It always pays to investigate before you buy. In the carriage line this is doubly true, because they are apparently alike when vastly different.

If you will take a look at our Runabouts and Carriages, note the snappy styles, the good class of work and all that goes to make a vehicle of value—then consider the fact that we as dealers are under no expense whatever to sell these jobs, no clerks, no commissions, no rents—(we buy only in solid car-load lots to the very best advantage)—you will readily see why we can sell as we do and why it is to your own good interest to buy from us.

Bright Prospects For Fruit.

From present prospects there will be plenty of fruit in this section. Mr. Jas. S. Harris, says he has made a careful examination of his orchards and finds peaches uninjured and the trees with plenty of buds. Commissioner A. C. Loud says the same is true in his section.

It is a little early to judge of the keiffer pear trees, but the Bartlett trees are said to have plenty of bloom and uninjured.

One farmer in the NEWS office the past week said that he examined his orchard and found that over ⅔ of his peach buds seemed to be hurt and going into the orchard of his neighbor he found that over ⅔ of the buds were unhurt. Now why is this? Of course the ploughing and fertilizing may have had something to do with in, but could this account entirely for it?

A letter from Georgia in the peach section says: There are 87,000 peach trees on Pine Mountain; about 40,000 in bearing. Frost did practically no damage and we will all have full crops unless something from now on intervenes to prevent. All peaches in the low lands about us are killed absolutely and all corn and cotton that was up will have to be replanted. The orchards on Pine mountain are 1,200 to 1,500 feet above the sea level which accounts for our immunity. Old orchards of twenty years' standing on the mountain have never missed a full crop.

A writer from Delaware says: The prospect of the peach crop of the peninsula is brighter today than it has been for the past three weeks. On close examination the writer finds the fruit has withstood the snow, hail, rain and late cold weather without a loss greater than five per cent.

The so-called June drop may be heavy. This seems to be the general opinion, but if nothing serious from now on happens to affect the growth of the fruit the Delaware peninsula will be heard from in the peach market. The trees are not heavily set with buds, but there are just enough on them to make a good crop.

MADE OVER 50 ARRESTS.

The oyster season is over and reports from the Chester river grounds are that there are plenty of oysters left. Capt. Ashley, of the police schooner, Anna B. Smith, says he has made over 50 arrests the past season for violations of the cull law. Only one of these arrests was for dredging, the others being tongers. Most of the violators were from Kent county. Capt. Ashley is holding up the hands of Capt. Howard to save the young oysters and though only doing his duty yet he deserves the thanks and hearty co-operation of all the oystermen in his determination in not allowing the "goose to be killed that lays the golden egg."

A DISPLAY OF $5.00 HATS AT HOCHSCHILD, KOHN & CO.'S.

Baltimore women are in a quiver of delighted excitement over the wonderful display of Trimmed Hats at $5.00 being made by Hochschild, Kohn & Co., detailed reference to which is made in another part of this paper.

Hochschild, Kohn & Co. have always had a reputation for elegant becoming millinery—and have always made a speciality of $5.00 Hats. Not until this season, however, have they made any effort to impress the woman who lives in Baltimore—and who come to the city to shop—with the extent of their millinery facilities and the magnitude of their trade in $5.00 Hats.

The collection includes a thousand hats and, incredible as it may seem, no two of them are alike.

It will be well worth a trip to Baltimore just to see the display. It will be a matter of economy, too, to get a hat, for there is a clear saving of $2.50 to $5.00 on every one of them, as compared with usual prices in other stores.

Killed Spraying Trees.—Patrick Anderson, of Cecilton, Cecil county, died Sunday at the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, from injuries to his eyes received several days ago, aged 69 years. Mr. Anderson was examining a sprayer which was charged with freshly slacked lime, when in some manner the lime was forced from the nozzle into his eyes. His suffering was intense and he was removed to a hospital for treatment, where he died from the effects of his injuries. He was a son of William Anderson and a native of Ireland. He came to the United States in 1852, locating at Cecilton in 1859. He is survived by a widow and four children.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE SECOND.

Mr. Lewin Wethered Barroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barroll, of Chestertown, represented Washington College Friday night in the battle of eloquence in Westminister, where the ninth annual contest of the Oratorical Association of Maryland Colleges was held in Alumni Hall of Western Maryland College. Mr. Barroll won the second prize and deserves great credit for his effort.

The judges were Mr. James H. Van Sickel, superintendent of the public schools of Baltimore; Mr. A. S. Cook, superintendent of the public schools of Baltimore county, and Mr. Albert S. J. Owens, State's Attorney of Baltimore city. They awarded the first prize, a gold medal, to Mr. John Hunt Hendrickson, of Western Maryland College, and the second prize, also a gold medal, to Mr. Lewin Wethered Barroll, of Washington College. The other two speakers were Mr. H. W. Lippincott, of Maryland Agricultural College and Mr. Alton S. Arnold, of St. John's college.

These contests were inaugurated at Western Maryland College in 1899 and this occasion had the special interests of beginning the circuit of the membership for the third time. Of the eight previous contests, Western Maryland College has won first place six times, Washington College once and St. John's College once.

THE "EDEN" OF THE SHORE.

"The "Eden" of the Eastern Shore" is the title of a book of views issued by the NEWS and now on sale at J. H. Sides' jewelry store. It contains scenes in old Kent and Chestertown and enclosed in envelope for mailing. It contains more than fifty views and is the only one on the market. It will make a valuable souvenir to recommend to visitors and make a nice present to send to friends out of the county. The supply is limited to a few hundred.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Died While on a Visit to Kent—Others Summoned to Their Final Home.

