Matrimonial.

Two of the most popular young people in the fifth district were quietly married Wednesday evening. These young people were Mr. CHARLES MILLER, a member of the firm of Miller Bros., and Miss EDITH STEVENS, daughter of Mr. Wm. Stevens. The ceremony was performed at the M. P. parsonage by Rev. C. K. McCaslin in the presence of a number of friends. The bride wore a becoming wedding garment and looked more charming than ever before, carrying in her hand a large bouquet of chrysanthemums. After the wedding the party drove to their new home in Rock Hall where Misses Ida Wood, Julia Burgess and other friends were awaiting them.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of the Rev. EUGENE A. ROBINSON and Miss CHARLOTTE CLINE, at 12.30 o'clock on Wednesday, November 10th 1897, in the Methodist Episcopal church, at Wenonah, N. J. Mr. Robinson graduated in the class of 1891 at Washington College, but is now pastor of a wealthy congregation in the Adirondack mountains.

SNAP SHOTS.

Views Taken After the Election of Prominent Politicians, Candidates and Others.

The NEWS artist made his ante-election visit to prominent politicians Wednesday and word pictures are reproduced here of how they viewed the election returns.

We first see our jovial friend, Notary Public Lucas. He is sad and dejected, so much so that he fails to answer us with that musical "ha! ha! ha!" He says "It is certainly strange. I don't understand it, unless it was because we slighted the old leaders." He is reminded of possible rivals for the Chestertown postoffice, and with wonderful forbearance says not a word, but, oh, that look!

Capt. W. D. Burchinal was quiet and composed, but showed his great disappointment in the following: "I would not have the office for anything under Democratic judges, for I would be a perfect slave." As to his remark "I would not live in a county I could not carry," he now laughs heartily over, and looks with pleasure on his beautiful farm near town and on his cozy home in Chestertown, and thinks of many places that might be very much worse in which to reside than Kent. "I left no stone unturned to elect our ticket," he added.

State's Attorney Urie is hard to down and looked very much "relieved." He attributes his defeat to the solid ranks of the Democracy and to the divided ranks of his party. Said he: "Why, in Millington precinct we had to use much "persuasion" to hold our colored men in line. Many old leaders did not do anything and when we should have been out working we had to be at court. The fifth district returns broke our backs and when they came in we gave up."

Mr. J. B. Burchinal had figured out a safe majority of 300 and on Wednesday did not want to have his picture taken. "I don't understand it," he said, "I thought certain we had 'em, but it seems otherwise unmistakably."

Mr. L. Bates Russell, whose first efforts were so rudely nipped in the bud, was seen with his friend, Mr. Urie, consoling each other. "Gentlemen, you left me and a few others to do everything and we could not do it, as the result shows. If every man had worked as I did the returns would have been different."

"Uncle Dick"—"My, how I got left. Dem NEWS fellows must have known zactly what dey was doing in their quiet way! Fred told me dey would get 158 and dey got 140! I'se gwine to quit my writings and tend to de sick."

Judge Wright was apparently well pleased with the outcome and said: "I am not very sorry. If they had put me on the ticket all would have been wright but instead they did wright and now the ship is wrecked. I feel sorry for my friend Harry, but he will know better than to do wright another time."

Mr. Sam'l Merritt had little to say but is thinking of moving in the country.

Mr. Wm. H. Lambert, Jr., the indefatigable worker, came in to be consoled. He simply said "you have beaten us and we of course submit, but we've got the legislature which is some consolation."

Col. Wm. J. Vannort is one of the men who can say truthfully "I told you so." He was not crowing over his enemies, however, but felt sorry that they had not heeded the advice of others. He looked at the ruins and in the words of the holy writ said, "how oft would I have gathered you under my wing, etc." Read his prediction in last week's NEWS and you will see his present views.

Sheriff Casey—"I'm like the man who started on a journey and missed the train, and that train was wrecked. I'm glad now that I didn't start on the journey."

Supervisor Blackiston—"My district fooled me awfully and I've nothing to say. It's an awful blow to us"

Supervisor Hurtt—"It was those fellows in the upper district that demoralized us. The negro ranks were broken and we of course were beaten."

Col. Howard—"You didn't beat us as much as we did you last year."

Mr. Wm. Copper, who had charge of the Republican headquarters, said: "Well, we've got the legislature and I hope the first thing they do will be to give all colored people a vote here in town so that we can change our town officers."

