GENERAL LOCALS.

Death of Miss Grey.—Miss Helen Grey, daughter of the late John R. Grey, died at the Protestant Church Home, Baltimore, Thursday night after a long illness. Her body will be brought to Chestertown Saturday on the Ford and interred in Chester cemetery on Sunday.

Two baskets of the largest white potatoes we ever saw have been left at our office by Mr. Jeff. H. Lecates, of Morgnec. One basket contained 36 potatoes, which weighed 36 pounds! They are of the "State of Maine" variety, and beautifully proportioned and smooth. The second basket were of the "Rural Blush" variety; contained ten potatoes, which weighed 20 pounds! These were the biggest but not so pretty as the first.

Run off With the Circus.—Eugene T. Manns, Dr. J. A. Catlin's hostler, left town with the circus last Friday night carrying away the doctor's grip and a pair of shoes. Constable Rose went to Easton Saturday but the boy could not be found. The boy was brought to Chestertown from the House of Reformation and had been here since July.

Fall Fishing. — Ex-Sheriff Plummer was in town Tuesday and says the perch are biting freely off his Plum Point farm. "Doc" Cooper says they are plentiful off his shore also. He gave a fish fry to his friends last Saturday afternoon when the toothsome perch was the subject for dissection. Chester bridge has many frequenters during these fall days. Mr. S. M. Frazier caught several very fine rock there this week as did also Messrs. S. Q. Moody, Daniel Cox, and others making in all 19 rock averaging 7 inches. Messrs. Edward Lambert, John W. Duyer, A. L. Benjamin, Dr. C. W. Whaland, Mr. George C. Adkinson and others have made some good catches of perch and catfish and are anxious to get into a school of rock.

Change of Schedule. — Beginning September 9th next the steamer B. S. Ford will leave Centreville daily (except Sunday) at 7 A. M. for Baltimore, stopping at the landings on Corsica river, Jackson creek and Rock Hall at 9.30 A. M. Returning will leave Baltimore at 2.30 P. M. for the same landings.

Runaways.—Simon, hostler at Mr. H. W. Vickers', was driving a colt in town Monday when a bicycle scared the animal causing him to run away. The colored driver was thrown out, the dog cart wrecked and the horse injured.

Mr. Austin was thrown from his horse near Mr. Ray Bowers' gate Monday night but fortunately was not injured. The bridle broke and of course Mr. A. could not then manage him. The animal was caught Tuesday morning about six miles from town.

A paper mill wagon collided with Levi Glenn's cart Monday morning and took a wheel off the cart.

Flashes.—Messrs. Thomas B. Elliott and Walter Needles have finished papering the large furniture store-room of Percy T. McFeely's. It is a good job. They have also done some fine work at the college.

Messrs. Wm. A. Sappington, M. E. Baker and C. T. Howard are improving the store building belonging to Mr. J. S. Bradley on High street by a neat coat of paint.

In the list of painters mentioned last week we unintentionally omitted the name of Mr. S. O. Crouch who has done some skilful work about town.

Colored Boy Drowned.—George Benj. Ringgold, grand-son of Benj. Ringgold, was drowned Monday afternoon while under Chester bridge in a boat. The child was accompanied by his sister, Carrie Ringgold, aged about 17, Wm. Palmer and Lloyd Hazelton, aged 15 and 17. The girl states that while her back was turned the little fellow fell over and nothing more was seen of him. The drowned child was five years of age and was on a visit to his grand-parents, his home being in Baltimore.

The taylor fishing at Tolchester has been very poor thus far. "Dr." Jones has given up and left the place. Rev. D. L. Greenfield and Prof. T. D. Bowers succeeded in catching twelve Tuesday and Messrs. W. R. Aldridge, Thos. G. Wroth and J. H. Aldridge a few on Wednesday.

Tolchester closed on Sunday after a very successful season. The resorts near Baltimore interferred somewhat with the Kent resort, but under the superintendence of Manager G. E. Noland everything was kept in elegant shape and everybody returned home pleased. President Eliason is to be congratulated upon his excellent management.

Vacation Over.—The schools throughout Kent reopened Monday but the attendance was small. The teachers were in their places and many new scholars were enrolled. The roll will show a big increase about the first of next month.

