WEDDING EVENTS.

Miss Flora Cushing Collins, daughter of Mrs. Charlotte A. Collins, formerly of Chestertown, 1628 N. Gilmor street, Baltimore, was quietly married Tuesday evening to Mr. Albert Eugene Woodward, 1912 Mosher street. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride by Rev. Dr. S. B. Sutherland, uncle of the bride. The bride's gown was white organdie and lace; she wore in her hair a silver comb over a century old, belonging to her great-grandmother; her ornaments were pearls, the gift of the groom. Among the many presents received was a chair from members of Christ M. P. Sunday-school, Baltimore, of which the groom is superintendent.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss S. May Shehan, a popular young lady of Easton, to Mr. William H. Stewart, of Birmingham, Ala., on the 8th of October, at Calvary M. P. Church. Mr. Stewart is formerly of Chestertown, being the youngest son of Mrs. S. E. Stewart.

Mr. Daniel W. Younger and Mrs. Sarah Francis Higgins, of Kent county were married Thursday the 11th, of September by Rev. E. C. Makosky.

Rev. Clarence Baker, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, Millville, Del., and Miss Mamie S. Woodall, of Cecil county, Maryland, were married Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the South Baltimore Station Methodist Protestant Church by the pastor, Rev. E. S. Fooks. Dr. E. A. Scott, of Galena, procured the marriage license.

DAMAGE BY WORTHLESS DOGS.

Several Farmers in Worton Lose Sheep from Attacks by Curs—Two Dogs Killed.

The sheepfold belonging to Mr. Samuel Cooper in Worton was entered by dogs last Friday night and four sheep were killed and a score or more crippled!

Mr. Otho Fogwell lost two Thursday night and Mr. Theodore Jewell one. Mr. Fogwell succeeded in killing two dogs which puts an end to their marauding. When will our farmers rise up in their might and demand protection from worthless dogs? All the dogs in the vicinity of these farms are not worth as much as the damage they have wrought.

DEATH'S DOINGS • • •

Miss Laura A. Watkins, daughter of Shadrack N. and the late Elizabeth E. Watkins, of Eastern Neck Island, died suddenly at the home of Mr. George F. Warnsman, 1611 East Pratt street, about 2.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Death was due to nervous prostration, from which she had been a sufferer for a long time, being subject to fainting spells.

When Miss Watkins did not come down to breakfast at the usual hour Sunday morning, Mr. Warnsman went to her room and found her lying in bed unconscious. Medical aid was summoned, but she never regained consciousness. The remains were brought over on the Gratitude Tuesday and interred in Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Elderdice officiating. The bearers were her two brothers, Messrs. John Wood, Carroll Wilson, John Ayres and Mannie Miller.

Mr. Watkins lost his son, John T. Watkins some years ago in a very sad manner. He was on his first trip to sea and while homeward bound from Cuba was washed off the vessell before the eyes of his fellow seamen.

Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had three funerals among the colored folks Sunday.

Benjamin Johnson died at his home in Millington Sunday night of a cancer. He was 76 years of age and leaves seven children.

CHURCH NEWS.....

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Adams, D. D., will preach and administer the Apostolic rite of "Laying on of Hands," in old St. Paul's church at 10.30 A. M. sharp on Sunday Oct. 5th. He will also, at 3.30 P. M., punctually, preach and dedicate the memorial stone lately placed on the grave of General Philip Reed at I. U. As a graceful tribute of respect to this once loved citizen of Kent county, and deserving old hero, every citizen, who can, ought to attend the solemn dedication and unveiling of his memorial slab.

Rev. J. L. Elderdice will begin protracted meeting at Kesley next Sabbath night. There will be no preaching in the afternoon.

Wesley Chapel Harvest Home Rally will be held October the 12th, instead of the 5th as previously announced.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society held a special Maryland Day service in Christ M. P. Church Sunday evening. Mrs. H. S. Barnett, the efficient superintendent, had charge of the program. The little folks occupied the choir loft and sang their sweet songs in a most delightful manner, while the recitations and addresses were specially in place and interesting. The address of Dr. D. L. Greenfield was on "Birds" and a more ornate, appropriate, helpful and beautiful discourse has not been our privilege to hear.

The re-opening of the Chestertown M. E. Church will take place Sunday, October 12th. The improvements consist of steel decorated ceiling, frescoed walls, new carpets, etc. Dr. Roberts will have charge of the program. Mr. I. R. Leaverton is expected to make an address before the Sunday School in the afternoon.

THE tomato market at Buck Neck went to pieces Wednesday and six cents was the highest price asked. Buyers at Chestertown have paid from 15 to 20 cents.

COL. WALLEN, of Queen Anne's, had a fine sample of Silver Cling peaches in Chestertown on Saturday.

H. H. BENNEMAN, Millington, has the largest assortment of shoes in town and the prices are way down.

THE St. James festival was largely attended the gross receipts amounting to nearly $200.

THE town sprinkler has been withdrawn for the summer.

