DEATH'S DOINGS.

MRS. MARY JONES, beloved wife of Richard W. Jones, Esq., of Swan Creek, died at the Maryland General Hospital in Baltimore Tuesday. Mrs. Jones was operated upon for cancer last Friday.

The deceased was 65 years of age and one of the most lovable christian women in the district. She was a daughter of the late John S. Constable and a devoted member of Wesley Chapel M.P.Church. She was wedded on her 17th birthday, Jan. 28th, 1852. She leaves a husband and two children, Mrs. Spencer Harris and R. Sterling Jones. She was a sister of Mrs. Dr. Fisher, Mrs. Dr. Beck and Wm. R. Constable. The funeral took place yesterday from the residence of her son, R. S. Jones, interment in the Wesleyan Chapel cemetery.

EVA GARDNER, wife of Robert E. L. Berger, died at the home of her parents, 910 North Stricker street, Baltimore, Wednesday, aged about 26. She was the youngest daughter of Benj. H. and Sarah C. Gardner, who formerly lived in Chestertown and where Eva was well known. She has been sick for some time and for months has been blind. The interment will be today at 10 a. m. at Loudon Park cemetery.

LOCAL NOTES.

Announcement.—The marriage of Miss Cora Comegys Emory, of Chestertown, to Mr. Eben Thomas Massey, of Masseys, Kent county, is announced to take place in Emmanuel Church, Chesterown, Oct. 17th. No cards.

Sale of Property.—The small dwelling on High street, Chestertown, belonging to the Kelley heirs, has been sold at private sale by Major Eben F. Perkins for $550 to Mr. N. C. Crow, who will improve the same and rent it.

Auctioneer John H. Greenwood on Tuesday sold a house and lot in Locust Grove belonging to the estate of the late S. J. Hill to Mr. J. A. Stauffer for $400.

Joseph Powell has purchased the Hessey farm, now occupied by Warner Geary, near Fredericktown, from Capt. Andrew Woodall for $5,000.

New Buildings.—Mr. Jos. Bowers, of Still Pond, has just completed for Mr. Jacob B. Crowding, a new granary, with corn crib on each side and wagon way in centre, on the Buckingham farm tenanted by Mr. Walter W. Crowding. The dwelling has also been improved by a new porch, and Walter says he feels O. K. now, and will be "finer" still when the house is painted next month.

County Commissioners.—Commissioners met Tuesday, full board present. The following business was transacted:

Richard O. Barroll, road work	5.83
Thos. Bennett, road work	15.16
H. A. Meredith, read work	56.05
Nat'l Bldg. Supply Co., pipes, etc	24.55
Jos. C. Rasin, J. P., fees	49.56
Harry E. Robinson	1.06
Jos. R. Usilton, com	216.41
R. Rouse, coroner	5.30
R. D. Hynson, attorney	26 50
Thomas Willis, road work	22.62
Harry Willis, road work	7.47
W. H. Barnes, work on machine	1.27

There will be no meeting of commissioners next Tuesday. The board adjourned to meet Oct. 16.

Numa Wins.—Mr. W. H. Cacey's Numa is developing into a fine goer. In Baltimore last Friday he won a race easily. The Sun says: The first regular event of the day's card was for the 2.28 class of pacers. Gomez was a hot favorite, and looked as if he would land the money. The judges did not like the way Numa was driven. They called her driver to the stand and told him so. Numa was second in the first two heats, but she went out after the lecture and won three heats and the race. Time 2.19¼, 2.18¾, 2.24¼, 2.24, 2.22¼.

Pigeon Shooting at Crumpton.—The pigeon shooting at Crumpton last Saturday afternoon was well attended. Mr. Jerry Godwin won the silver cup, killing 39 birds out of a possible 50; Mr. L. M. Booker killed 34, and Mr. John E. George 31. This is the fifth shoot for the cup within the past year, Mr. George having won it twice, and Mr. Booker being successful twice. Five more shoots will be held, at the expiration of which time the one having won it the greatest number of times will be entitled to it, and at the same time proclaimed the champion shot at pigeons for the shore.

He Drove On.—A well-know farmer of near town drove to a coal yard in Chestertown on Wednesday for a load of coal, and this was the terse conversation:

Farmer—What's the price of coal?
Dealer—$6.50 per ton.
Farmer—Get up! I'll burn wood!