Last week Mrs. Myers Jester, made a visit to her sister, Mrs. Wm. T. Hague, of Kennedyville. She makes her home with her family in Baltimore and was to return on Monday morning. Sunday she seemed to be well as usual, but about bed time was taken suddenly ill. Dr. Barwick was sent for to render what human aid he could, but all to no avail the death messenger had called her and in less than half an hour from the time she was first taken had breathed her last. She had placed her things to put on the next morning to go to Baltimore never dreaming of her sudden death. Heart failure was the immediate cause of her death. She was 54 years of age and leaves two sons and one daughter. The remains were sent to Baltimore by Undertaker Krusen on Tuesday and funeral services held at her late home in that city with interment at Loudon Park cemetery. It was indeed a sad home coming to the family of the deceased.

Wm. Eugene Bonwill, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bonwill, of near Still Pond, died on Saturday last. The funeral took place on Sunday with interment at Still Pond cemetery. Rev. E. H. Collins officiated.

Isaac Strahorn, a farmer, of the Fourth district, Cecil county, died at his home, near Strahorn Mills, Monday, aged 65 years. The deceased had been in poor health for sometime, suffering from heart trouble and paralysis of the throat. He was a son of Jonathan Strahorn, and a native of Pennsylvania, but has resided in Cecil county since he was seven years of age. He is survived by a widow and several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. William Getshal died on Wednesday at her home near Fairlee, of pneumonia after a short illness. She was 36 years of age and leaves a husband and several children. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon from her late home. Interment at Union cemetery, Rev. Mr. Taylor officiated.

Ladies Must Wear Hats.—Bishop Coleman, well-known in Kent, threw a bomb into the established style of fashionable weddings this week. Following a wedding at Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church Saturday evening, at Wilmington, after the wedding party had left the church, Bishop Coleman, one of the officiating clergymen, noticed a number of ladies there without hats, which is customary at most church weddings, and he took occasion to inform those present that it was against the rules of the Episcopal Church for ladies to appear in the church without hats or some other covering for their heads.

"I will excuse you this time," the Bishop said, "but don't do it again."

THE contract for furnishing books for the Kent schools has been awarded by the school commissioners to the Wm. J. C. Dulaney Co., of Baltimore, they being the lowest bidders.

THE very cold and wet season is delaying corn planting and asparagus cutting.

A MOST pleasant dance was given at Shellbourne Park last Saturday evening. Quite a number were present from all sections of lower Kent.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN, the family horse of Mr. Jos. Guest, Chestertown, will be 38 years old on Monday, and is good for light service yet. Who can beat this?

Live Local Notes.

Labor Annoyances.—Mr. Geo. S. Biddle, one of our industrious and leading farmers, says he got up yesterday morning and found he had not a single hand on the farm! He came to town and found two of his Virginia men on the steamer bound for Baltimore. They could give no cause for their departure as there had been no difference between them, and no intimation had been given of their leaving.

First Asparagus.—State's Attorney W. W. Beck sent in from his "Kentmere" farm last Saturday the first asparagus of the season, it was sold by Geo. Z. Roland. Messrs. McGinnis and Charles H. Jarman, in Queen Anne's, near Chestertown, brought the first home grown Asparagus of the season from that section on Monday and placed them for sale with Mr. D. A. Bacchus. They retailed for 30 cents a bunch and were extra fine for the first of the season.

Bridge Accepted.—The Kent Commissioners on Tuesday accepted the bridge over the stream near the Crow and Wilmer farms in the second district. It was built by Contractor Walter T. Pippin, of Chestertown, and the commissioners were pleased with it as being a strong, well-built up-to-date structure, and compliment to the builder and the county.

Urieville Mill.—The Urieville Mill, which was recently so badly damaged by the dam breaking away, will be put in thorough working order at once. The owner, Mr. Jas. A. Coats, of Phila., was in Kent last Saturday and with the manager of the mill, Mr. Eli Hastings, made an examination of the property and planned for rebuilding. A tumbler will be built, new gates put in and other improvements made. Stavely & Bowers, of Lynch, are the contractors for the work.

Bowers and Harrison W. Vickers, Jr. Short talk on the Order and the Flag—Wm. B. Coleman, D. P. and Wm. F. Malin. Quite a number were present.

The presentation of flags to the schools is a most worthy action and this order is to be congratulated for its efforts in instilling patriotism in the young of our country.

Before the Orphans' Court.—Letters of Administration upon the estate of the late Thomas A. Hudson were granted to H. H. Barroll, Esq., by the Orphans' Court on Tuesday and he gave bond for $15000. Messrs. Walter H. Hadaway and Charles D. Wood were appointed to appraise the personal property.

Base Ball Notes.—The Chestertown High School defeated the Rock Hall High School in a close and exciting game of base ball at Chestertown on Saturday afternoon last by a score of 7 to 8. The feature of game was the home run hit of Mr. Bernard Boyd, made with three men on the bases, sending them all home as also himself, and the fielding of Price Rolph who made several difficult catches. The batteries were: Rock Hall, Walbert and Saunders; Chestertown, Jarman and Blackway.

The Washington College team will play Rock Hill College today near Baltimore. On next Thursday Western Maryland College and Washington College will play on the latter's ground and this promises to be a great game.

The Washington College track team is battling today for honors at Maryland Agricultural College.