Property Sales.—R. D. Hynson, Esq., as attorney sold on Tuesday the lot of land and dwelling house in Still Pond adjoining the M. E. parsonage lot to Mrs. Emily DeCorse, mortgagee for $500.

J. D. Urie, Esq., on Saturday sold the farm estate of the late J. S. Clayton. "Big Meadows" was purchased by Mr. Rufus F. Parks for $3510 and James A. Pearce and Lewin W. Wickes, Esqs., bought "Little Meadows" for $2025.

JAMES JAMAR'S CLAIM.

First Suit of the Kind Ever Brought in the State of Maryland.

A suit, the basis of which is unlike that of any other suit ever begun in this state, was instituted in the City Court Friday by Thomas Ireland Elliot, of Baltimore, and Harrison W. Vickers, of Chestertown, as attorneys for James J. Jamar against the Baltimore Boot and Shoe Company for $25,000 damages for alleged personal injuies.

The case is peculiar, in that Jamar at the time of receiving his alleged injuries was a convict in the Maryland Penitentiary. He was sent to the penitentiary for six years upon conviction of murder in the second degree for killing a man named Thompson. Jamar was a resident of Queen Anne's county, Thompson of Kent. Jamar went on a fishing trip over in Kent, and the two men had a fight. Thompson had a spade and Jamar a stone, with which he struck Thompson. He was tried and convicted in Kent county, the jury recommending him to the mercy of the court. Jamar has a wife and four children.

When he was received at the penitentiary, being a man of intelligence above that of the ordinary convict, he was put to work in the shoe department, the contractors in which are the Baltimore Boot and Shoe Company. Jamar was assigned to work as receiving clerk at the elevator in the shoe shop. While employed in this capacity on February 27, 1893, it is alleged that the elevator dropped on him. He was standing directly under it, and his head went clear through the elevator floor, and Jamar was injured so that his life was despaired of. He was sent to the hospital ward, and remained there until his time had expired. At the time of the accident the Governor was about to grant a pardon to Jamar, but when he was so badly injured, it was decided that it would be no advantage to the man to be set at liberty. His injuries are such that he is now a physical wreck. During the time he spent in the penitentiary hospital he was nursed and waited on by ex-State Treasurer Stevenson Archer. Jamar speaks in highest terms of Mr. Archer's kindness to him. He says that Mr. Archer was a most considerate man, and besides waiting upon him, would help him to lessen the tediousness of the long hours by reading to him.

The case brings up a question never before decided by Maryland courts, yet in several other states there have been similar cases. As the elevator was owned by the state, and was operated by the defendant company, a question will be raised as to who is responsible for the accident.

Razor-Slashing. — On last Sunday night at a colored camp at Harrison's Grove, near Pondtown, in Queen Anne's county, a quarrel arose between two colored men, one of whom, named Pinkney, is from Kent county and the other, Gravely, was hostler for Mr. Alday Clements, in the upper part of Kent. A fight ensued, in which Gravely was severely injured with a razor. One cut extended across the side of the face, reaching the bone and severing important blood vessels. Another gash in the side and one just under the arm were not so serious. Gravely was taken to the office of Dr. Wallis, in Crumpton, where his wounds were sewed and dressed and later removed to his home. His wounds are very serious, but not necessarily fatal unless secondary hemorrhage ensues. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Pinkney, but he has not yet been apprehended.

Excursion to Town.—Tuesday was a big day in Chestertown among the colored folks. An excursion came from Baltimore on the Louise and brought 764 passengers. These were met by at least 500 from Chestertown and the surrounding country and a grand reunion held in Klinefelter's woods near Chester bridge. Everything in the way of eatables was to be had including crabs, fruit, melons, pie, etc. Many former residents of the town were among the crowd.

FRUIT NOTES.

ONE of the prettiest sights to be seen in the county is the pear orchard on Mr. R. S. Emory's farm near Chestertown. The limbs are bent low to the ground and look like they are groaning beneath the great weight. Some of the trees will yield at least twenty baskets while from the 500 trees he expects to get over 5,000 baskets! Mr. Emory is one of the most successful fruit growers in the State and believes in shipping his fruit in first class condition and in neat packages. His pears will not be ripe enough to ship for a month.

