Farmers on Politics.

There is an element in every community composed of sensible and sober-thinking men, whose good opinion can only be obtained and held by proper conduct and manifest merit.

Here, then, is the tribunal whose voice must be listened to in making our nomination for Governor this fall. There can be no mistake or hazard to the party in following the way they lead; for they are men of judgment and principle, and sound in the faith of a pure Democracy while as far as can be removed from all those corrupting influences which go so far toward thwarting the better activities of all parties.

Below we present the views of a number of such men, who have given timely expression to their opinion on the renomination of Governor Hamilton. There are more to follow:

ALFRED J. WILSON. To look at the majority Gov. Hamilton received (22,162), the majority of his predecessor, Gov. Carroll, (12,924), and Comptroller Keating's majority, (13,637), there is evidently some great cause for the marked disparity.

WILLIAM E. LIDEN. I have always been a Hamilton man, believing him to be honest and a real reformer. He was nominated and elected on a reform platform and fulfilled all his promises to the best of his ability, but he has not been able yet to finish his work and should, I believe, have another term.

WILLIAM T. HAMILTON is my choice for the next Democratic candidate for Governor, because he is decidedly the most available man in the State. His renomination would not only consolidate the party but would establish a precedent by showing the party's reluctance to release from public service an honest and genuine reformer, and that his services are appreciated.

SYLVESTER SMITH. I should like very much to see the name of William T. Hamilton at the head of the Democratic ticket this fall because I consider him the best Governor we have had for years. If anyone will look at his past record without partially and weigh well the reforms he has been the means of establishing in the State's finances and elections, he will think as I do and many others do that he is the man for the next Governor.

HENRY S. MANCHA. In reply to your inquiry I think Gov. Hamilton has been true to his pledges of reform, but all cannot be accomplished at once. He has not had time during the present term to complete his great work, and ought therefore to be renominated. Turning him down now might charge the Democratic party with being opposed to reform. I certainly think the best

Democratic speech I ever listened to was made by Hamilton on the Court House Green in the fall of 1879, and he has been doing his best in the face of bitter opposition to carry out the pledges of reform then made.

HENRY IRWIN. Being asked my opinion of Gov. Hamilton, I will say I believe him to be the strongest candidate the Democrats could nominate in September next. I believe the time has gone by when the masses of the people, particularly the thinking portion of the Democratic party, are willing to submit in silence to a few men in the party controlling nominations.

CAPT. ROBERT R. EMERSON. I want Gov. Hamilton for another term. He has undertaken reforms that he has not had time nor the power to carry out, and has begun a work in the interest of taxpayers of the State which he could easily have accomplished in his four years term if he had not been opposed on every hand by influences of politicians.

WILLIAM H. DEWESE. I know of no better man in the State than William T. Hamilton. He has had everything to contend against since he has been Governor, but withal has done much to save the people's money and has given them fair elections. He has not however carried through all his measures, and the people of Maryland need such a man to redeem all of the platform promises of 1879.

GEORGE W. SPERRY. I fully approve what Gov. Hamilton has done toward securing an honest administration of the State government. He has saved the people a good deal of money and done all he could to secure fair elections. So far as I can learn very few oppose his having the office again except professional politicians and office-seekers, and if they should succeed in their efforts to beat him, I do think the Democratic ticket will be defeated.

COL. THOMAS H. SLAUGHTER. William T. Hamilton is my choice for the next Democratic candidate for Governor, because he is decidedly the most available man in the State. His renomination would not only consolidate the party but would establish a precedent by showing the party's reluctance to release from public service an honest and genuine reformer, and that his services are appreciated.

That vast, ungainly body, the people, which must have its head pulled off before it can understand anything, and the nether extremities treated likewise before it can be taught that it cannot always remain in the same rut—that vast body has at last risen in its might, and it is terrible when so agitated, and declared that the bosses must surrender the helm to the master of the ship.

That vast system which had its ramifications through all the departments of the government, local as well as National, has had its backbone broken. The bosses must go! A wall rises up to the heavens. Starting from the forest-bound lakes of Maine it rushes on gathering force as each state adds its complement of bosses.

It would be well for people who have trade dollars on hand to consider the Assistant Secretary Acton's advice to keep them rather than submit to sacrifice. It is regarded by many as probable that Congress, which is responsible for their issue, will provide for their redemption. As usual in financial disturbances, the poor are the chief sufferers in this trade-dollar hubbub, but as the coin is not a legal tender, and the government agencies all refuse to take it, the banks can do nothing with them when they accumulate.

IN REVIEWING the shaky political condition of Iowa, once the most stalwart and unwavering of Republican States, the New York Sun reaches the conclusion that a change of national administration next year is inevitable, and that the Republican party "must go."
