The Dorchester Era.

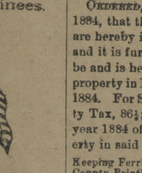
Republican Nominees.



FOR PRESIDENT,

Hon JAMES G. BLAINE,

OF MAINE.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

Gen. JOHN A. LOGAN,

OF ILLINOIS.

MR. C. H. GIBSON, of Talbot, was nominated for Congress on the fifty-first ballot by the democratic convention held here on Wednesday. This result was reached at 9 p. m., after a protracted struggle. The candidates in nomination before the convention were P. W. Downes, of Caroline, C. H. Gibson, of Talbot, John B. Brown, of Queen Anne's, Levin L. Waters, of Somerset, and J. A. Parsons, of Wicomico. It looked up to the final ballot as if the convention would be compelled to adjourn without making a nomination, such was the persistency with which some of the delegates stuck to their favorites. Talbot, Caroline and Wicomico never changed their votes a single time, until the fifty-first ballot, when Wicomico broke the monotony by withdrawing from Parsons and casting her four votes for Gibson, thus giving him the nomination. Dorchester was the "unknown quantity" in the convention, and vacillated between Waters and Downes, giving Gibson but one or two complimentaries on the first ballot only. It was evident that Boss Hines had Dorchester by the neck, and she was afraid to move out of the path marked out for her. We believe Gibson was the choice of at least four-fifths of the democrats of this county, and if the delegation had represented their constituents, and not the "machine" management, Gibson's nomination would have occurred on the second ballot. Downes, it was understood, was the "ring" candidate, and for him Dorchester voted oftenest, but managed to scramble in at the end of the last ballot for Gibson, after she saw his nomination was certain. She is now nowhere, and future states will reveal that there is nothing in store for her. She placed herself in the hands of the ring chiefs and they used her for their purposes. They lost the battle, and in going down dragged Dorchester with them. Mr. Gibson is perhaps the best and strongest candidate the democrats could have named, but his nomination does not by any means imply his election. The First District we know is considered democratic, but as the majority is small, and as this is to be a campaign of surprises, with a good republican candidate, standing upon the winning platform adopted by the national republican convention, with the popularity of the magnetic Blaine to strengthen him, it is not impossible that our next representative in Congress may be a republican.

Cleveland's Crime.

And now comes the Cincinatti Enquirer, a leading Cleveland organ, and publishes two and a half columns about a scandal affecting Gov. Cleveland's character for moral purity. That gentleman is charged with having won the affections of a lady in Buffalo, and then betraying her under circumstances that, if true, are shocking to the moral sense even of a gorilla. Not content with betraying, ruining and abandoning his victim, he persecuted her, depriving her of her child, and kept up a fire of annoyances until finally stopped by the threat and the fear of a public prosecution.

Such reading as this panders to a taste which, if not depraved, is on the road to depravation. It is useless, however, to deny that such scandals are relished as choice morsels by the average man and woman, and so long as this is the case so long will newspapers publish them.

And this remains to be said. If Gov. Cleveland committed that crime he is unfit to be President of the United States, and ought to be exposed to the fullest details. Men may sin and afterwards truly repent, but decency requires when their sins are gross and great that they take a back seat. The great mass of civilized men and women is pure. While they sorrowfully admit that there is a great deal of impurity in this world, and extend over it the mantle of Christian charity, and due regard for their own well-being, and the safety of society requires that they unsparingly condemn such crimes and punish such criminals. Governor Cleveland, as a man of the world, keen smart and alert, must know this. He does know it. It, therefore, behooves him to deny plumply, plainly and indignantly the commission of a crime which, more than any other, strikes at the foundation of society, and which society, while it accepts the penitence of the offender, insists shall be so treated as to discourage future perpetrations.

If the story is untrue, even if it is colored too highly, the severest condemnation rests upon those who first circulated it. If it is true, then Grover Cleveland ought not and will not be President of the United States.

— Wash. Gazette, a Cleveland organ

—Pueblo Pain-Curer is the standard remedy for pains, internal and external.

Gen. Grant will contribute twenty articles upon the principle battles of the war, to be published in the Century. For these he will get $10,000. He formerly declined to do this but owing to his recent financial reverses he has accepted and will perform the work.

For the Campaign.

The Philadelphia Weekly Press will be sent by mail till after the November election for 25 cents. The Daily Press for fifty cents per month.

The Irish World publishes letters from thirty two prominent Irish Democrats residing in different states of the Union repudiating Cleveland and declaring their intention to vote for Blaine and Logan. Kelly's vindication goes on.

COUNTY EXPENDITURES.

A statement of certain items of county expenditures for the year ending June 12th, 1884.

OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, CAMBRIDGE, JULY, 1884.

The following statement will show the expenditures for certain items of county expenses, from June 12th, 1883, to June 12th, 1884. Also, the Levies in 1883 and the amounts levied in 1884 to meet the deficiencies in those that were overdrawn. In most instances where it appears that money has been paid to the Commissioners or to any ex county commissioner, it is for partial payments to contractors or for labor employed in doing road work, the accounts in full being filed and approved when the work was completed.