A grower of peaches near town has shipped up to date 11,000 crates of peaches for which he has received an average of over fifty cents. This grower is reasonably happy.

Mr. A. S. Crawford reports good shipments of peaches from Buck Neck. "However," says he, "I don't go down often for I find but little consolation in seeing other farmers haul peaches to the boat." Three hundred baskets were shipped from there Wednesday. Mr. Wm. H. French is one of the largest shippers, his crop averaging about fifty cents per basket.

Mr. Thos. J. Davis says his peaches have averaged nearly sixty cents per basket, most of which have been sold at Worton Station.

Col. Ross, of Seaford, last week sold a car load of peaches consisting of 800 baskets of the Elberta variety, for $1.10 per basket, receiving for the lot $880 cash.

Millington has been peach crazy the past week and every man who owned a peach orchard was busy in disposing of his fruit. For a time politics has been displaced and peaches rule. Prices have ranged from 60 to $1.10 and the growers are satisfied. If a person wanted to see the prominent men of the town he invariably found them at the depot. One day this week the road from the station was filled with wagons loaded with peaches of all sizes and qualities. The street was full of peach buyers and sellers. As soon as a wagon would arrive the buyers would mount the wheel and scan the fruit. The bidding was then done quietly but briskly. Everyone was interested from the boys who were waiting for stray peaches to fall to the men who were selling them. It was certainly a busy scene and an inspiring sight to all who looked upon it.

Mr. George Bell on Monday shipped to Hon. Stephen Elkins a basket of Chairs' choice peaches. They were beauties and will possibly induce the politician to be purer in politics as the fruit was rich and pure.

Mr. Robert Hatcherson shipped several baskets on Tuesday to that great Methodist and influential citizen of Philadelphia, Rev. S. W. Thomas, who owns several orchards in Kent.

Marshall H. Prettyman, of Milford, on Saturday purchased and shipped for a Canadian firm a carload of yellow fruit for Montreal. The fruit averaged 80 cents a basket, the freight was 40 cents a basket and the Canadian tariff is 30 cents a basket. This will make the carload of 800 baskets cost $1200 by the time it reaches Montreal. This is one of the very finest cars which has been shipped this season.

Another fine carload was shipped a few days ago to Springfield, Mass. The carload of peaches without the freight cost $750 or over 90 cents a basket for the entire 800 baskets of fruit. These were cars of fancy fruit, but the average price of fruit has been considerably more than 50 cents a basket.

Mr. Wm. Tallam, of Albany, N. Y., wants peaches at Lynch's Station today and next week. He has bought 28 carloads to date for which he has paid from 37½ to $1.00. He ships in refrigerator cars.

Two Men Cut.—A cutting affray took place on Calvert street near Mr. Harry L. Boyd's home on Tuesday night about ten o'clock. Thomas Sunkett, who lives with Mr. Robert Shallcross, of Locust Grove, Robert Jenkins, of Chestertown, Dave Russell and Ned Hall, of Galena, are charged with being participants. Sunketts was cut in the back by Jenkins and the latter received a stab in the breast but his assailant is yet unknown. The fight took place in the clear moonlight and many residents in the neighborhood witnessed the affair. As soon as the word pistol was heard many hurriedly shut the shutters. The wounds were dresed by Dr. Dodd at Druggist M. A. Toulson's.

A hearing was held yesterday before Squire Thomas and Jenkins was sent to House of Correction for 12 months. The other participants were acquitted.

A Painful Accident.—Howard Dodd the ten-year-old and the eldest son of Sheriff Thomas S. Dodd, while endeavoring to vault one of the benches in the court house green, tripped, falling on his face on the pavement, cutting the upper lip entirely through and broke off two front teeth.

