EDITORIAL NOTES.

While the farmer may be getting only a small fraction of the increased price of food he is getting some of it, and if prices remain high he is certain to demand a large share. For some years past farmers generally have been getting more for their produce than formerly, and if the present high prices did not go so largely to middlemen farmers would soon be on easy street. There is generally some good in conditions otherwise evil, and if the high price of food strengthens the food producers and increases their numbers it will be to that extent a good thing for the country.

The tendency to desert the farm has been a source of complaint and regret for many years. The farmer boys would not continue their father's work. Farm life was voted lonely and farming wearisome, continuous and insufficiently remunerative. Better roads and rural telephone service have made farmer's homes seem less distant from each other and farm life more neighborly and sociable. If the profits of the farm increase permanently we shall see in all probability that the exodus from the country will cease and back to the farm become a popular principle of action. - Ex.

The Democrats will be ready for the congressional campaign this year with all the ammunition they could wish, furnished by their opponents. The whole political sky is aflame with the red-hot indignation of the people. With such a large section of the Republican press in open revolt against Aldrich and Cannon and the administration's use of the whitewash brush there can be no rallying of the forces to meet the territic shock which is impending. The Republican party has been flagrantly dishonest is revising the Dingley tariff, the Baltimore Sun charges, and it is now reaping the harvest of its duplicity in the steadily growing discontent and resentment of the people and the dissension in its own ranks. The people hold the tariff responsible for all the economic evils from which they are now suffering. for the increased cost of the necessaries of life, for the extortions of monopolistic combinations. And since the Republican party, through its representatives in Congress, is responsible for the Aldrich-Payne tariff, the people naturally associate the party in power with the abuses and oppressions which they are now compelled to endure.

Whatever the causes that have led to the battle in the Republican ranks at Washington it is a fairly safe conclusion that the little band of insurgents have right on their side. Else they could never have taken so many outposts. To the 主 准备条件条件条件条件条件条件条件条件条件条件条件 Democracy, however, this factional quarrel is of concern merely as a means of demonstrating to the country that the tives and its remarkable cohesiveness tract. even under the most brutal treatment of sequent antagonism of every element The Record will now resume its work as person, male or female, who has resided 'food products.' condition for these insurgents which had party it labored for many years. become unbearable. - National Monthly.