Senator Westcott is accustomed to defeat. He has been in many a battle and takes whatever comes in a most becoming manner. Said he, "you have beaten us fairly and we will not complain. All we ask is a good administration."

Mr. F. H. Harper—"I am sorry our ticket is defeated, but I'm mighty glad I haven't got to go to Annapolis."

Mr. Chas. England—"I am very glad I was not on that ticket."

Mr. J. N. Dodd is the most demonstrative of any of our citizens over the election. He had his front porch decorated with flags, and a banner with this inscription: "Old Kent Redeemed—We have found a Man that can beat Burchinal." Mr. Dodd says he has concluded not to leave Chestertown.

AN ELECTION EPISODE.

Among the Bramble bushes we heard a voice, which in a loud tone told of what he could do. But there came a louder voice, which commanded the Brambles to come at his Beck and call. Among these bushes Dick's-son was working and cutting down the Birch-in-all the woods. A maiden passed through the forest and Her-locks were tied with blue ribbon, which, as she passed, flaunted in the face of every Trew man. A Harper sat playing his sweetest tune and a Rustle was heard amid the trees. A C-lark came soaring about the Harper and drowned this music with his voice, while the Rustle among the trees was wafted to No-land and completely lost. Along this forest of trees and bushes there flowed a stream of water upon whose breast a ship was floating. This vessell was manned with a gallant Crew but became becalmed and had to Roe ashore in order to be saved. The Mullikin Guards were on deck in charge of Gen. Russum and Haines, but a Martin flew over and learned their manoeurves and they were Pearced through and through in the conflict.

Church Notes.

Rev. Albert Keigwin has been called to a big appointment in Phila., but refused the call.

Rev. D. L. Greenfield preached one of his characteristic sermons in Christ M. P. Church on Wednesday night. A large audience was present. Rev. Mr. Gill preached to very large audiences Sunday and the protracted services have been full of the spirit.

The meeting of bishops of the M. E. Church which has been in session at the Mount Vernon church, Baltimore, for the past week, adjourned on Monday. Previous to adjournment the assignment of bishops to preside at the several conferences was made. Bishop John P. Newnam was selected to preside at Wilmington Conference which meets in Lewis, Del., on the 20th of March next. Bishop Merrell will preside over the Baltimore conference which meets in Washington the 10th of March.

For Better Pharmacy.

President Wm. C. Powell, of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association, has selected the committee whose duty it will be to endeavor to secure the passage by the next Legislature of a suitable pharmacy law for Maryland. President Powell will also use his individual efforts for the success of the movement, and it is thought that the necessity for restrictions has become so apparent as to guarantee action by the General Assembly. The committee is composed of one member from each county. The member for Kent is Mr. Colin F. Stam, Chestertown.

Shot.—Mr. James Hopkins, of near Galena, was shot in the ankle Tuesday night while standing on the side-walk. A large company of colored men on their way home got into an altercation with some white men and firing into the crowd struck Mr. Hopkins. The Constable thought it best to telegraph to Chestertown for Sheriff Cacy and State's Attorney Urie and Deputy Sheriff Palmer was sent to Galena immediately.

MURDERED!

A Quiet Colored Citizen Killed Near Lynch's -- Murderer In Jail -- Story of the Awful Crime!

IN a colored settlement, near Lynch's Station, known as the Big Woods, there lived a quiet, sober, industrious citizen named William Newcomb, aged 49. William, by hard work had acquired a comfortable home surrounded by several acres of land and was regarded by all who knew him as a good citizen.

Thursday evening about 7.30 o'clock, as was his custom, he went out to Wm. Simmons' store, about a quarter of a mile away, to talk with his friends. Soon after his arrival a number of other colored men came in, among them being Joseph Wright and Fletcher Anderson, each aged about 21. These two men had been drinking and were soon in a stupor about the stove. About eleven o'clock some one proposed that they all go up to the festival which was being held in Fountain Church, a short distance up the road. Joe Wright agreed, and going to Anderson, awoke him and they started out the door arm in arm. In going out of the store Anderson fell over Newcomb who was sitting by the fire and causing him to remark "mind how you fall, or some one will get hurt." Anderson did not make any reply, but Wright spoke up, "don't do it to him; hit me. I have been wanting to get at you for about two years. Now is a good chance, and if you move a peg, I'll put it on you!"

