WEDDING NOTES

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Christ M. P. Church parsonage Saturday morning by Rev. N. O. Gibson in the presence of a few intimate friends. The interested parties were Albert L. Wheat, the popular salesman in Vansant & Newsome's store, and Miss Elizabeth Meeks, bookkeeper in the Chestertown Bank of Maryland. After the wedding they left by auto for Atlantic City via Elkton. Upon their return they will reside on Water street near Simon Westcott's home. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

The Young People's Conference at Westminster was largely attended this week by Kent countians. Among those present from Christ Church were Mrs. Arthur Bacon, Mrs. Ella Robinson and son, Misses Myra Wheat and Maud Duyer, Rev. N. O. Gibson and wife.

The bride was becomingly attired in gray canton crepe, with hat to match. Miss Mary Anderson and Howard Pennington were their attendants.

John Clarence Usilton and Miss Vera Layton were married on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock at the Sacred Heart Church, by Rev. James F. Earner. They will reside in Chestertown after an extended honeymoon.

The bride was attired in a gray suit with hat to match and was attended by Mrs. McCall Rasin. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left by Elkton for a honeymoon trip. They will reside at present with the groom's parents, at Chestertown.

FARM BUREAU DRIVE

Farmers of Kent are enthusiastic over the Farm Bureau. The meetings held every night this week have been well attended, speakers enthusiastic and fine prospects for a large membership.

LET'S GO!

County W. C. T. U. Convention

The County Convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Methodist Protestant Church, Kennedyville, on Thursday August 16th. Afternoon and evening sessions will be held at 2 p. m. and 7.30 p. m. respectively, Supper will be served by Kennedyville Union. This Union is quite active along practical lines there having been given talks on "Enforcement of Law" at four meetings recently held in Kennedyville.

The evening session will open with music and the address of the evening will be delivered by Rev. J. W. Trout, D. D. Churches, Sunday schools, Epworth Leagues, Christian Endeavor Societies and other Christian organizations are invited to send delegates and ministers are especially invited.

Three nuns from Vallanova College, Vallanova and Mother Superior of St. Ann's Convent, Wilmington, Del., were the guests of Miss Helen McGugan, near Locust Grove, the past week.

Henry Kratzer has contracted with Ellsworth Newcomb for a residence to be erected on his lot next to James W. Crouch and fronting on Chester river.

MILK PRICE GOES UP

Again the Kent farmers engaged in dairying have been cheered by an increase in price of milk at the cooling station. July 1st the price of milk was raised 12 cents making the new price $3.19 per hundred for 4 per cent milk. The quantity being delivered at the cooling stations in Kent continues about the same as in April and May. The total for one week at the five stations is about 71,000 pounds. This would indicate receipts of $900,000 for the year.

HAND OF DEATH

Mrs. Hannah Sadtler died Wednesday, July 25th, at the home of her brother, Charles Clayton, near Rock Hall. She had been an invalid for several years. Formerly Mrs. Sadtler had lived in lower Kent and her sons, Walter and Ray attended school in Piney Neck. Walter was drowned some years ago. She leaves her husband and a daughter besides one son. The remains were taken to Baltimore and funeral services held from the John F. Denny funeral parlors Thursday; interment was made in Baltimore.

Mrs. Helen C. Reinhart, mother of the late Carey Reinhart, died at her summer home near St. Paul's Church Friday, July 27, aged 79. She leaves one son, Albert R. Reinhart, of North Carolina, and three grandchildren. Funeral held in Baltimore on Monday with interment at Loudon Park Cemetery; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

The guardian angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith Monday morning and claimed one of these twin sons, A. Earle Smith, in his 21st year. He was just getting over the typhoid fever and he realized he was on his way to Heaven, which he spoke of quite often. Earle was a good boy and will be missed by a host of friends. Besides his broken hearted parents he leaves five sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Nettie Hinkel, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Pauline Hoffner, of New Jersey; Mrs. Hilda Stafford, of Philadelphia; Lillian and Margaret, Foster and Harry at home. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at his parent's home with W. T. Hicks in charge. The bearers were his two brothers, A. Foster and Harry Smith, Earle Smith, Jack and Homer Smith, William Fields, Kennard Stafford and Albert Baxter. Revs. Mr. Buckson and Ivonhoe Willis officiated.

