SPRAYING FRUIT TREES.

Farmers in Broad Neck Despair of Killing Pest—Farmers May Lose Eyesight.

Kent farmers are preparing to spray their fruit trees as it has become as much a necessity as plowing for corn. In Broad Neck the scale has reached such a stage that the farmers despair of combating against it. Mr. Thos. J. Vickers who has raised some fine crops of peaches has at last been conquered by this pest and says he will not spray anymore. The woods in the Neck are badly infested by the scale and are having free sway.

The State Entomologist says: Below is given the formula and method for making the lime, sulphur and salt:

Good quality fresh Burnt stone lime	20 pounds
Flowers of sulphur	15 pounds
Common salt	5 pounds
Water	50 gallons

Directions for Making.—Put 20 gallons of water in an iron pot or hog scalder and bring it to a boil, and then add the stone lime and sulphur. The sulphur should be made into a paste with hot water before placing it in the boiler, in order to facilitate its mixing. After the lime and sulphur have been boiled for sometime add the salt. Boil the mixture thoroughly stirring occassionally from 30 minutes to 1 hour, or until the sulphur is thoroughly dissolved and produces a clear, amber-colored solution. Then dilute by adding sufficient hot water or cold water to make 50 gallons. Pass the mixture through a strainer, with at least 20 meshes to the inch, into the spray barrel, and apply to the trees warm.

"In treating badly infested apple trees better results may be secured by increasing the sulpher and lime each five pounds more than is given in the above formula."

L. M. Boyer and Luther Slers were frightfully scalded at Winchester, Va., Monday, with lime and sulphur solution while spraying fruit trees at the former's orchard, a half-inch stream of 100 pounds pressure striking them full in the face. Doctors are unable to determine whether their eyesight will be destroyed. J. A. Schuler, who was injured in the same way Saturday, remains in a serious condition and persistently refuses to allow a doctor to come near him.

MOTHER AND CHILD BURNED.

A Little Girl Near Edesville Takes Fire From Burning Brush—A Neighbor Saves Her Life.

Mrs. Robert Porter's three children, at Edesville were in the garden burning brush on Saturday afternoon, when Mary, the four-year-old daughter took fire and made a narrow escape from death. Her screams were heard by the mother who ran to the child and in hugging her to herself set fire to her mother's clothes! Fortunately Mr. Clay Hadaway, a neighbor, heard the screams and catching up his overcoat ran to their relief and soon smothered the fire. Dr. Selby assisted by Mrs. Sutton and others attended Mary and her mother and they are getting along nicely. The child's clothing was burned from its body and it was burned about the face and arms. The mother's clothing was burned from her waist up, and she was burned about the arms.

It was just such an incident as this which caused the death of Mr. Carroll Willson's little girl some years ago and parents should take warning therefrom.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

George W. Walmsley died at the home of Mr. John Urie, in Rock Hall, yesterday morning. He was 75 years of age and an uncle of Mrs. Urie.

Jacob F. Fisher, aged 73 years, died in Germantown, Pa., on February 24, 1906, of pneumonia. He was a brother of Dr. Samuel G. Fisher, of Chestertown, and an uncle of Mr. Jacob F. Thompson. He was a native of Kent and married a daughter of Rev. Mr. Aspril. He leaves three children, J. Alfred, William and Mary, all living in Germantown.

The funeral of Col. Josiah Massey last Saturday was largely attended and the floral tributes were lovely. Father McKenna's address was certainly in place and well received by the large audience. He dwelt upon the importance of living right then we will be ready to die right. The bearers were Messrs. S. Rol Hurlock, J. T. Dixon, H. L. Boyd, G. S. Biddle, Wm. McKee, F. G. Usilton. Special music was rendered by Mrs. J. W. Cain, and Mrs. Romie McCauley.

J. Weldon Rambo died at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rambo, in Baltimore, February 26, 1906, aged 12 years and 28 days.

James Spry, a prominent and highly respected farmer near Chesterville, died Monday morning after a short illness, aged 52. The deceased some weeks ago in passing out of the hen house struck his head against the door sill from which time he has been a sufferer with headache, but the immediate cause of death was heart trouble. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Tracy, of Crumpton, and three sons, Charles, Merritt and Clifton.