A Clever Thief—One of the cleverest acts of thieving that has come under our notice was that which has been occurring in a family in Chestertown during the past summer. Two young ladies were accustomed to keep their savings at their home, and almost weekly they missed money. The servant was suspected, but she appeared too honest to steal even returning small articles found on the floor. As the summer waned the servant left, but still the money disappeared. Finally a trap was set. The son secreted himself under the bed, the father took his accustomed place in the yard while the ladies went to church. Soon after 7 o'clock the servant came and inquired very particularly for the ladies, went up town, returned and walked coolly in the front door and upstairs where she had been accustomed to finding the money. She lifted the bed and found the satchel from which she took the money. Then the son showed himself and the girl quickly pleaded for mercy. She was allowed to go home, but when the writ was issued the following day she could not be found and she is still at large. The girl stole during the summer over $100 and deprived the ladies of a summer trip.

Spraylets From Society.

THE Social happenings of Still Pond have been unusually large during the summer season. The last and most largely attended of these took place at the residence of Mrs. H. L. Crewe, Thursday evening Aug. 29th when about forty friends responded to invitations issued by Miss Myra Crewe to a "Watermelon Fete." The yard looked beautiful beyond description being brilliantly illuminated with numberless Japenese lanterns. To add to the pleasure of the evening hammocks were stretched from every conceivable point, numberless chairs and benches were strewn over the pretty grounds; delightful music both instrumental and vocal was highly enjoyed and all the popular games were played upon the lawn. Indeed it was an out-of-doors affair entirely as on such beautiful evenings when the silvery moon and twinkleing stars shed their radiant beams on the smiling faces of the fair sex, indoors hath no charms for their gallant escorts. About 10.30 all were invited to tables which fairly groaned beneath their weight of good things, for the inner man. They were extremely beautiful, being artistically arranged with all the fruits available, water melon being predominant.

Oh, gim me, Oh, gime me, Oh, how I wish you would Dat watermelon smiling on de vine.

The decorations of the evening consisted of roses, variegated petunias and watermelon vines. In addition to the above named refreshments ice cream, ices and cake were served in abundance. Miss Myra was assisted in receiving by her brother, L. Harris Crewe, Miss Lilian Busick and Miss Daisy Moffett. As the small wee hours of morning were drawing near, all reluctantly dispersed to their numerous homes. A more pleasant time could not have been had and all joined in expressing heart felt appreciation of the kind welcome and hospitality shown by the hostess, one of the most popular young ladies of the community. Among those present were: Miss Matthews, of New York; the Misses Alma Jump, Lillian Busick and Etta Wallis, of Baltimore; Miss Edith and Mabel Jamar, of Philadelphia; Miss Lucy Richardson, of Denton, Md.; Misses Arsula and Violet Moffett, of Chesterville; Miss Daisy Moffett, Kate Howard, Ada Hepbron, Josephine Jones, Pauline Nelson, Myra Crewe, Mamie Roseberry, Lulu Bonwill, Jessie Crewe and Della Ford, of Still Pond. Messrs. John Bennett, Rob't Hill and William Crow, of Kennedyville; J. Roy Roseberry, Hunter P. Davis, Samuel G. Roseberry, L. Harris Crewe, R. Sinclair Turner, Walter Moffett, Wm. H. Krusen, William M. Watts, Eugene Bonwill Arthur Harris, Roland Crewe, Edgar Pennington and others.

"Bubbles and Bundles" was the title of a sociable held on the church green at Kennedyville Wednesday evening. The affair was well attended and a delightful evening spent in innocent pleasures. Bundles of candy, monkeys, babies, etc., were placed on a table and soap bubbles were made by the participants, the bundle on which the bubble broke being the property of the bubble blower. Of course this made lots of fun.

The lawn fete held on Mr. Joseph Porter's lawn in Worton last Saturday evening was largely attended and the entertainment provided proved very successful.

A delightful dance was given in Stam's Hall on Monday evening. The hall was prettily trimmed for the occasion, and the dance music was discoursed by our local talent. The ladies present were: Misses Nettie Merritt, Bessie Poe Gilpin, Edna Ringgold, Baltimore; Miss Mabel Graham, Washington, D. C.; Misses Minnie Massey, Lottie Wickes, Sallie Beck, Bertha and Lillian Hynson, Nannie and Annie Brice, Marie Westcott, Mary Rodgers, Isabel Beck, Mrs. Richard Hynson, Mrs. Samuel Beck, Chestertown.