THE Kent County Circuit Court will convene the third Monday in this month.

THE firm of Roland Bros. has been dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. John G. Roland. Mr. George Z. Roland will take full charge of the meat business hereafter and conduct it.

Messrs. Percy Johnson and his father-in-law, Mr. Cole, have opened a butcher store adjoining Hubbard's new building.

Bedworth, Jr., went an exhibition mile at Carlisle, Pa., Thursday in 2.16. He will attempt to lower the track record of 2.09.

Next Week.—An account of the exciting race between the Emma A. Ford and Queen Caroline in which the latter is reported to have beaten Kent's flyer is in type, also a newsy letter from Sassafras, Bedworth gossip and other items, all of which will appear in the NEWS next week. We have added two extra pages to the NEWS this week in which will be found interesting reading.

COAL CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON

President Roosevelt Calls the Labor Union Leaders, Coal Railroad Presidents and Others to a Conference in Washington.

The declaration of President Baer that there is no scarcity of coal is equal to Hanna's assertion that there are no trusts. This scarcity of coal becomes more serious as the hours go by. The whole country sees stagnation staring it in the face, while the poor see untold suffering ahead of them unless the strike is ended.

The President, after a long and aggravating delay, called a conference of the principal parties to the strike to meet in Washington yesterday, which they did. A special message to the NEWS says:

"The conference opened in Washington this morning, the President presiding. It was then agreed that Mr. Baer and other operators retire and agree as to the very best they would do, and at the same time President Mitchell and his associates would do the same. These two propositions were then submitted to President Roosevelt and another conference called for. At the hour of going to press this conference was still in session."

Hope H. Barroll, Esq., realizing that unless someone made a strenuous effort to get fuel the people of this section would suffer, is trying to make arrangements to get coal here from Wales. He has orders for 209 tons and will continue to take same for a week or more. He will first learn the cost of this coal and all particulars as to cost of shipment, etc, then will impart same to those leaving orders. If satisfactory the amount is to be paid in advance so that the money can be forwarded and the coal received as soon as possible. It is hoped that the coal may be procured at a price not exceeding $10 a ton.

Welsh coal is a semi-anthracite coal, not as hard as the American Anthracite, but possessing seme excellent qualities in that it burns well and has very little ash. It comes from the mines fairly clean. It is an excellent steam coal and will readily take the place of the Pennsylvania product in an emergency. Inquiry develops that it can be purchased at the mouth of the mine in Wales at less than $3.50 a ton, and can be placed on board ship at less than $5.00, which, with the freight for transportation and incidental expenses, such as the tariff, will bring the coal into our harbor at from $6.00 to $7.00 a ton. Of course, these figures preclude a possibility of purchasing the same at less than from $8.00 to $10.00, and probably if the demand increases the consumer will have to pay that much or more. But, as the sailor says, "any port in a storm," so the consumer will have to pay this winter, if the strike continues, any price for a little here.

A prominent gentleman of the fifth district was in town this week offering to pay $50 per ton for two tons of coal and said if he could not get any at that price he would certainly be tempted to steal it!

The following interesting letter is from a former resident of Kent:

EDITOR KENT NEWS:—Reading in your issue of the scarcity of anthracite coal in your county and the probability of your readers having to burn soft coal, some facts about it might be helpful.

Soft coal costs $2.00 per ton; 2½ tons of soft coal lasts as long as one ton of hard coal. Soft coal makes a quicker and a hotter fire than hard coal. It will warp and ruin a stove used for hard coal. To keep fire over night put a bucket of coal on your fire, let it burn a little then cover with ashes or slack.

We are in the midst of the coal fields, but we use natural gas. Cost of same for September for two fires and three lights was 45 cents. Why not interest Kent county capital in the gas business. No reason why they could not strike it in Kent county.

I read in the NEWS that "much Ohio land is worth four or five times as much per acre as our Eastern Shore farms." This is owing to where you may live in Ohio and Maryland. The statement, on general principles, would likely mislead many. Some land around Columbus, Ohio, and from the foot-hills up to the lake, is worth four times as much as the sandy wastes of your tide-water land in some counties; but there are some farms in Kent county, Md., as good as seventy-five per cent. of all Ohio farm lands. This year, out in the hill land, the corn crop was about 20 bushes per acre and the wheat crop 12 bushels. The bottom lands are better, the yield being about 40 to 60 bushels corn and 15 to 30 bushels wheat; but they suffer from high water on an average of about once in four years. This takes all the wheat, corn, grass, &c., and this year was high water year. Messrs. Editors, on an average, from Chestertown to Kennedyville, Galena and Sassafras to Middletown, Del., is found as good farming land as I have found from North Carolina to Lake Erie.

C. R. BLADES,
Guernsey co. Byesville, Ohio.

JOS. GUEST of this town is out with an offer of $4.25 per 100 feet for corrugated galvanized 26 gauge roofing. This is a low price for such material these times. See his adv. elsewhere.
