ROCK HALL

Wheat fields are looking far better than they were three weeks ago and harvest will begin before the week is over and be in full swing by this time next week. The prospect is brighter than for last year.

The public schools closed Friday for summer vacations. Pupils already are enjoying the leisure and relaxation from studies. The seventh grade pupils with few exceptions were passed into the High School department, the senior class of which held their graduation exercises Thursday evening, a full account being given elsewhere. Many patrons of the primary school are very much dissatisfied with the site in the extreme southern part of town selected by the committee which was appointed for that purpose, so they are circulating a petition for a more central location near the high school building and are getting quite a number of signatures.

Something was omitted last week. A great big interrogation point. In the item concerning the athletic events at Homewood these words were used: "Randolph Burgess won the hundred yard dash in eight seconds and Frances Williams won the high jump, five feet, eight inches, and broke the state record. Congratulations." And then the omission of a question mark! It was not in intentional ellipsis but no doubt some believe the writer to be suffering from aberration of mind, when the truth is that Francis, who wrote the information as quoted, is well known to be an inveterate joker.

Mr. Frank Puppe has laid out an avenue and drawn a plan of lots on a property just west of town. He has disposed of several and is constructing a bungalow on another. The John Judefind heirs are selling lots near the centre of town.

Rock Hall High School Activities

Among the senior and high school activities the spring the annual trip to Annapolis was possibly most enjoyed. The entire high school left on the police boat "Murray," Capt. Franklin Akers, in command, May 31. After arriving there they visited the Naval Academy, State House and other places of interest. Among these was a large cruiser, the "Concord," carrying a thousand men for crew, and waiting to carry the Academy graduates on their cruise. Rock Hall's entire crowd was allowed all over the ship. At the termination of this visit they embarked for home, enjoying on the way ice cream furnished by the boys.

The annual June carnival was next to hold the children's interest. This was held on the school lawn, June 7. A very fine entertainment was furnished to the public by each grade in the entire school. The children did justice to the teachers' fine training acquitting themselves beautifully.

On June 10th Kent's representatives to the State Olympics did their part but met little success. The volley ball team and Franklin Jacob, George and Frances Williams went from Rock Hall. These all put up a good fight but were defeated in everything.

June 12th the sermon to the graduates was preached in the High School auditorium by Rev. Dr. Atwater, of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, of Chestertown. His subject was "Whatsoever Thy Hand Findeth To Do, Do It With All Thy Might." It was enjoyed and sank into the minds of the graduates, their friends and teachers.

June 14th the Senior Night exercises were held in the school auditorium. Each o f the class had a task assigned to be prepared for that night—to Miss Sarah Revelle, "Prophecy"; to Miss Martha Ashley, "The Comebacks"; to Miss Thelma Downey, "Class Beatitudes"; to Miss Isabel Willson, "Class Commandments"; to Miss Louise Akers, "Class Calendar;" to Miss Elizabeth Parsons, "Class Dictionary;" to Miss Alice Thompson, "Class Will"; to Miss Hazel Joiner, "Gifts to Class"; to Miss Elizabeth Leary, "Class Biography"; to George Williams, "Program." On June 15th the Junior Class gave the Seniors a fine reception. This was also in the school auditorium. A delectable menu and delightful entertainment was furnished to the seniors and faculty.

C., addressed the graduates, his subject being "The Abundant Life." The entire class received diplomas in the academic course.
