ROYAL ARCANUM.

A Subordinate Council of the ROYAL ARCANUM is now a certainty and the citizens of Chestertown and vicinity are certainly to be congratulated upon this fact. The ROYAL ARCANUM has during its life of 28 years paid to widows and orphans of the deceased members the enormous amount of one hundred millions of dollars. Many are the homes that have been saved to wife and children by the ROYAL ARCANUM. Thousands of fatherless children have been educated through the fact that the father was thoughtful enough to protect them by becoming a member of the ROYAL ARCANUM. Why not you become a member of Chestertown Council and thereby protect your wife and children?

Thomas G. Wroth, the leading shoe merchant of Chestertown, has been a member for more than 20 years. The Rev. D. L. Greenfield, pastor of the Meth. Prot. Church, has been a member since 1880. Mr. Allan A. Harris, the cashier of the Chestertown Bank, has also been a member since 1886. And these gentlemen will be glad to give you any desired information relative to the ROYAL ARCANUM.

Two plans are offered, a term rate and a whole life rate. The member accepting the term rate, say at age of 35, continues to pay the rate at entering for 30 full years, or until the age of 65 is reached. In accepting the whole life rate at the age of 35 the member continues to pay at age of 35 during the remainder of life; no assessments at time of death; a fixed annual cost, but may be paid quarterly, sem annually or monthly. The Royal Arcanum has a large membership in all the large cities, 92 per cent. of same being manufacturers, merchants and professional men. The Royal Arcanum was the first of the assessment orders to cease making extra assessments, and for years past have only collected 12 monthly payments in any one year. We are pleased to note that our leading merchants are now becoming daily enrolled as charter members. Charter closes at night of institution and cannot be reopened.

SHIPPING SMALL FISH.

One of the best laws concerning fish that was on our statute books was repealed by the last legislature. That was the law relative to small fish. Formerly fish under a certain size were seized on the Baltimore wharves and the shipper had to pay the freight and was liable to a fine. But it said that these small fish were being sent to Philadelphia together with the big fish and Baltimore was losing trade. So the law was repealed and now the Baltimore commission men are sending word to ship all sized fish to them and the market is nearly glutted with them.

Large Attended Sales.—The Simms sale on Wednesday, on the Constable farm, advertised in the NEWS, was attended by an extraordinarily large crowd. The bidding was spirited and everything went "way up." Two pair of mules sold for $305 and $265 a pair respectively; horses as high as $156 and cows up to $32½. Implements sold well. The Spry sale, near Chesterville, on Monday was also largely attended and things brought their full value.

REV. F. T. LITTLE RE-ELECTED

M. P. Conference in Baltimore This Week —Interesting Discussion.

The annual conference of Maryland M. P. church is meeting at Lafayette Aue. M. P. church, Baltimore, this week. Dr. F. T. Little was elected president, receiving 122 votes. Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham received the flattering vote of 45 for the office of President. This is Dr. Little's 5th term. A resolution was offered to limit the President to three years, but it did not pass.

President Little will have his hands full endeavoring to place ministers on proper charges and circuits. Changes will be made at Snow Hill, Harrington, Salisbury, Delmar, Bethany and Christ's Churches, Baltimore, Dorchester. Deer Creek, Kennedyville and a number of other points not yet known.

The question of making a larger provision for the church entertaining the conference was brought up but before any action could be taken Rev. J. M. Gill, pastor of the Rhode Island Avenue Church, Washington, presented an invitation to the conference to gather at his church next year. Entertaining the conference was an honor, he declared, and it was on that account that he made his invitation before the question of finances was brought up for consideration.

The most vexing question of the conference was that of electing delegates to the conference and church officials on Sunday. One phase after another was brought out until the general question of violations of the Sabbath pushed its way to the top. A resolution introduced by Rev. J. J. McCauley, in which he deplored the fact that in certain sections of Maryland the delegates to the convention and other church officials were elected on Sunday, started the discussion. Rev. W. M. Strayer declared that it is against the law of the State to conduct the business of a church on Sunday.

A pleasant break in the business of the session was the presentation of a gold piece to the Nester of the conference, Rev. Dr. S. B. Sutherland. The gift is an annual affair, comes from a member of the denomination in Chestertown to Dr. Sutherland as the oldest member of the Conference. The presentation was made on behalf of the donor by President Little, who paid a graceful tribute to Dr. Sutherland as he handed the sparkling bit of gold, symbolic of his years of golden service to the denomination, over to Dr. Sutherland.

CHURCH HILL BANK ORGANIZES.

TWO-CENTS-A-MILE BILL.

Governor Warfield granted a hearing to the representatives of a number of railroad companies doing business in Maryland, all of whom are opposed to the bill fixing two cents a mile as the maximum rate for transportation of passengers in the State. This bill was introduced in the House by Mr. Crane, of Kent county, and traveled a rocky road, being opposed at every step by the railroad companies. It finally passed on the last night of the session with an amendment which makes provision in the bill for the commuters. The bill had practically been abandoned until the theory was started that the Mileage Book bill would be unconstitutional.

The Governor has reserved his decision as to signing it.

Base Ball Season Opens.—Washington College opened its base season on Wednesday with a game with the Villanova team, near Philadelphia. The visitors were a little too much for the home team as the score of 17 to 2 in favor of Villanova shows. White and Knotts was W. C.'s battery. The City College team will be in Chestertown this afternoon and play W. C.

The "Little Potato Club" of Chestertown has organized a strong team and would like to hear from all teams from 10 to 13 years old. The line up is as follows: Eddie Blackway, p; Leslie Duyer, c.; Leslie Needles, 1st b.; Price Rolph, 2nd b.; Alvin Coleman, 3rd b., Hepbron Gill, s. s.; Clarence Willis, c. f.; Chas. Smith, r. f.; Chas. King, l. f.

TEACHERS TO MEET AT OCEAN CITY.

The Maryland State Teachers' Association will hold its next annual meeting at Ocean City, June 26-29. President Cain, of Washington College, Chestertown, Irving L. Twilley, of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute, John J. Coulburn, of Havre de Grace, Miss Bertha Brown and Miss Margaret Robinson constitute the Executive Committee. Prominent speakers, including Governor Warfield, will address the body during its session.

THE honor roll of the Chestertown High School will be published next week.

NEXT Sunday week is Easter Sunday. Have you a new bonnet? Hicks promises an ideal day.

THE Rich Neck Farmers' Club met Thursday, at the home of Mr. J. McRochester. Prof. Milton Whitney, of the Bureau of Agriculture, was present and made an address on "Soil Fertility.' A royal time was enjoyed.

IT'S ALL TRUE about the "Pittsburg Perfect" wire fence, sold by the Marvil Package Co., basket factory, Chestertown, Md., having no superior. The material is of best quality, the welding is done by electricity, and experience has proven that no other contact is near so perfect. That "Pittsburg Perfect" "Jumbo" is credited by many farmers as having no equal. If you need wire fence get the best on the market.
