LOCAL NOTES.

THE heavy frosts of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week put an end to the tomato crops in Kent and many canneries have closed. The Robinson cannery at Chestertown has been canning pears, apples and beans this week.

✣

MR. J. W. COREY says he has been living in Kent forty-seven years, and, with but one exception, the frost Sunday was the earliest. The exception was about the year 1860.

✣

MR. JAS. ROE is the champion tomato grower of this section. He picked over 15 tons of tomatoes from the Vickers lot near Lynchburg and sold them for $6 per ton. He also grew a lot of cabbage and sold $20 worth of tomato plants. The lot contains about two acres, of which 1⅜ acres were planted in tomatoes.

✣

THE engine that was wrecked on the Kent road sometime ago has been removed from the branch near Raymond's farm.

✣

THE festival held at Worton Station last week by St. James M. P. Church was largely attended and $120 was realized.

✣

MARION DEK. SMITH, ESQ., attorney, sold at public sale Tuesday the real estate of the late Capt. W. D. Burchinal consisting of the Hanson or Radcliff farm of 184 acres and a half interest in the Radcliff Cross, 254 acres. The Hanson farm was purchased by Hon. Jos. A. Wickes for $40 per acre, and the half interest in Radcliff Cross to Mr. Arthur M. Brown for $3550. Mr. Brown now owns the whole of this farm. Judge Wickes has since disposed of his purchase to Mr. Wm. S. Collins, who lives on one of the valuable McKenny farms in Spaniard's Neck, Queen Anne's county.

The Noblett house in Lynchburg was purchased by Mr. M. W. Thomas for $104.

THE personal property sales advertised in the KENT NEWS this year, have, without an exception, done well. On Monday Mr. R. F. Ziesal's stock sold by Auctioneer Greenwood brought big prices. Horses sold from $38 to $100, cows from $28 to $47, hogs from $7 to $10 apiece, etc.

W. H. Wallis' stock on the same day was offered by Auctioneer Hurlock and also sold well. Yearlings brought from $17.50 to $33, horses from $50 to $65, cows from $33 to $39.

✣

AMONG the removals about town this week—Mr. Enoch Roland, Jr., starts house-keeping on Kent street; Mr. Wm. Duyer goes to the Davis house on Mill street; Mr. Walter T. Pippin removes to his Washington avenue home; Mr. Traynor has removed to Pennsylvania; Mr. Wm. Trenchard and wife have taken rooms in the Burchinal home on Cannon street as has also Mrs Lottie Wickes and daughter; Mr. John Vernon has removed to his new store on Cannon street and W. H. Waddell will occupy the Vernon store next year.

Mr. John D. Nelson has rented the Allen Store nearly opposite the Catholic church and will conduct a shoe store. Special attention given to repair work. Mrs. Allen retires from business.

✣

A SAMPLE of prolific Maiden Blush apples is on exhibition at the NEWS office from the orchard of Mr. J. Lev. Gale, Rock Hall. In a space of four inches the twig has nine full-sized and perfect apples.

✣

ISAAC COTTON, a well-known colored resident of Sandy Bottom, brought to the NEWS office Wednesday three beautiful smooth-skin white potatoes that weighed 2 lbs. 6 oz. He expects to dig 40 bushels from 2½ bushels seeding.

✣

THE schedule of football games which the Washington College football team has to play in the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of Maryland and the District of Columbia is as follows:

October 14—Gallaudet at Washington. Oct. 21—Western Maryland College at Westminster. November 4—St. John's College at Annapolis. Nov. 18—Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore. Nov. 25—Maryland Agricultural College at Chestertown.

Other games will probably include Jacob Tome Institute, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Delaware College, Wilmington Conference Academy and others.

✣

WM. H. WADDELL has purchased the corner lot on High and College avenue from Eben F. Perkins, Esq., and anticipates erecting a store thereon. In another column Mr. Perkins advertises other lots.

✣

THE most expert bicyclist that ever visited Chestertown made his appearance on Main street in front of the NEWS office Saturday. His name was Harry Kramer, of Washington, D. C., and his feats on the wheel excelled anything witnessed here or elsewhere. He collected $8 from the crowd who witnessed the show. In Centreville we learn he collected about $12 and at Easton Fair $20. While exhibiting in Cambridge last Wednesday Kramer made a narrow escape from death. He was standing on his head on the saddle of his wheel when he collided with a wagon; with the agility of a cat he leaped into the wagon. The horse ran away and Kramer endeavored to stop the frightened animal but could not. Coming near two other wagons he leaped first into one wagon and then in the second and thence to the ground.

✣

A MOVEMENT has been started this week for another grand chrysanthemum show to be held in Chestertown early next month. Efforts will be made to surpass the beautiful exhibit of last year.

MR. GEORGE S. BIDDLE while plowing on his farm near town found a breast-pin belonging to his step-mother which was lost 40 years ago. It is in excellent condition.

DONORS OF THE FOUNTAIN.

