PICTURE FRAUDS!

One Hundred Good Citizens of Chestertown Badly Fooled or Swindled out of More than $200!

The people of Chestertown have been the victims of one of the boldest swindles of modern times. Messrs. Culpepper & Barnes, accompanied by two women, arrived in town April 1st and engaged board at the Watt's House. They stated their occupation to be photographers and exhibited this card.

Established 1889.
THE CULPEPPER MF'G CO.
Dealers in FINE PHOTOGRAPHS.
High Grade Pastels a Specialty.
Manufacturers of
All Kinds of Picture Frames, Easels, Etc.
770 Columbia Avenue, Baltimore, Md.
Represented by.....

Many of the ladies upon whom they called had previously lost their only picture and been swindled out of several dollars, which fact made them very careful. But Mr. Culpepper was "hot stuff" and talked pleasantly to his customers and succeeded in securing about one hundred orders! He claimed to enlarge pictures for nothing but had frames to sell very cheap. He took the photographs and in a week returned with the proof. It was on this second visit that the order for the frame was taken and a receipt given for a part payment on the frame, which was to be delivered within a week. But several weeks have passed and no one has received original photograph or enlarged picture.

The following conversation took place between the picture man and Mrs. S.:

"Now, I want to know if you're a fraud, because I was swindled once!"

"Oh, no. I'm no Polish Jew."

"Well, this is the only picture I have and I want it returned because it is very hard to get the men to have one taken, and if you're a humbug I want to know it."

Several ladies borrowed pictures of loved ones and care more for the loss of the picture than for the small sum advanced on frame.

Not only are the citizens minus money and pictures but the party left Mrs. Watts proprietor of the Watts House, with a check which proved to be worthless.

A NEWS reporter visited their Baltimore headquarters but found that they had absconded and their neighbor remarked that they were "dead beats."

The American of recent date published a report similar to this:

"Culpeper & Barnes, of Columbia Avenue, were arrested last night charged with swindling young men and women. They advertise for workmen and promise $4 per day. These parties were to tint pictures at their homes and were to pay $5 as a guarantee of six months service. After repeated attempts at "tinting" they were unable to please Culpepper or to make a cent and gave up trying. Scores of five dollars were gotten by this means."

Mr. Eugene Lucas, of Chestertown, was among the number who was "taken in" by this firm and you may know what is Eugene's opinion of them.

A message was received in Chestertown a few days ago from Mr. Stevens, of Clayton, warning our people to look out for the picture swindlers, but they had finished their work here. Clayton is sympathizing with Chestertown.

Mrs. G. Allen Jarman, of Washington Avenue, refused positively to trust them and is among the few who was too smart for the "boys." The list of their customers include many of our most prominent citizens, who are justly indignant at the imposition.

These gentlemen reported at several places that Mr. M. A. Toulson directed them to call which was a falsehood as our druggist knew nothing concerning them.

Northern Convocation.—The Northern Convocation of the Diocese of Easton will convene in North Kent Parish on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 11, 12, 13th. On Tuesday at 7.30 P. M. in the chapel at Millington, after evening prayer there will be a sermon by Rev. Alex. M. Rich, of Port Deposit. Wednesday at 10.30 A. M., after morning prayer, there will be a sermon by Rev. C. S. Davidson, of Chesapeake City, in the church at Masseys. At 7.30 P. M., after service, there will be discussion of the following subject, viz., The three Resurrections, of Lazarus, of Jairus' daughter, of the son of the widow of Nain, by Rev. Messrs. Edson, Roberts and Davidson. Thursday morning in the church at Masseys, after morning prayer, at 10.30, there will be a sermon by Rev. Mr. Edson. At 7.30 P. M. there will be a discussion of the following subject: Our church's attitude toward other Christian bodies, by Rev. Messrs. Schouler, Duncan and Denroche. The Holy Communion will be celebrated on Wednesday morning. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

A buyer in Middletown paid 75 cents per bushel for a farmer's prospective crop of wheat. We heard of several buyers in Chestertown offering 60 cents but none at 75 cents.

The asparagus growers have been making large shipments this week. Mr. Wm. Brown, of Cliff City, shipped 60 dozen bunches Monday for which he received $2.15 per dozen.