WHEAT was quoted at 75⅝c.; corn 47c, Baltimore yesterday.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

Lewin W. Wickes, Esq, and bride, returned from their wedding trip Tuesday and were given a reception Wednesday evening. The mansion on Water street was made brilliant with bright smiles and bewitching decorations and scores called to wish the popular couple a happy future. Music was furnished by Iula, of Baltimore.

The receiving party consisted of the bride and groom, Mrs. W. N. E. Wickes, Miss Rebecca Wickes, Miss Charlotte Wickes, Dr. C. P. Gilpin, Thomas W. Perkins. J. D. JAMAR WANTS $25,000!

Was Injured Over Seven Years Ago In The Penitentiary.

The second trial of the suit of James D. Jamar to recover $25,000 damages for injuries received in an elevator accident in the old penitentiary was commenced in the Superior Court Wednesday. The accident happened Feb. 27, 1893, while Jamar was serving a term of four years for manslaughter, of which he was convicted in Kent county, Md., in November 1891.

Jamar's suit is against the Baltimore Boot and Shoe Company, for which he was assigned to work upon his arrival at the penitentiary. He was employed as receiving clerk at the elevator in the shoe department. While he was at the bottom of the elevator shaft the elevator dropped upon him, breaking his back and paralyzing his lower limbs. It is alleged that the accident was caused by the elevator being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Jamar is badly crippled as a result of the accident and drags himself along with the aid of a cane. Jamar was born in Del. in 1858.

The defense is that a truck was caught in the elevator at the second floor and caused it to stop. Jamar, it is claimed, was warned to get out of the way, and did so at first, but returned to the shaft just as the elevator dropped.

A number of men who were in the penitentiary when the accident occurred but who have served their time, are among the witnesses in the case. The case was first tried in Sept., 1897, in the City Court. Jamar at that time obtained a verdict for $6,000, which the court set aside and granted a new trial. The case was removed to the Superior Court last March.

Thomas Ireland Elliott, Frederick T. Dorton and Harrison W. Vickers, of Chestertown, Md., are Jamar's attorneys. Bernard Carter & Sons, represent the defendant company.

ROCK FISHING!

Chester River is Alive With Fish and Fine Sport is Being Enjoyed.

Mr. John Duyer says it has been many years since local fishermen had such fine sport catching rock as is now being enjoyed. Most anywhere in Chester river the fish abound except about Chester bridge. It is believed that the constant travel interferes with the sport.

Last week Messrs. J. K. and W. R. Aldridge, Edw. W. Emory and Walter Strong had fine sport off Deep Point and landed several fine bunches. Mr. Strong had a basket of Rock fish in his dearborn, but upon reaching home he discovered the basket and fish had been dropped out and he immediately retraced his steps. The fish, however, could not be found. Mr. S. will fasten the tail board of his wagon hereafter.

Messrs. James Byron, Daniel Cox, Jesse Duyer, James Coleman and others have brought home several bunches of big fish every day. Mr. Byron fishes near Morgan Creek, while others go down to Chambers' wharf and elsewhere.

Messrs. Curtis Crane and Wm. Lassell were at Kent Island Narrows this week and report the usual daily catch there to be from 75 to 100 fish per man. A rock weighing over twenty pounds was landed there a few days ago.

Personal Tidings . . .

Mr. Charles L. Dodd, who has been sick the past week with fever was somewhat improved yesterday.

Mrs. Dr. J. A. Perkins, of Germantown, Pa., visited Baltimore this week where her daughter is attending the Woman's College, and is now spending a few days with friends in Chestertown.

H. H. Barroll, Esq., was in Annapolis last Monday to try the Sassafras Creamery appeal case before the Court of Appeals, and made a strong argument in behalf of county creditors.

Dr. D. Genese, 621 North Calhoun St., who went abroad as a bachelor early in the summer to attend the Paris Exposition, has recently returned home with a bride, who before her marriage, was Kate How, of Fulham, England, and a great-grand-daughter of Dr. Genese's grand-mother.

Mr. I. Wm. Hines, proprietor of the Maryland Lunch and Dining-room, 228 East Baltimore St, Balto., wife, daughter and Miss Nicholson, are visiting Mr. John N. Dodd.

An article in a Philadelphia paper gives particulars of a thrilling encounter at the Hahnemann Hospital between a crazy man and the doctors. It states:

"Laverell was found at Twentieth and Arch streets in a fit. The Twentieth district police patrol removed him to the hospital. When the patrol crew left the room Laverelle jumped for the door. An orderly tried to prevent his exit. Laverelle closed in on him and although the orderly is a powerful man, he was being slowly choked by the madman, when the physician, Dr. Earle Usilton came to his assistance.

