All our Tomato Seeds are saved from the choicest fruits in our fields. We grow enormous quantities of Tomatoes exclusively for seed and never market any of our crops. Experienced tomato growers know why we never permit an ounce of canning house tomato seed to come into our store. It is impossible for such seed to be pure and true to name. We have had very short crops of our High Grade Tomato Seeds this season, so send us your orders early.

THE SAD REAPER

MORRIS FRIEDMAN.

Morris Friedman, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Friedman, died at his home in Dover on Tuesday last. Morris was well-known in Chestertown where the family lived for several years. He was sick with typhoid fever for two months.

DR. FRANCES DUNLAP.

Dr. Frances Dunlap died on Sunday last at his home in Delaware City. He was 72 years of age and had been confined to his bed for about three years as he was paralyzed several years ago. He leaves a widow. Dr. Dunlap was the owner of the fine L. C. Justis farm near Kennedyville now tenanted by Mr. Wm. H. Wallis. The funeral took place on Tuesday from his late home in Delaware City.

MARTIN DAUGHERTY.

Martin Daugherty, for a great many years a huxter on the boats of the old Chester river line, and a well-known character, died at the home of his sister in Baltimore, about two weeks ago, aged about 87 years. The deceased was known by almost every passenger who has traveled between Love Point and Baltimore since the Chester river line has been controlled by the M. D. & V. Railroad Company.

MRS. JOHN STATES.

Mrs. John States, wife of Mr. John States, died at her home in Crumpton, Sunday evening about 10 o'clock, after having been stricken with paralysis about an hour before. Mrs. States had been in an enfeebled condition for several years, being 70 years of age. Besides her husband, she is survived by seven children, three sons and four daughters viz: Messrs. George States and James States, of Kent county, and John States of Crumpton; Mrs. D. S. Davis and Mrs. Montgomery Anthony, of Kent county, Mrs. George Clarke and Miss Marian States, of Crumpton.

Funeral services were held at her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. C. J. Burdette of the M. P. Church officiating. Interment was made in Crumpton cemetery, Bradley and Sparks undertakers.

J. W. W. WOODFORD.

J. W. W. Woodford, a prominent citizen of Centreville, died at his residence on Commerce street, about 11.30 o'clock on Thursday night last, of heart failure.

The deceased was the eldest of three children and the only son of the late James and Julia Woodford, and was born in Elkton, July 26th, 1839. On going to Centreville he established a mail route and stage line between that point and Queenstown, being the first man to operate a stage in the entire county. In addition he also ran a transfer line for the town and a line of stages from there to Chestertown and Easton. In 1895, however he sold out to his son William J. Woodford, who is still in the livery business in Centreville. Mr. Woodford was a firm believer in the Democratic party. His wife, Anna H. Reeves, was a daughter of Thomas Reeves, of Bridgeton, New Jersey, and the grand-daughter of a Revolutionary patriot. They were married in Crumpton when both were quite young. She still survives. Of their four children, three are living; William J. and Marion J. and Thomas R. Woodford, both of Baltimore. Mr. Woodford has been a justice of the peace in Centreville for a number of years, which position he occupied at the time of his death. Fraternally he was a Mason, having been a charter member of Corsica Lodge, now Centreville Lodge 180.

Frightful Experience.—Clara, the twelve year-old daughter of Capt. J. E. Vickers, of Broad Neck, while horse-back riding on Tuesday afternoon of last week, lost control of her horse as it ran at full speed. The bridle broke but she held on by the mane for considerable distance. In turning in at gate of her home she was thrown off his back, but with both arms around the horse's neck she clung there until the animal stopped. Clara is suffering with soreness and says she will drive him again but not ride on his back.

WE are in receipt from Mr. James Brice of a premium list of the Florida State Fair to be held at Tampa next week. The State appropriates $15,000 for premiums. Mr. Wm. Elburn and son, of Kent, are also in attendance at this Fair.

CAPT. MIDDLETON WRECKED.

Capt. B. F. Middleton, wife, infant and grown son, crew of the barge Mascot, which sank in Hampton Roads on Sunday night, were rescued by the crew of Thimble Shoal Light Station, Hampton Roads. The cries of the woman were heard and a boat was lowered from the station, and the four were rescued from a 12-foot flat-bottom boat used on the barge. The rescue was made under difficulties, while a south-west gale was blowing and a heavy sea running. Next day the shipwrecked persons were taken off by the tug Bohemia, which had the Mascot in tow when she was lost. Captain Middleton and family returned to Chestertown Thursday.

STORM INCIDENTS

Train Gets Through Sunday and Mail Delivered—Roads Blocked With Snow.

Chestertown was without mail service from Thursday until Sunday noon. Postmaster Thomas and his deputies opened the mail upon its arrival Sunday and same was delivered at noon.