Simmons, the proprietor, at this point pushed Wright out of the door, but he immediately returned and Newcomb, remaining seated, said, "I'll send a man after you in the morning." Then Joe Wright pulled out his pistol and fired and Wm. Newcomb's head dropped to his breast and he was dead! The men were not six feet apart, Newcomb sitting and Wright standing. The ball entered just above the breast bone, took a downward course, severed an artery, passed through the upper lobe of left lung, struck the heart without penetrating it and dropped into the cavity of the chest. After he shot Wright was heard to remark "I wanted to get you and now I'm satisfied. They can put me in jail or hang me, I don't care."

Simmons tried to take the pistol from Wright but could not. He went to Newcomb and found him dead. Anderson and Wright then went on to the festival. Wright was heard to remark "I am the man that did it and don't want any fuss about it." He called Anderson out the church and handing him the pistol said "Here's your pistol, I've seen my best days in Kent."

Sheriff Casey was notified of the affair and he at once sent Deputy Sheriffs Smyth and Palmer to the scene and at 3 a. m., they had Wright safe in jail.

Coroner Rouse and State's Attorney Urie went to the scene yesterday and held an inquest, a verdict of death from a pistol ball shot by Joseph Wright. Fletcher Anderson was arrested and held on a charge of being an accessory to the crime.

The NEWS was at the inquest and the facts stated were learned directly from witnesses of the affair. We also visited the jail and learned from Jos. Wright his version of the affair. He has employed Henry W. Catlin, Esq., as his attorney, who gives out the following for publication:

"It seems from what I can learn that Wright, the prisoner, in company with one Fletcher Anderson, at the time of the killing occurred were in William Simmons' store in the big woods. Wm. Newcomb approached them in an insulting manner accused Fletcher of purposely stepping upon his toe, and said he would "clean up both of them," whereupon an altercation followed in which Wright was compelled to shoot in order to protect himself. He claims a clear case of self defence."

The many friends of Samuel Biggs, son of Joseph Biggs, of Middletown, Del., were grieved to hear of the total loss of sight of this popular young man. Mr. Biggs has just returned from California, where, it is supposed that the glare from the yellow sands injured his eyes to such extent that blindness resulted. The affliction came on very gradually, as when he started home Mr. Biggs could see tolerably well, but when he arrived in Middletown the sight was entirely gone.

Gunning Notes

Monday was the first day for shooting rabbits and birds in Kent, and, many braved the storm and went gunning. The big records will be made later. Mr. Harry Cannan's party bagged 14 on Monday, while others killed four and five. Mr. A. J. Link and party got 16 rabbits.

Messrs. Frank Duyer and Joe. Brice killed eighteen partridges Wednesday; Mr. John F. Howard, the court street champion, bagged six.

Mr. Samuel Deputy, alias "Old Peru," of Delaware, arrived in Kent Monday on his annual gunning trip and with the Messrs. Groves, killed 27 rabbits Wednesday. "Old Peru" is quite a poet and writes thus:

With dog and gun we'll have some fun
In hunting hill and dale,
'Twill be delight to keep in sight
Brer rabbits' cotton tail,

Invite Fred U. to join us too,
In this, please do not fail,
No doubt but he would like to see
Brer ribbits cotton tail.

Good times I've spent in dear old Kent
With loyal friends, and true,
I've drank their wine and ate their swine
With many a merry Crew.

Messrs. Wm. F. Watson and C. H. Kenton, of Centreville went to Havre de Grace on Monday, secured a sink box and repaired to the ducking flats for a day's sport. When the shade of evening came on they bagged 125 ducks. They will return to the flats tomorrow, Dr. R. M. Price accompanying them, and try their luck again at the ducks.

The following is a timely warning to gunners. Sam. Norton, a youth of 17 years, was shot by his father last Wednesday near Alberton. They were hunting, when the father took aim at a rabbit he saw approaching over a hill. Young Norton was after a shot at the same rabbit, and not knowing where his father stood, ran up the hill from the other side. The game appeared in sight on top of the hill, and as the young man came up the father blazed away, not seeing him. The load was discharged at short range. One shot pierced the right eye of the young man, who was also struck in other places about the head and face. He was carried to a Baltimore hospital for treatment.

Carried Over.—Sheriff Casey yesterday took the following prisoners to the House of Correction: Wm. Palmer, 3 years; John Woodland and Israel Clark, each 3 years; Peter Carter and William Pearce; penitentiary, Wm. Anderson and Geo. Boyer. Boyer goes for 8 yrs.