The list of donors of the beautiful fountain that adorns Chestertown's square is here given, the NEWS having succeeded in getting the reluctant consent of the contributors to publish same. To each one we extend, on behalf of our citizens, heartfelt thanks, and assure them that their gift is highly appreciated and will stand as a monument to their love of the town and of their generosity. The donors are:

MRS. WILLIAM J. VANNORT,
MRS. HOPE H. BARROLL,

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. Solomon Startt died at his residence near Chestertown, Sunday night of paralysis, aged 59 years. The deceased conducted blacksmithing 30 years near town and was popular with everybody. He was kind-hearted and jovial and "Sol" was a friend who never failed those who confided in him. He married Miss Clara Cohee who has been dead for a number of years, leaving five children, viz: Addie, Clarence, Stockton, Lula and Anna May. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Revs. E. C. Makoskey and J. M. Gill. Interment at Chester cemetery. The pall-bearers were, Messrs. Victor Hendrickson, William Ford, James W. Lambert, William Clough, J. F. Newcomb and John Bell, the latter two being representatives of the Chester Conclave I. O. H., of which order the deceased was a member and carried $2000 life insurance. Funeral director John N. Dodd had charge of the burial.

HELEN, the 4 year old daughter of W. A. Rhodes, Jr., of Odessa, died on Friday afternoon of diphtheria, and as a precautionary measure the public school there was closed. The child had been ill only two days. That it was suffering from malignant diphtheria was decided just before its death. A specimen of mucous was sent to the State bacteriological laboratory at Newark and a telegram received from there established the existence of the diphtheria. The child was a niece of Mrs. John H. Clendaniel, of near Kennedyville.

Church Items.

Rev. Thos. Maslin, evangelist of the M. E. Church, gave an interesting lecture on "the dark side of life" in the M. E. Church Monday night before a large audience. The speaker has served two sentences in the New York penitentiary of two years each for crimes of which he claims to be innocent. He attributes his bad career to liquor and evil associations. His pictures of prison life and of his wanderings about the docks was indeed dark and weird and should impress every listener so that he'd shun evil companions, abstain from drink and avail himself of school advantages. Mr. Maslin is 63 years old and could not read nor write until 40 at which age he was brought under the influence of the gospel and since then has been preaching this wonderful salvation "that can save such a sinner like me."

Rev. K. M. Bull attended the meeting of New Castle Presbytery at New Castle, Del., this week. Elder W. S. Maxwell, M. D., was elected to represent Kennedyville church and Elder J. J. Roeder to represent Worton church at this meeting.

Miss Lillian Herr, of Connecticut will speak at Union M. E. Church, Sunday, Oct. 8th at 3 p. m., and at St. James M. P. Church at 8 p. m. Miss Herr was in Kent last spring and is a very pleasant speaker.

The Pentecostal services at the M. E. Church have been continued this week. Rev. C. E. Jones, of Union M. E. Church, preached Tuesday evening, Rev. E. P. Roberts, of Still Pond, Wednesday, Rev. J. M. Arters, of Fairlee, Thursday and a bread-breaking service last evening.

The forty hours devotion will begin at the Sacred Heart Church next Sunday morning with High Mass at 10.30, and will continue until Tuesday morning. Appropriate sermons will be preached by visiting clergy on Sunday morning, and on Sunday and Monday evenings at 7.30. This devotion is held once a year in each of the principal churches of the diocese in honor of the forty hours our Savior passed in the sepulchre between His death and His resurrection.

Rev. Wm. N. Sherwood, of Chestertown, leaves Monday for Accomac county, Virginia, where he has accepted an appointment as assistant pastor to Rev. Mr. Donovan. There are four churches in this circuit and it is considered an excellent charge.

Other religious notices will be found on third page.

Vessel Lost!

The schooner A. Parker belonging to Capt. Chas. Kelley was wrecked Friday night abreast of Love Point, Chesapeake bay. The schooner was bound from Baltimore to Chester river, with a cargo of fertilizer, and sprung a leak. The pumps were used, but she took water so rapidly that Captain Edwards was obliged to beach her. The night dark, wind blowing a stiff northwester, and at one time, Captain Edwards reports, the chances for reaching shore was very slim. The A. Parker was one of the oldest boats on the Chesapeake bay. She was 60 years old, having been built in Somerset county in 1839. Judge S. Burgess had eight tons of fertilizer on board of her, all of which was lost. There was no insurance on vessel or cargo.

Lieut. Barroll Honored.—Lieut. Morris K. Barroll, who bears honorable wounds received while fearlessly leading his men into battle in the Philippines, is thus referred to by Freedom, a newspaper printed at Manila, Island of Lezon: "The men of Battery L. Third Artillery, who were discharged under General Order No. 40, takes the liberty of expressing their appreciation of the untiring zeal and disinterestedness of their Battery commander, Lieutenant Morris K. Barroll, in his efforts to discharge men under the order.

"Throughout his command, we take pleasure in testifying to his conscientiousness to duty and his endeavor to enforce such orders as may come under regulations pertaining to the government of the U. S. army. Previous to his assignment to the battery, he was aid on General Miller's staff at Illoilo, where he distinguished himself in that capacity. Though a God-fearing man, he has proven to the men under his command to be a fighter and a strict disciplinarian. Therefore, in behalf of those who deserved their well-timed release, they extend to him their thanks for his efforts."