The rural carriers made desperate efforts to get through with the county papers Saturday. Mr. Willis got as far as Mr. R R. Hatcherson's, Mr. Kendall as far as Iron Hill, Mr. Woods covered his whole route and Mr. Fred Russell went on horseback over his route with exception of Broad Neck. Mr. Scoone got as far as Rees' Corner from Rock Hall on Saturday. The county cross roads running North are impassable because of snow banks and country traveling is rather hazardous.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hines started in Quaker Neck last Friday evening to attend a social function, when about a mile from town they got stuck in a snow drift. Mrs. Hines walked back to Mr. A. M. Brown's and obtained help to dig the horse and carriage out. After considerable trouble and the combined efforts of State's Attorney Beck, Mr. J. D. Lucas, S. Scott Beck, Esq., and Dr. F. B. Hines the whole party succeeded in returning to Chestertown in safety.

Miss Mary Hines, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hines, was thrown from a sleigh near the college last Friday and considerably shaken up. She was driving a pair of young horses belonging to Mr. Wilbur Eliason with a party of young folks when she ran into a snow bank and the whole party was emptied into the road in the snow.

A drummer in coming from Kennedyville to Chestertown on Wednesday says he was compelled to unharness his horse three times from his carriage and drag the vehicle through the snow bank to clearance.

Examiner Melvin, whose home is in Morgnec, had to abandon his team and walked to town last Saturday and on Monday his horse became stalled in the snow and the Examiner had quite a serious time getting here. His experience however, was not as bad as Prof. Chaplain, examiner in Talbot county. He was lost in the blinding snowstorm last Thursday night while driving from St. Michaels, and was compelled to spend the night in the woods.

Prof. Chaplain said that he went to visit the schools in St. Michaels on Thursday, and after doing so, ate his supper and was preparing to start for Easton. It was snowing hard, but he thought he would have no difficulty in reaching home. After leaving St. Michaels he found that the snow was coming down fast, striking him full in the face, so that he could not see far in front of him. He dropped the reins over the dashboard and let the horse take its own way.

The horse went on for about half an hour, when it came to a sudden stop in the middle of the road. Prof. Chaplain got out and found that he was in the woods, with a tree lying across the middle of the road. He endeavored to get his horse and carriage over or around it, but in doing so got a wheel caught in a lot of stumps and bushes.

He was beginning to get cold, and not knowing the way out, decided to unharness the horse and spend the night where he was. After securing the horse he got into the carriage, with the snow driving down at his back and, bundling himself up with the lap robes and blankets, went to sleep.

Upon waking, early in the morning, he espied a colored man coming through the woods toward him. He called to him. They tried to get the carriage out, but could not, as the Professor was so cold he could not render much assistance, so he told the colored man to go to Royal Oak and tell Perry Benson to get some men and help him out of the predicament. The colored man went, and in about a half hour Mr. Benson and several others, arrived, and Professor Chaplain was taken to Royal Oak, where he remained Friday and Saturday, as the snow had drifted so badly that it was impossible to drive home. The Professor came to Easton on Saturday night on the train.

The pastors of both Methodist churches in Chestertown presented in most urgent arguments Sunday morning the features of the new anti-saloon bill now before the legislature. Mr. J. Waters Russell lead the song service in Christ Church Sunday. A violin solo by Miss Winifred Gray accompanied by Miss Anna Smyth, pianist, and a solo by little Miss Ida Smith were pleasing features.

Several months ago, the pastor gave notice that unless the church had a successful revival this winter he would not remain at the church for another year, as he wished to labor where he could do more good.

The pastor of Wesley Chapel has arranged to give a series of lectures in that church during the month of February on The Book of Books as follows: Feb. 5th, "How did we get it"; Feb. 12th, "Its Plans and Purpose"; Feb. 19th, "How to Study it"; Feb. 26th, "St. Paul as a Preacher." He will hold his first service at St. Clement's Church, Massey, the following morning at 10.30 (The Feast of the Purification.) At 7.30 P. M. in Millington there will be evening prayer and sermon by the new rector.

A Fatal Accident.—Frank Maslin, a young man living in Grove Neck in the First district, of Cecil, while out gunning Thursday afternoon met with a sad and somewhat peculiar accident, which resulted in his death. While walking along with his gun across one arm he made a misstep, and in some way the gun was discharged. The rebound knocked the weapon from his grasp and in falling the second barrell was discharged, the load taking effect in the unfortunate man's side. He was removed to the home of William Freeman, where he lingered until two o'clock Sunday morning, when death released him from his sufferings. The remains were taken to Galena on Monday afternoon for interment.

This is the second fatality which has occured in that immediate neighborhood in less than a year, the other being the accidental shooting of Miss Start as she was playfully attempting to take a gun from a young man to whom she was engaged to be married.

THE steamboat company is paid $350 for carrying mail to Rock Hall. The revenue received for one year was $310.50; 384 trips; 30 miles. To Crisfield the pay is $3,000; revenue $1,336.68; 200 trips; 116 miles.