Sale of a House. — John H. Greenwood, auctioneer, sold for Edward W. Hepbron, executor, on Tuesday the house and lot belonging to the estate of the late Mary A. E. Hepborn, situated on west side of the road leading from Hepbron station to Still Pond, and occupied by Medford Porter. Dr. J. W. Urie was the purchaser at $400.

Change of Schedules.—The steamer Sassafras will begin making round trips next Monday, leaving Georgetown at 6.30 A. M., and Baltimore at 3 o'clock. These trips will be made every day excepting Friday; see schedule elsewhere.

The Emma A. Ford will continue her present schedule with the exception of leaving Chestertown at 7 A. M. instead of 8. Round trips will be made later.

On the Alert.— The city detectives in Harrisburg remarked to the NEWS reporter that he was on the look-out for Schofield and as evidencing the general knowledge of his escape he said: "I accosted a strange colored man on the street a few days ago and asked him where he was from. He replied, oh, sir, I'm not Schofield! I'm from Kent county, Md., but I have employment here!" Upon examination was found to be unlike the man wanted. The man who was held had gone to the jail after something to eat and did not express any concern over the matter.

THE FRUIT OUTLOOK!

No Noubt But That Strawberries Are Injured. Peaches Hurt in Some Sections.

A special to the NEWS from Mr. Wesley Webb, secretary of the Peninsula Horticultural Society, says:

Reports of vice-presidents of Peninsula Horticultural Society show that the freeze of last week was disastrous to fruits on this peninsula south of a line from Dover to Easton. North of that line peaches are not seriously injured. Reports are: Caroline, peaches 60, pears 75, apples 100, plums 100, strawberries 90, raspberries and blackberries 100; Dorchester, peaches, pears, plums, cherries and raspberries 50, apples, quinces and blackberries 100, strawberries 75; strawberries are 75 also in Sussex and Wicomico; peaches are killed in Wicomico, apples and small fruits, except strawberries, are 0. K. Farther south all fruits and vegetables have suffered.

NESBY WEBB, SEC'Y.

Dover, April 28.

Mr. I. N. Mills' special agent of the P. W. & B. R. R., has made a thorough investigation of the damage done the fruit crop of the Peninsula by the recent frosts and cold weather. He says the strawberry crop is hurt quite badly, and the probabilities are that the growers will not realize more than one-third of a crop, as all the fruit blossoms were killed. As to the peach crop Mr. Mills would say but little, as it is most too early to make an estimate. He does not expect a full crop as there have been full crops now two years in succession as will be seen by the following figures of the crop for the past four years:

1893	4,082,000	baskets.
1894	29,000	"
1895	2,100,000	"
1896	3,513,000	"

The trees have been worked hard for two seasons and there has been but little new wood made. Of course there are orchards that did not bear last year which will be loaded with peaches this year and this may increase the yield with the new orchards which will come in bearing, but the outlook is not for a large crop. No accurate estimate, however, can be made until after the "June drop."

The reports as published last week in the NEWS from other sections have been substantiated this week.

The best informed Kent growers believe our peach crop not seriously hurt.

Levy Court, April 27.—Full board present. The following acounts were examined and passed: For road work—John Dempsey, $21.67; P. B. Roberts, $13.30; Thomas Quigley, $50.40; John M. Kinsey, $22.95; Samuel B. Latham, $38.85; W. S. Walker, $53.05; Wm. Biggers, $26.35; C. L. Turner, $154.47; J. C. Davis, $82.70; B. F. J. Sparks, $75.60; P. I. Jewell, $14.30; Lorenzo Johnson, $30.50; Isaac Tilghman, $15.30; Wm. H. Toulson, $25.97; Henry Wright, $6.80; Benj. Wheeler, $46.18; O. M. Fogwell, Jr., $29.65; J. I. Dobson, $46.60; John C. Rolph, $40.25; Dr. J. W. Urie, account salary, $75; J. P. Ahern, for shells, $191.38; S. J. Davis, constable fees, $8.90; J. M. Chilcutt, carpenters work, $2. B. H. Coburn, constable of fifth district, presented his resignation. His term expires next week.

