The Era of the Common Man

The Daily Review, Clifton Forge, Virginia, recently devoted an editorial to a story which has been making the rounds in England. Here's the way it goes:

An agitator was addressing a crowd of workers. When the era of the common man arrives, he told them, "You will enjoy the pleasures of the rich. You will walk down Park Lane wearing a top hat."

A listener interrupted to say, "Hi'd rather 'ave a cloth

The agitator said the man could keep the cap if he wish ed and continued: "You'll wear cutaway coat and pinstripe trousers."

Again the listener broke in saying, "Hi'm more comfortable in corduroys."

The agitator, annoyed, said that would be permissable, and went on: "And you'll ride to work in a Rolls Royce."

Once more he was interrupted: "Hi'd rather use me bike."

This time the agitator leap ed from the platform and grabbed the man by the coat sleeve. "Listen you, he said, "come the era of the common man and you'll do what you are blooming well ordered to do!"
