, of Philadelphia, Professor William R. Howell and Dr. Frederick G. Livingood of the College, Mrs. Melvin of Annapolis, and Dr. Titsworth for short talks.

The banquet das held in dining room I at the Hotel Rennert which afforded a most appropriate setting for the occasion. After enjoying one of the Rennert's best meals the guests finished off the evening at Bridge and Five Hundred.

Due to an illness extending over nearly a year the president of the Baltimore Chapter, R. Loran Langsdale, was unable to attend. The committee on arrangements composed of Mr. Langsdale, Dr. W. Houston Toulson, Claude Griffin and Henry H. Sasscer did a splendid job in setting the stage for this banquet of the Baltimore Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association.

Chamber Board Meets

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce was held at headquarters on March 28 when final details of the first semi annual dinner of the organization were completed. Mr. Stuart S. Janney, Attorney for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company of Baltimore, and the Hon. Josiah Marvel, of Wilmington, will be the guests of honor. Mr. Marvel will be the chief speaker of the evening. This will be the first get-together of the Chamber and marks the welcoming of a number of new members.

A Business Directory of the members of the body is now being compiled and prospective members are urged to file their application in the near future if they wish to be included in the list. Statistics as to financial resources of the county are being brought up to date and will cover a number of years showing the growth of the wealth of Kent. Negotiations for improved ferry service have been opened with the Tolchester Company, the object being to provide the longest possible day in Baltimore for the people of Kent County, the present schedule being quite unsatisfactory. It is also hoped an adjustment may be brought about by which the Red Star Motor Coaches Inc., will be able to resume the through schedule from Chestertown to Salisbury there being a growing demand for such service.
