MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for it. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous.

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chestertown, Md.

Another Woman's Case

"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared.

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

M. E. CONFERENCE AT POCOMOKE CITY.

35th Annual Session Will Convene Week Commencing March 14.

The program and arrangements for the 35th annual session of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, which will be held at Pocomoke City the week commencing March 14th, have about been completed. Bishop Charles C. McCabe, of Philadelphia will preside. Rev. C. T. Wyatt, D. D., of Wilmington, Del., will preach a missionary sermon on the eve of the opening of the Conference session, and Rev. Dr. T. E. Martindale, of Elkton, will have charge of the Pentecostal services during the Conference week. Anniversaries will be held as follows: Church Extension Society, March 14, speaker, Rev. Dr. J. M. King, of Philadelphia; Epworth League, March 15, speaker, Rev. Dr. E. M. Randall, of Chicago; Educational Society, March 16, speaker, Rev. William H. Anderson, D. D., of New York; Temperance, March 17, speaker, Homer L. Castle, of Pittsburg.

The commission appointed to consider the advisability of dividing the Alexandria district of the Virginia Conference and attaching a portion of it to this Conference will recommend that Norfolk, Newport News and Old Point Comfort, together with the pastors of those charges, be admitted to the Wilmington Conference, and, if Bishop McCabe sanctions the plan, the recommendations will be adopted. Norfolk, Newport News and Old Point Comfort are isolated from the other charges on the Alexandria district, which has resulted in the proposed division. A commission representing the Baltimore Conference will recommend that the rest of the district be admitted to that Conference.

The disposition of the cases of Drs. Baker and Corkran, who were suspended a year ago for stock gambling, will probably be watched closer than any other business that will be transacted. The terms of the pastors' suspension will expire when Conference convenes. and it is thought that they will ask to be re-instated and given charges.

ADVICE ON CARE OF HORSES

How to Treat a Horse.

Horses should be kept in a light, well-ventilated stable, with smooth, well-bedded stalls about five feet wide.

Have the manger large and the grain well scattered over it to prevent the horse from bolting his feed. All dry hay should be fed from the floor.

Once a month smear some pure tar in the trough where the grain is to be placed.

Lime, as a disinfectant, should be sprinkled in the stalls every morning.

When a horse comes in from a drive or from work in wet and stormy weather, use sawdust on his legs, instead of washing, as it absorbs the moisture and will dry the limbs quicker than by rubbing with straw or cloths, and will prevent scratches and other skin diseases. Never allow the horse to stand in a draught, as many horses have died from careless exposure.

Change of diet is as essential for a horse as for a person. Do not overfeed, however, and let the feeding be regular.

Give the horse all the water he will drink, but give it to him in small quantities, and often.

Never overwork a horse; it is unnecessary and inhuman. Stop him when he begins to show that he is suffering.

Currying is a postive necessity and should be well done, daily. It not only assists the circulation, but makes the horse look and fell better. He should be well rubbed and brushed each time, then his hair will respond to the treatment and be kept in a healthy condition.

OBITUARY.

In sad but loving remembrance of our daughter Agnes, who died one year ago Feb. 25th, 1905. God knows what is best and all should bow to his righteous will. In his word we find our comfort. What I do thou knowest not now, but shall know hereafter.

When the angels brought the message
That our dear daughter must go,
None but a parent who has lost one
Could our grief and sorrow know.

Loving Mother.

The depth of sorrow tongue cannot tell
At the loss of a sister we all loved so well.
And while she rests in peaceful sleep
The sacred memory we shall always keep.

Dear sister could you speak to me
And could you live again,
My aching heart would then be healed;
But this I wish in vain.

Loving Sister.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE SPELLING BEE.

The radiant smile for supremacy was upon every youthful face of the fourth and fifth grades of the Chestertown public school all day Tuesday. Victory for each was the ideal and what each lacked in knowledge of the words was balanced by the interest taken. The challenge for the spelling bee had been accepted and after recess the battle was begun.

Superintendent Melvin had charge of the bee and his excellent pronunciation and definitions for the catchy words made the contest all the more interesting. The little ones soon began to fall out but anxiousness for their side was still manifest. There were quite a number of words given before the sides dwindled to a few. The speller of the third grade was soon closed and the reader secured. Still they spelled and spelled. Several times a word would carry down numbers but at last would find its match with some scholar.

The end was gradually nearing and one entire side went down much to the regret of its members. A few remained standing on the other side; but that side at the start had the advantage in number. Having been asked not to disclose the grade standing for this reason, I think with justice to all I may refrain from doing so.

It seems as if these contests should be of frequent occurrence. Would it not be well to start these in all the schools? Interest in such subjects can readily be obtained and the betterment of the classes secured.

The answer is easy—everybody knows it.

QUALITY

Captain Emory grew on one occasion 17 tons per acre. Mr. Zac T. Gilbert grew 19 tons to the acre. Mr. G. W. Collins has bought as high as 50 tons per year, and his men grew from 12 to 15 tons per acre. We have sold already in Anne Arundel county, the lower counties and New Jersey, hundreds of tons already. Messrs Baker and Morgan have bought as high as twelve hundred dollars worth; Messrs. Smith, Rouse & Webster have bought in the past as much as several thousand. Captain Dashiel says he would have it if he had to give $50.00 per ton for same. Mr. Joseph Downey says when he was canning that he could actually tell the difference in tomatoes grown with Peerless when brought to his cannery. Mr. Numsen says he knows that tomatoes grown with our goods are fine. Mr. Frank Moore' who runs Assaw Binns & Co.'s cannery, says the best tomatees brought there are from Peerless. Mr. Loose, a customer of his, says a ton of Peerless grew him $96.00 worth more tomatoes than another goods costing $7.00 less per ton. Mr. Money says it is certainly good. We could go on, but with a testimonial will close.

Unsolicited, some time ago Mr. W. S. Elburn & Son came into our office and said: "I believe your Peerless to be the best tomato goods I ever saw. You remember what an advocate I was of it when I lived out at the mill. Well, wherever I have lived since, on the Western Shore or elsewhere, I would have it, and last year I put some of this same goods on some onions grown from the seed, and they were as fine as Bermudas. Many measured 4 inches in diameter, and I grew over 600 bushels per acre, or at the rate of 1162 baskets. I used it on strawberries and picked 8000 quarts per acre.

The above testimony should, therefore, be convincing.