"Turning on Dr. Usilton, Laverelle bit deeply into the flesh of the upper arm. The doctor pluckily kept his hold on the man and aided by the orderly succeeded in strapping him to a stretcher. Laverelle soon recovered his senses and was released.

"Several hours later he was taken with another fit at Eight and Race streets. Again he was removed to the Hahnemann Hospital. When brought into the receiving ward he grabbed a heavy oak wood club, which hangs in the room and aimed a hard blow at Dr. White. "Huphey" the ambulance driver, caught Laverelle by the arm and another struggle ensued. Laverelle was again strapped down, and later in the night was removed from the hospital by his father."

Miss Sarah Keech Ramsburg, a cultured lady teacher from Baltimore, has accepted a position as governess in the family of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barroll.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hubbard are visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. Owen B. Crow, who has been in New York during the summer, arrived home last Friday.

Mr. Andrew Toulson will tenant the Cherry Lane farm next year.

Mrs. Wm. Coulter and daughter, are visiting Mrs. Frazier, mother of Mrs. C., on Mill street.

Frank B. Hines, son of Dr. W. Frank Hines, matriculated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore, last week, and entered last Saturday evening. A four year course is required. He has just finished a four year course at the Maryland Agricultural College.

Mr. Herman Conner, of Middletown, Del., left Wednesday for Balto., where he will take a course of shorthand and typewriting at Strayers Business College.

Messrs. Eldridge Eliason, Yale, Marion deK. Smith, Jr., Cornell, left town Tuesday for College.

The Queenstown News says: "Mr. Jas. P. Parrott, better-known in this county as "Little Jim," on account of his small statue, boarded the matrimonial ship last week at Chestertown, with Miss Fannie W. McKenzie, as his companion."

Miss Clara Usilton is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. T. McFeeley, at Sharon Hill.

Messrs. Malkow, Levine and Kaplan, merchants of Chestertown, have been enjoying the Jewish holidays in the city.

Miss Addie Kennard, of Baltimore, is visiting Miss Anna Brown, Water St.

Miss Lillian McIntyre, of Edesville, is visiting relatives in town.

Prof. T. D. Bowers, of Easton Primary School, has been given an increase in salary. It was fixed Tuesday at $800.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel R. Clements have been visiting Scranton, Pa.

Mr. Daniel Reed, of Washington, has been visiting his parents on Spring Ave.

Mr. H. Clyde Johnson, of East New Market, is clerking in C. S. Smith's cash store.

Mr. George Haberlander, expert baker for C.S.Smith, has been sick at his home on High street. Mr. S. secured a substitute baker from Baltimore Monday.

Miss Sadie Buell, of Baltimore, is visiting the Misses Mann, near Lynch's.

Mr. M. M. Rasin was a visitor Wednesday at the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Jas. C. Kirby, of Kirby's Landing, near Millington, was taken to Franhurst Hospital, Delaware, last Saturday afternoon. About three weeks ago Mrs. Kirby was stricken with walking typhoid fever, which developed into softening of the brain.

Rev. P. P. Rees, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Georgetown, Md., has sent in his resignation and will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday morn-

Mrs. Solon Anderson and daughter, Eloise, of Philadelphia, are guests at Mrs. C. J. Reiche's.

Thos. W. Earickson and Miss Grace Irene Harvey, both of Baltimore; Carroll Shriver and Miss Jeannette Jenkins, have obtained license to marry from Clerk Dixon.

Mr. John Bartley has been suffering with a mashed foot.

Mr. James C. Bennett, of Wilmington is visiting friends in Kent.

Pension Granted.—Mrs. Eliza Armstrong, widow of W. Prior Armstrong, of Crumpton, has been granted a pension of $8 per month, in consideration of the services rendered by her late husband during the civil war.

"Mayor" C. T. Stratton, of Cliff City, has been granted a pension of $6 per month.

Wall Paper.—The wall paper trust has bursted and Wm. L. Fowler was in at the finish! He has purchased about 7,000 rolls of beautiful paper, one of the biggest invoices ever received in Chestertown.

Guessed the Weight.—There were seven who guessed the correct weight of the donkey at the Mexican show here last week but Mr. Nickerson, of Queen Anne's, finally won the silver prize. The donkey was weighed by Messrs. Matthews, Greenly, Russell and McWhorter and tipped the scales at 320 pounds.

TUESDAY next is the last day for registering.