GUARANTORS MEET FOR THE CHAUTAUQUA

The guarantors of the Chestertown Chautauqua met at the Savings Bank last night and planned for the coming week of joy. The program as outlined promises some excellent features. The officers for 1923 are as follows: Allan A. Harris, president; W. Irving Walker, vice-president; M. W. Thomas, secretary; R. Raymond Wilkins, treasurer; W. Robt. Huey, chairman of the ticket-selling committee; George W. French, chairman of the Grounds Committee; Joseph N. Wheatley, chairman of the Advertising Committee; and Miss Cynthia Clendaniel, chairman of the Junior Auxiliary. Full program will appear next week.

AN AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Most persons in Maryland had perhaps forgotten that a Constitutional amendment is to be voted on this fall. It refers only to Baltimore city, but the whole State will vote on it.

The meat of the amendment is this:

"In addition to the authority granted to the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to pay to each of the judges of the Supreme Bench the annual sum of $500, authority is hereby given to said Mayor and City Council to pay to each of said judges such further annual sum as an addition to their respective salaries as the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time deem proper."

It simply removes the barriers against adequate remuneration of the city judges.

EGG MARKETING

The latest move of the county Farm Bureau is one which has a great promise of functioning to the good of a large number of people. The organization is working to bring about a co-operative method of marketing. This more than anything else will directly benefit the farmer wives of Kent.

We are glad to see any movement that will better conditions for the people who represent the best and most substantial element in these United States. We hope that the Farm Woman will look into and closely examine the possibilities which exist in the plan. If all cooperate, eggs will bring from 8 to 10 cents more to the dozen, than by the old system, where each marketed their product separately. Congratulations to the Farm Bureau, and all its members.

Mr. and Mrs. William Salter and family, of Drexel Hill, Pa., are spending sometime at the Chesapeake Hotel, Betterton.

President Harding Is Dead!

President Harding died of pneumonia Thursday night at San Francisco. His condition was not considered serious at first, but it took a turn for the worse at Seattle, when the President went through a five-hour speaking engagement and military review, against the advice of Dr. Charles E. Sawyer, his personal physician. The sudden turn for the worse caused Dr. Sawyer to order the President to take a long rest and call off his trip through the Panama Canal. The President was rushed to San Sanfrancisco, where heart and lung specialists were called in to diagnose the case.

There is no question that the President overdid himself in his efforts to please those who met him at various stops in the United States and in Alaska and that this, together with the variety of food to which he was unaccustomed, were mainly responsible for his breakdown.

Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, was born in a tiny hamlet later known as Blooming Grove, in Morrow county, Ohio, November 22, 1865, the son of George Tyron and Phoebe Elizabeth Dickerson Harding. His youth was that of a country boy.

Mr. Harding, throughout his career as a newspaper publisher, and in politics, had flowers provided for her every Sunday morning as long she lived.

The mother died in 1910. Thereafter no matter where he was, Mr. Harding always had flowers in his own room on Sunday morning as a gentle token of her memory, thus observing a "Mother's Day" every week of the year.

The father of President Harding was a country physician still practicing at seventy-six when his son came to the White House. At one time, the Harding family was nearly wiped out in the Indian massacres of early days, and Dr. Harding told at the time of his son's inauguration how only one of the name survived.

His successor is Vice-President Calvin Coolidge, of Massachusetts, a big man.

The whole Nation grieves over the death of our President. We are glad we have such an able Vice-President who will take up the reins of Government.

A plan, which it is believed will ultimately result in the reunion of the northern and southern branches of the Methodist Episcopal Churches, divided in 1844 over the question of slavery, was last week presented to the joint commission on unification at the opening session of its four-day meeting in Cleveland. There has been much agitation in both branches for reunification for some time, and the standing commission on the subject has been maintained for several years. It is composed of twenty-five representatives of each branch, ten of whom are bishops, five from the north and five from the south. The northern branch has a membership of 4,200,000, the largest of any Protestant denomination in the country, according to latest reports. The southern church has 1,900,000 members.

It will now go to the annual conference for settlement.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, Thomas W. Berger, who died August 2, 1922.

One year has passed, our hearts are sore
As time flies on we miss him more,
He sleeps, we leave him in peace to rest,
The parting was painful, but God knew best.
Home is sad, oh God, how dreary,
Lonesome, lonesome, every spot,
Listening for the voice of father,
Silent for we hear him not.
But one thought comes to me in my sadness,
He is free from all sickness and pain,
And I trust when my journey is ended,
I will meet my dear father again.
In the graveyard, sweetly sleeping,
Lies the one we loved—so dear,
How we miss you, darling father,
In this sad and lonely year.
Sleep in peace, dear darling father,
Sleep the sleep that God has blest,
For he has called you up to Heaven
With the angels there to rest.

By his loving children, George and Mary