"Prison Life in Fort Delaware" will be portrayed in personal recollections by Rev. Edw. R. Rich, in Stam's Hall, on Wednesday evening, May 12. The lecture, in addition to its relations of thrilling interest, is a literary treat which any intelligent community will appreciate.

Fire.—The small frame house on Cannon street owned by Mr. Jeff. D. Bacchus and occupied by Mitchell Bell, colored, took fire yesterday from an engine near by and was slightly damaged. The fire department did excellent work and prevented a serious fire.

Sights of a Day.

IT is the Sabbath day, that day in seven that has special hold upon every human heart in the civilized world. There is perhaps no scene that is sweeter to him who can appreciate the higher emotions in the heart and the delicate impressions of the natural world, than the Sabbath in Chestertown. Its very stillness and quiet—a very Sabbath in the air, the streets, on the river, the woods and the fields; the mellow chiming of the various church bells as they sound the call to worship; the glad, thrilling music of voices as it floats out on the spring air; the solemn words of earnest workers, all form a spell that cast over the heart its kindliest influences.

Father McSweeney preaches to a fine audience in Sacred Heart Church, many in attendance coming in carriages. Miss Josie Redue, who is ever faithful to her church, is at the organ and here God is worshiped and the day observed.

It is 9.30 and from both the Methodist churches we hear the Amens of scores of earnest disciples as they give their experiences in the Christian life. Mr. J. B. McIntyre has charge of the early class at the M. E. Church and Mr. Lewin S. Fowler at the M. P. Church.

At 10.30 the church bells on all the churches ring for worship. Rev. S. C. Roberts, D. D. discourses to a good-sized congregation and Miss Mary Hurtt presides at the organ. Rev. C. A. Grise, D. D. is in his place in the M. E. pulpit and discourses on the Usefulness of the Church of God, before a large audience. In the congregation we notice Mayor Alceaus Hooper, of Baltimore, who attracts considerable attention as he walks in with H. W. Vickers, Esq., and City Solicitor Thos. I. Elliott. Prof. R. K. Pippin directs the singing while Miss Anna Lambert sits at the organ. Rev. J. M. Gill preaches to a fine congregation in the M. P. Church on Santification or Can a man Be Beyond Sinning. Miss Clara Usilton presides at the organ and has a willing choir at her back. Two colored churches are well attended and the gospel preached with much vigor by Revs. Ridout and Hughes.

After service comes the interesting procession and we are impressed with the simplicity, beauty and exquisite taste of dress as seen on this day. We may have something to say on this line "some other day." Chester cemetery is the objective point of many while others take to the mill walk or Chester bridge.

With the exception of a carriage now and then or a bicyclist speeding along, our streets or roads are deserted.

We visit the nurseries of the church in the afternoon and such sights as there unfold before us would fill volumes to tell. Go and see for yourself, reader. At the P. E. Church the beloved pastor explains the lesson while devoted teachers endeavor to teach the truths of the day. This school numbers about 125. The Catholic school is small but faithful leaders are none the less earnest. The Methodists give especial attention to this branch and both schools are alive and full of bouyancy. Mr. M. A. Toulson stands at the head of one and Mr. Wm. B. Usilton in the other. Full orchestras add volume and beauty to the songs that are sung under the batons of Mr. R. S. Thomas in the M. E. and Mr. W. W. Chapman in the M. P., and the sweet music from children's lips go out and up to the Heavenly throne. The beautiful story of Peter's deliverance from prison is told in all the schools and holds the attention of all. At 4 P. M the Y. M. C. A., of Washington College, hold their special meeting and on this day Dr. Hall presents a learned discourse on 'Evolution.'

There is an eventide in the day—an hour when the sun retires and the shadows fall. At such an hour soon after six the bells again ring out and here we see hundreds of young folks gathered for worship as an Epworth League, there a flock of little ones praising God and meeting in the capacity of Junior Endeavors. Then comes the praise and song services, followed by more gospel expounded from six pulpits. Thus the Sabbath is spent in the churches.

But there are those who do not attend these services. They are but few, however, and these few spend the day by resting from the toils of the week, visiting friends, wandering about the fields, laying about home or otherwise.