"SHORTY" GLENN ILL.

Well-Known Kent Countian, of Traffic Squad in Baltimore, Suffering with Cancer of the Spine—Tallest Man on Force.

Patrolman James Glenn, the giant of the police force, who since the inauguration of the Traffic Squad had been stationed at the corner of Baltimore and South streets, is critically ill at his home with cancer of the spine; one of the rarest and most dangerous diseases known to medical science. Standing 6 feet 4 inches in height and proportioned accordingly, Officer Glenn was a conspicuous figure in any gathering, and he is probably as well known and has as wide an acquaintance as any patrolman in the city.

When the traffic, or "beauty," squad was created, nearly a year ago, Patrolman Glenn was the first officer selected by the Board of Police Commissioners to be a member, and that he was assigned to one of the busiest corners in the city is tribute to his worth as an officer.

Patrolman Glenn has been ill at his home for about a week, and Dr. J. D. Norris, police surgeon, stated that he was suffering with cancer of the spine, and that he regarded his condition as critical. He also stated that, in his opinion, the patrolman would never be able to return to active duty. The news of his serious illness will come as a great surprise to the officer's many acquaintances. He was the tallest man on the police force and one of the most popular.

Patrolman Glenn has been on the force for about six years. Before joining the department he was a resident of Rock Hall, and one of the best-known oystermen in that part of the Bay. He was known for his skill and daring in sailing the pungy Amelia, of which he was the mate, and later the pungy Adelaide, of which he was the captain, having succeeded in command the owner, Capt. Thos. Price, of Rock Hall, whose daughter he married. Mr. Glenn, who was known along the water front as "Shorty," was very popular among the commission men to whom he brought oysters, and he had many friends, who stood him in good stead when he made application for a position on the police force. Patrolman Glenn lives at 309 South Mount street.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHAPEL OF THE HOLY CROSS, MILLINGTON, MD, REV. ALBERT WARE, RECTOR.

LIVE LOCAL NOTES

THE report that a strike was on at the Chestertown basket factory is a mistake. The managers ask us to state that nothing like one was in contemplation.

SUPT. F. H. RUSSELL has six record-breaking hens. He has gotten ten dozen eggs in 28 days! Is there any of the NEWS readers who can beat this record?

THE steamer Gratitude was compelled to lay at the Rock Hall wharf all night Wednesday on account of the rough weather. She had on board 65 tons of fertilizer for Crumpton. Several passengers were disappointed on Thursday morning at Chestertown on account of her non-appearance.

Lambs.—Mr. Lewin U. Skirven shipped 8 lambs to market this week. He has 76 lambs from 51 ewes.

Mr. John C. Henry, a farmer near Middletown, Dorchester county, owns a ewe that gave birth to five lambs.

Local buyers are paying $4.50 for early lambs.

Married.—In Piney Neck parsonage on the evening of Feb. 25th, by Rev. G. S. Conaway, Mr. Leonard Bennett to Miss Bertha Hynson, both of Broadneck.

In Piney Neck parsonage on the evening of February, 27th, by Rev. G. S. Conaway, Mr. David P. Joiner to Miss Mary E. Minnor, both of Rock Hall.

Mr. Howard Purnell Atwell and Miss Helen Jervis Jewell, both of Kent county were married at the M. P. Parsonage, in Kennedyville by Rev. R. S. Rowe on Thursday evening, March 1st.

COUPLE SURPRISED FRIENDS

Miss Hall, of Baltimore and Mr. Parris, of Kent, Went to Annapolis And Were Married.

Friends of Miss Naomi J. Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Hall, 1807 East Madison street, and those of Mr. J. Wellington Parris, son of Rev. J. W. Parris, pastor of Wesley Chapel, Edesville, were greatly surprised several days ago when they learned of the marriage of the couple on January 28 at Annapolis.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. D. Miller, pastor of First Methodist Protestant Church.

January 27 Mr. Robert J. Hall, a brother of the bride, went to Annapolis and got the license. The following day the couple visited the Ancient City and were married. The attendants were Mr. Hall and Miss Carrie Bortner.

Mr. and Mrs. Parris then returned to the bride's home and informed her parents. Although the couple had been engaged for several months, it was expected that they would not be married until June. They will live at 1807 East Madison street, Baltimore.

