DENTON JOURNAL,

HOWARD MELVIN, EDITOR.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1890.

EX SENATOR RIDDLEBERGER, of Virginia, died on Friday of last week.

GOVERNOR JACKSON has appointed Mr. Granville Rider, of Salisbury, State Fish Commissioner.

SENATOR BRICE'S declaration that "Ohio should be eternally Democratic" has struck a responsive cord in the hearts of the Ohio Democratic Congressmen, and they say they intend it shall be, beginning with the Congressional election next November.

SAYS the Denton JOURNAL: Mr. Peter Hagadone is in receipt of a letter from Mr. George W. Thompson, of Cleveland, Ohio, who wants to know about the soil, climate, production and markets of Caroline county. Mr. Thompson says: "I expect to have the founders of a colony come to see me about Maryland, and I would like very much to have them locate near Ridgely, having chosen Maryland as the State. The people who form the colony are all well-to-do farmers and will make good citizens."

Don't let him come too near the Queen Anne's line or you won't have the colony in Caroline.—Centreville Observer.

No. It would be located in Kent. Once so near our fertile plains they would not stop short thereof, even for so tempting a sojourn as in the Queen Anne's lands!—Kent News.

And yet we will risk the assertion that of the number of substantial farmers from other States who have bought farms in the three counties a large majority are found right here in Caroline, and still they come!

FROM THE VOTE of the House of Delegates, announced on Friday of last week, it appears that the bill imposing a tax on mortgages is to become a law. The vote was 54 to 31, a majority of 23 for the measure. The Senate has not yet voted on the queston, but if the sentiment of that branch may be foretold by the expression of the House, it seems safe to predict that a mortgage tax law will be one of the important measures of the Legislature. By the proposed act hundreds of thousands of dollars of first-class securities which yielded no public revenue will be added to the taxable basis in every county in Maryland. This will of course materially reduce the tax-rate everywhere in the State, and the land owners, who now pay about all the taxes, will be sensibly relieved. In our county we believe a new and fair assessment of all property, including mortgages, would reduce the rate of taxation to sixty cents.

It remains to be seen whether the state-craft at Annapolis can throw about the mortgagor sufficient protection against the money lender who may be disposed to saddle such taxes upon the borrower.

Wanamaker's,

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.

Our Dress Goods push has left the market far behind. The Gloriosas in plains, stripes of many colors, the Ginghams in great array of novel gayety are recruited by the Mohairs· 38 inches, 75 cents, in 30 colors, with a like assortment. 40 inches, finer, at $1. And such colors!

There are Scotch Ginghams at 25 cents that you think would be 40, and then American Ginghams at 25 cents that rival the Scotch, and novelties in Scotch Ginghams that you would think were silks, at 45 to 75 cents, and altogether such a variety as you never dreamed of, and such satisfaction in picking and choosing that you vote the store a Gingham paradise, and never will expect to seek Ginghams elsewhere in all your mortal life.

Among the sensations the French Wool Challis at 37½ cents from 50 and 60 cents are creating ceaseless activity at the counter. The goods are bright and fresh, styles of the period. Of course wise womem seize them promptly. The buying capacity of this market is great for real Bargains and the movement quick. Delays are dangerous.

Two grades of Damask Towels that two years ago were $2 each, and never have been under $1.25 and $1, go to 85c for lace border and 75c for plain. 26x50 inches, knotted fringe. Plain white, blue, or red borders. 2200 of them to start with, but they'll be a quick crop.

Picot-edge Velvet and Satin Ribbons in two widths (¾ and 1¼ inches) are going at 8 and 23c—less than half prices. Black and colors.

Mere thickness isn't enough in the Blankets, it should be wide and long as well. That's why the "Tuck-in" Blanket holds friends so. 90x96 inches, 10 pounds of warmth, and only $7.50 the pair. Worth $9.50.

Wanamaker's,

$5 a pair for pure wool Blankets, 6⅓ pounds, 74x86 inches.

Other sorts anywhere from $1.25 to $30 a pair.

The best Hat values for the money we ever knew:

Silk Hats from $8 to $6
Silk Hats from $7 to $6
Silk Hats from $5 to $3.50
Men's new Black Derby Hats from $2.50 to $1.75.
A lot of Light Brown English Derby Hats down from $4.50 and $4 to $3.
Boy's Cloth Hats down from $1 and 75c to 50c.

Our regular kinds reduced from our regular prices.

Finest Seal Caps that have been $15 and $16.50 each, go to $11. The $10 Caps are $7.50. Piece Seal Caps go from $5 and $4 to $3.50 and $3. At 13th and Market streets corner. That's the way all the little furs have been price-hacked.

Embroidered Muslin Sheets are a novelty of novelties. Of course you find it first at Wanamaker's. Pillow cases too. Fine muslin, handsomely embroidered and hemstitched.

Sheet, $1.25. $175, $2.
Pillow Cases, 65c.

You know our great repute for Ulsters and Storm Coats. It will be greater when you read the following; greater still if you buy:

Men's Double Breasted Uulsters, neat plaid cassimere, wool lined, at $16.50 from $22.50.
Men's Double Breasted Ulsters, elysian wool lined, at $20 from $25.
Men's Double Breasted Ulsters, black cheviot, $15 from $20.
Men's English Cape Overcoats, our importation this, $18 from $25 and $22.50.

With all this remember the upward trend of our entire Clothing business.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

A BOOK OF RARE MERIT.

Explorations and Adventures of Henry M. Stanley and Other World-Renowned Explorers, Containing Thrilling Accounts of Famous Expeditions, Miraculous Escapes, Marvelous Discoveries, Etc., in the Wilds of Africa.

This superbly illustrated work comprises in one magnificent volume a graphic account of the travels, discoveries and brilliant achievements of Stanley in the Dark Continent. A complete history of his last great expedition for the relief of the celebrated Emin Pasha is given from Stanley's own pen. In this volume the great explorer relates his terrible sufferings and dangers, his long and wearisome journeys and conflicts in rescuing Emin Pasha and his brave band.

The work is extremely fascinating. The explorations of the greatest travelers, their thrilling adventures, terrible dangers and miraculous escapes; the strange customs, savage wars, human sacrifices, rude forms of government of wild races, the brilliant scenery, beautiful birds, ferocious beasts and reptiles of the tropics are all described in the most captivating manner.

The reader is conducted through the thick jungles, the cheerless deserts, and luxuriant plains of Africa. He beholds a wonderful country, famous for its fertile valleys, its vast forests, its mighty rivers and cataracts, and mines of untold wealth.

All the world-renowned explorers of the tropics are here brought together in a brilliant galaxy. The names of Livingstone, Baker, Speke, Du Chaillu, Baldwin, and others are all celebrated, but the most thrilling interest gathers around the name of Stanley, the world's greatest explorer. His perils, privations, and magnificent triumphs, are portrayed with masterly power in this new and very attractive work.

There is more to be learned from such a volume as this—more to interest and fascinate the reader—than can be found in a dozen trashy books. Here the most wonderful discoveries and adventures ever narrated charm the reader. Stanley's Explorations and Adventures should be in every household in the land.

It contains over 800 large octavo pages, and more than 200 elegant engravings and colored plates.

This superb work is sold by subscription only, and Mr. G. L. Walrath, Denton, who is the authorized agent for this section, is now canvassing for subscribers. It is issued by the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis.