The factory whistle is silent, the car and boat lay quiet seemingly resting from the week's labor.

A HORRIBLE SIGHT!

A Five Year Old Child Attacked by a Mad Dog Near Chestertown—Beaten off by Several Men!

The community about Morgnec were given a shock last Saturday upon hearing of a dreadful attack of a small child by a mad dog. The little five year old son of Isaac Cotton, colored, was seated outside its home watching a lot of children play ball. While seated there the large dog belonging to Joseph Dolan lay down near by and had a fit, and then immediately sprang upon the child biting a piece from his cheek and then grabbing the little fellow by the throat! The dog's queer actions were noticed by several men standing near and as soon as he made the attack on the child they rushed so the rescue, but the animal did its work quickly. The dog was beaten off the child and escaped before he could be killed and was still at large when last heard from. The injured child was brought to Chestertown and treated by Dr. J. A. Catlin, who advised the parents to send it to New York. They returned to Morgnec and stated they were going to make an effort to send the boy to the Pasteur Institute. Dr. Catlin says the child was bitten very badly and unless treatment is secured at once hydrophobia will make its appearance. There is no doubt about the dog being mad.

A KENT LADY ROBBED!

Her Nephew Takes Her Diamonds and Gives Them to a Circus Man—A Pitiful Story of Gambling, etc.

A slender, black-mustached young man, who gave the name of Charles Howland, was charged Wednesday with having in his possession $650 worth of jewels belonging to a certain young lady recently from near Chestertown but now making her home on McCulloh street, which, it was stated, he had obtained by making friends with her nephew, Preston, a lad ten years of age.

Posed as a Circus Man.

Howland represented himself as the son of Mr. J. A. Bailey, proprietor of the Barnum & Bailey shows, and offered Preston a position with the circus. The little fellow quickly fell into the man's trap and was an easy victim. The man met Preston, the lad testified, last Monday in Druid Hill Park.

During his walk with young Preston Howland told the lad that he had taken a fancy to him and that he would like to have him travel with his children with the circus. The idea pleased the boy and he consented to meet Howland an hour later at Mosher street and Eutaw Place. At this meeting Howland, the boy said, told him he had telegraphed his father about taking him with the circus and had received a reply that it would be all right, provided a deposit of $1,000 was made.

Took His Aunt's Jewelry.

"When I said that I could not get the money," continued Preston. "Mr. Bailey or Howland said that he had $625, and would let that go as part of the deposit and would see if he could not get more by the next day. Tuesday morning I met him on the same corner and he said that he had raised $200 more, but that I would have to get the balance. He asked if I could not get some jewelry to cover the amount, as it would only be used for a week and could be returned next Wednesday.

"I went home and got my aunt's diamond ring. An hour later I met him and, after giving him the ring, we went out to the park. On our way back he told me that I would have to get more than the one ring, so I went home and got a diamond pin and another ring. This morning we were to meet to take a drive."

Tuesday night the aunt missed her jewels and was told by the boy that he had given them to a man with whom he had an engagement. Capt. Baker then detailed an officer who followed the lad and arrested Howland as soon as he met the boy. When searched diamond pins and other articles were found upon him.

The Man's Own Story.

"I am 32 years old. My mother is 79 years old, and considers me a model young man. Should she hear of the trouble I am now in it would kill her. Consequently I will not give my name. My fondness for the races has brought me to this. Luck has been against me. Just prior to the Washington races I pawned a suit of clothes. The circus coming to Baltimore gave me the idea to get hold of money to put myself on my feet. I kept the memoranda of my engagements with the boys so that I could return everything I obtained from them. I obtained nothing except from two boys."

The Magistrate's Court.—Justice Lambert had a Butlertown fracas before him last Wednesday—the parties being colored. Samuel Dorsey was charged with striking Mary Young three times, and her face showed evidence of bruising. The justice imposed a fine of $3 and cost—total $7.55—upon Dorsey, and his counsel H. W. Catlin, Esq., noted an appeal to the Circuit court.

R. BERGEN will have a new ad. in the NEWS next week. His store is full of new spring goods at the very lowest figures.