BETTERTON NEWS.

Miss Violet Moore is visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Mrs. Ruth Pennington and children, of Philadelphia, visited her sister Mrs. Frank Clarke, this week.

Mr. John Brice has returned home after an extended visit to Baltimore and New York.

Miss Vera Fowler has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Baltimore.

Mr. James Canby, of Philadelphia, is visiting his brother Mr. Franklin Canby.

Mr. Mann, wife and daughter, Myrtle, have returned home after a pleasant visit in New York and Atlantic City.

Mrs. Crudden, of this village, went up to Philadelphia for a few days this week on business.

An entertainment will be held in the Betterton Public School Saturday eve., March 3, proceeds for the benefit of the school. All are invited.

Mr. Reese Young, formerly of St. Michaels, who has a position with Crew & Crew has returned, after a pleasant visit with his people of that town.

Mr. Archie Crew paid a flying trip to Baltimore last week.

Mr. Alfred Jester, returned home Saturday after visiting Rock Hall and Baltimore.

Mr. Charlie Trott is having a new gasoline engine put in his boat, by Mr. Ross of Fredericktown.

Invoking Big Help.—Col. A. H. Supplee, the well-known resident of Betterton, is very much interested in the defeat of the canal toll charge and is using his best efforts to accomplish same. He was a school mate of President Roosevelt and paid a visit to the popular President last week to invoke his aid. It is said that the President promised to talk with Secretary Taft and see what could be done!

Bought Farm.—Will remove to Kent.—Col. Edw. B. Emory, a well-known resident of Piney Grove, Queen Anne's, has purchased the Louis C. Ayres or Dr. Bates farm of 78 acres, near Edesville, of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes for $2800. John D. Urie, Esq., negotiated the sale. Mr. Hughes will remove to Talbot County while Col. Emory will come to Kent. He will devote his attention to stock raising in which business he has had an extended experience. He is said to have netted $10,000 in one year from one of his celebrated stallions.

Tomatoes $8.00 a Ton.—Messrs. Ivins & Carr, the well-known packers of Aberdeen, Md., have about made their contracts for tomatoes for their Lynch's house, at $8.00 per ton. This firm paid their growers last season 50 cents per ton above contract prices; their acreage for their Lynch's house will be 125 acres: 90 acres of this amount was contracted for Tuesday, balance of acreage being held for their old growers who were not present at this meeting.

The Canning & Mercantile Company are contracting for tomatoes about Chestertown and Still Pond at $8 per ton and baskets returned.

Miscreants.—The grave of Col. Josiah Massey was robbed Saturday night of some beautiful American Beauty roses. This is not the first time this has occured and it is time the authorities were investigating these occurrences.

The Kent School Board stationed Officer Cooper at Lankford school to prevent boys from nailing up the door on pancake day and no trouble was encountered.

Miss Ford was locked out of her school in Quaker Neck.

The school in town was broken into Saturday night and the miscreants left cigarette stubs and tobacco on the floor.

Boat News.—The steamer Gratitude officered by Capt. Vandyke, Mates Gibson and Story, and Purser George Aldridge, began regular trips to Crumpton Monday as per schedule elsewhere in the NEWS.

The Emma A. Ford is undergoing extensive changes. A hurricane deck will be extended over the bow and the lower deck enclosed like all the down bay boats. Several new state rooms are added, another open stairway in bow and other changes made. The Emma will be placed on the Chestertown route about the middle of March, at which time the B. S. Ford will go to the shipyard for important changes.

Capt. Wm. Taylor has been named as captain of the Emma A. Ford.

The "Leland Mills," of the Chester Freighting Co., began her regular trips Monday, as per schedule in another column, and is being well supported.

School Exhibit.—The Kent and Queen Annes Fair Co., are offering extra inducements to the school children of Kent and Queen Anne's county to have a big exhibit at the Fair this year. The Secretary has written to quite a number of teachers and has also secured the assistance of Prof. Melvin who promises to give the matter his hearty approval. The Fair Co. will be glad to receive any new suggestions from teachers and parents as to classes etc., if sent in at once.

THE month of February went out in a baby blizzard and for awhile it looked serious. The thermometer registered 16°. Pea growers and early gardner were knocked silly.
