EDITORIAL NOTES. Mayor Robert M. McLane committed suicide by shooting himself in the head at his home on Monday afternoon last, thus ending a career which was full of promise. The cause for the rash act has not been ascertained, and all his friends are mystified. Only about two weeks before the sad trag dy he had been happily married, and bis life was thought to be in every way as nearly ideal as one could desire. He was apparently very happy, and being o ng and bonyant the criticisms which in exitably came to those in high ploces. growing out of j-alousies, etc., seem ed harmless. He had taken up the work for the improvement of the lately devastated city with calmness and courage and was supported by hosts of able friends. If there was a secret blow which a highly sensitive spirit could not withstand it could not be found and may remain with the dead. The death of Clay Timanus, President of the lection.
